TWPS. TURN THUMBS DOWN ON RELIEF LEVY

All Townships Will Wait Emergency Before Passage of 30c Relief Levy.

The voters attending the town meeting on Tuesday of Elk Grove, Wheeling and Schaumburg townships took the same action on the 30c special relief levy as was done in Palatine, the account of which meeting is given below. All of the townships have adopted a watchful waiting policy.

The question of a 30c per $100 valuation relief tax was held in abeyance at the Palatine town meeting Tuesday afternoon.

A good sized crowd turned out to the meeting. With the election of C. E. Julian as moderator the meeting proceeded to hear the annual reports of the road commissioner and supervisor which reports were unanimously accepted. The annual budget totaling $3500 for the next year was then approved and the meeting settled down to a discussion of the new relief tax. It seemed apparent from various bills read by the clerk that there is a great deal of confusion about the new tax, which is supposed to be levied by the township for relief purposes. One bill puts the burden of such tax upon the township, while another bill gives the county the right to levy the 30 cent tax.

The law which does away with most of the power of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission also provides that after Aug. 1st, no relief shall be granted to any resident of a political subdivision, which has not made a maximum levy for relief purposes. In the case of Cook county no one seems to know whether the county intends to levy the tax or not. If the county does the feeling prevails that the township should not. If the county levied the tax and the township also levied the same tax it would be double taxation for the same purpose.

There is also an apparent confusion as to who is to handle the relief under the new set up. If the county levies the tax the county bureau of public welfare should handle the relief. If the townships levy the tax the relief should be handled by the townships. At a recent conference on relief the statement was made that after July 1st the Cook county bureau of public welfare would no longer handle relief in Cook county, but the relief would be handled by Chicago for Chicago and by each of the thirty townships for their respective townships. With the proposition in a maze of confusion the Palatine town meeting felt that no action should be taken until there was some definite information to act upon, so the meeting unanimously passed a motion to keep the annual meeting alive by an adjournment subject to call and instructed the clerk to attempt to find out whether or not the county intended to levy the relief tax and who was supposed to handle the relief.

It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of all present that Palatine was not going to take any action until they knew what it was all about and they were not going to saddle a $17,000 tax increase onto the taxpayers of the township in the form of passing a tax for that amount until they knew how the money was to be handled. In other words they weren't figuring any $17,000 checks for something they didn't know what for.

When definite information is secured the Palatine meeting will call to order again and take action.

Register Shares In Extending Best Wishes To Mrs. Sophie Steuve

Bensenville people are proud of the fact that tse community is the home of one of Illinois oldest citizens. Mrs. Sophia Steuve, better known to all as "Grandma Steuve," was born March 30, 1851, in the area that is now Edison Park. She has lived for 65 years on the same farm. Since the death of her husband, Henry Steuve, in 1922, her home has been with her son, William.

Just to show that the great work of her life in raising one of the best known families in this community is still appreciated, her family of seven children and 14 grandchildren gathered at the Steuve home to help "Grandma" celebrate her 85th birthday. Old and young alike enjoyed it and "grandma" was as young in spirit as any one present.

The Steuve family have been readers of The Register for many years and this newspaper takes pleasure in making this report. The Register also joins in wishing Mrs. Steuve many more years of health and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Voss are the proud parents of a nine pound baby boy born April 2. Mother and son are doing well.

Arrest 25 Owners of Tagless Cars

Unless settlement is made prior to the calling of their cases, the owners of 25 cars will face the judge in the Arlington Heights municipal court Saturday for failure to have purchased their city vehicle tags. There still remain about 160 owners who have not secured their tags. Summons will be issued as fast as the police can find the cars in question upon the streets.

The police committee reported to the village board Monday evening that 748 owners took advantage of the discount offered for early purchase of tags. These car owners saved $700.25. Since April 1 56 car owners have paid their fee in full. The sale of the 806 tags has netted the village $2,334.25.

Owners of dogs are also taking advantage of the discount on license fees for their pets. 120 dog tags were sold up to Wednesday noon at the special fee of $1.50 per dog.

The sale of business and peddler licenses has brought receipts of $700.81.

VOLZ ALSO GIVES KIDDIES A PARTY

Albert F. Volz who was host Tuesday evening to the grown-ups of six townships at a movie and Republican mass meeting, has a soft heart for the children who could not attend the doings the other night and he has made arrangement with Bruce Godshaw of the Arlington Theatre for a special children's movie program Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock. The doors will open at 1:30. All children of Wheeling township are invited; no admission charge.

The following will act as hosts for the children so mothers need have no fear that their children will not be properly cared for: Mrs. A. D. Hines, Mrs. August Folkman, Miss Dorothy Helm, Mrs. Henry Busse, Mrs. Milton Daniels, Mrs. Rex. Volz.

Palatine Woman's Club Visit North Woods By Movie

The Woman's club of Palatine met Tuesday afternoon, April 7, at the high school.

Mrs. William Slover of the Civics and Public Welfare Dept. had arranged for a sound picture tour of the North woods.

Mrs. Slover introduced Mr. Kenneth Pattison of the Chicago and North Western Railway Advertising Dept., who operated the machines which enabled club members to partake by sight and talkie description of the beauties of the lakes region abounding throughout Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Fishing, swimming, golfing, aqua-planing, all sorts of outdoor activities were exhibited to such advantage that there is no doubt the vacation problem for many members has been definitely decided because of this visual journey.

The second half of the program was devoted to a musical reading of that appealing fable, "The Happy Prince." It was beautifully told by Mrs. Reuben Plagge, past president of the Barrington Woman's club, with piano obligato rendered by Miss Esther Smith.

BUSINESS PROTECTION HITS SNAG

Arlington Board Talks 2 Hours But Adjourns Without Agreement.

The Arlington Heights village board spent nearly two hours Monday evening talking about protection to local business firms but finally adjourned at 11:45 p. m. without having done anything except having participated in "friendly disagreement." The statement was made by Mayor Flentie that he was opposed to passing ordinances that are not enforced. Attorney Thal was not sure whether both of two ordinances presented by him would stand up against legal attack. A third ordinance in the interest of local business men was presented by the Herald Shopper, but its validity was questioned by a representative of the Downtown Shopper who informed the village board that no matter what kind of a local ordinance was passed they would continue the delivery of that paper.

The Shopper of the Chicago loop had made a survey of Arlington Heights Monday with a crew of men who reported that they had called at 642 homes, secured signatures of 331 housewives asking delivery of the Downtown Shopper, found 294 not at home and met only 17 refusals. The representative stated that his firm welcomed a control ordinance governing the distribution of advertising literature in Arlington Heights that would serve to keep out the small fellow, but they would not be kept out and that they had attorneys to protect their rights.

Alderman Schneberger presented a petition signed by a number of business men asking that outside advertising literature be kept out of Arlington Heights. The ordinance presented by the Herald Shopper in support of these business men provided a daily delivery fee of $5.00 for each and every outside advertiser soliciting business thru house to house delivery. The ordinance was referred to Attorney Thal and similar ordinances of other towns will be studied.

During this discussion nearly every board member expressed his desire to give to local business men every protection possible.

The big discussion started after two companion ordinances covering outside business firms and peddlers, were read. The ordinances prepared under instruction of the police department provided a yearly fee of $50 or a daily fee of $5 for each and every outside business. Included was a special ordinance covering milk wagons and other businesses in which an inspection fee could be charged, which fee has been upheld by the courts. No definite action was taken.

Another half hour was spent by the board discussing the report of Building Commissioner Taege who has been inspecting business signs and collecting the fee required by ordinance. Mr. Taege informed the board that many business men paid their fees with the understanding that the ordinance would be enforced to the letter.

Some of the business and professional men have removed their signs. A few business houses claim that they carry their own insurance but one or two say they will not pay the fee. The board voted to give these objectors ten days in which to pay, after which the police or fire department will remove the signs.

Elgin Resident Overcomes Difficulties By the Monoxide Route

Sgt. Allegretti and Deputy Oszakowski, April 5, investigating the finding of a dead man, Mr. John E. Farney of Elgin, Ill., concluded that he had taken his own life, after finding a vacuum cleaner hose attached to the exhaust pipe of his car running into the rear window of his car. The car containing the body was found in a clump of trees on Shoe factory road, west of Sutton road. Miscellaneous letters and papers estabilshed the fact that he was in strained financial circumstances.

Skript Popularity Contest Makes Big Hit

A large group of Arlington Heights boys and girls are earning cash commissions while the larger part of the homes in Arlington Heights now use Skript in place of the common ink—all because of the Skript Popularity contest that G. H. Wilke, local jeweler is conducting for the $60 bicycle and other prizes that are going to be given by Mr. Wilke. Double vote coupons go with the ink sales, which is an added inducement for the young salesmen.

Young people do not have to sell ink in order to get votes, as they go with all cash sales made at the jewelry store, no matter what is purchased. This is especially opportune at the Easter and the coming graduation season, when jewelry is in demand as gifts.

Mr. Wilke has received his spring gift line of jewelry and has marked it low for the period of the popularity contest.

Wheeling Township Levy Fixed at $7150

Ten voters of Wheeling township attended the annual meeting held in the Arlington Heights village hall Tuesday afternoon. There was so little interest displayed that George F. Meyer, who acting as moderator, had difficulty to get motions and in many instances the township officers themselves had to take the initiative, or the town meeting would probably have remained in session until night fall.

The reports of Chas. F. Grandt, supervisor and treasurer of the highway funds, were presented and accepted. These reports appear on page 15 of this issue. The cost to the township for removal of snow on the roads was $1,500, stated Commissioner Herman Garms.

An hour was spent in discussion of the levy, which was finally fixed at $7,150, that figure being necessary on account of the present "red" condition of township finances, and the certainty that less than 75% of taxes will be collected. One thousand dollars of this amount will be taken by the county for preparation of tax books and the quadrennial levy. $600 was included for election next spring.

The township officers made many explanations regarding the figures presented and the manner in which the money is expended, the tax payers expressing their approval of their policies.

The report of Louis Clark, thistle commissioner showed that the total expense for thistle eradication last year was only $300 as relief labor was used for the work.

In the discussion of present financial status, it was found that outstanding tax warrants prior to 1935 are: 1931, $458; 1932, $458; 1932, $665; 1933, $554; 1934, $378, making a total of $2,055. In addition to these practically all of the expenses of the past year are outstanding in 1935 tax warrants.

Commander Bernhart Denounces Propaganda In School Institution

Denouncing insidious propaganda in high schools, colleges, and churches, Mr. Joseph Bernhart of Mt. Prospect, commander of the ninth district of the American Legion in Illinois was heard with great enthusiasm Tuesday at a joint meeting of the Arlington Heights Methodist Men's club and the American Legion. Almost fifty fathers, and their own sons or those adopted for the evening, attended the annual Fathers-Sons banquet at which Mr. Bernhard spoke. The Merle Guild post was well represented by officers and many members, who were introduced to the Men's club by Commander Griffith. After a fine dinner, prepared by the ladies of the Methodist church, the audience listened to the speaker and was entertained by four reels of moving pictures.

The speaker stressed the fact that the American Legion and its Americanism campaign favored full freedom of speech for all, no matter what opinions they held. He insisted, however, that such persons should not advocate violent imposition of their opinions on the public. He held that soapbox speakers and communist parladers retarded rather than advanced their own cause.

The real danger, he said, lay in thoughtless remarks or deliberately planned efforts by those in positions of influence, especially ministers, teachers and professors. In counter-action the Legion is engaged in a great program of education and training of American youth. Publicity for these efforts, he said, was rapidly being pushed in order that they might steadily become more effective.

Park Ridge Autoists and Plain Clothes Men; Mistaken Identity

Mr. Leonard C. Johnson of Park Ridge, Ill., a brother to the Chief of Police, and William Anderson also a resident of Park Ridge, Ill., were indeed fortunate April 4, that Chicago police officers Bobene and Cleary did not resort to the use of their pistols, when a chase beginning in Rogers Park ended in Lincolnwood, Ill., at Lincoln and Touhy avenues, after numerous stop lights had been gone through and several near accidents resulted. Deputies Kreutz and Berkson sent to investigate the incident learned that the officers thought the two men were suspicious and sought to question them and that Johnson and his friend thought that the officers were trying to rob them in view of the fact that they were in plain clothes. The matter of identification was straightened out by the deputies and the parties went about their business.

George F. Meyer Now President of Des Plaines Insurance Co.

At the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Des Plaines and Cook County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., held at Mt. Prospect, the resignation of Fred Wille, as president was accepted and Geo. F. Meyer was elected to that position.

Mr. Wille, 80 years old, who has been a director of the company 40 years and president since the death of Mr. Maas, gave failing health as reason for resigantion. Christ Hennig, of Maine township, was elected vice president.

MINSTRELS NEXT WEEK

Big Legion Show With Local Talent At Arlington High School.

The big show of the year will soon be here. Thursday and Friday nights, April 16 and 17, are the dates of the Legion Minstrels to be given at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium. The curtain will go up at 8:15 and the stage is all set for one of the finest Minstrel shows ever produced. The show is being put on by Merle Guild Post No. 208. the American Legion Post of Arlington Heights, and the entire cast is composed of members of the Post. The whole production is under the direction of Judge William E. Kopplin of Arlington Heights which in itself assures a good show.

Many well known business men and citizens of Arlington Heights, all members of the Legion Post, will be in the cast. Charles Page, the well known Sinclair man, will be one of the end men; Jules Spath, the well known Dixie Hayshaker orchestra man, will perform on his concertina; Orville Kurtz, will sing a solo; Les Griffith will be at the piano; and so on and so on. The evening will be full of novelty entertainment. There will be group singing, plenty of comedy, dancing, vocal solos, specialty acts and a comedy sketch all by our own boys. "With every ticket sold, there is a guarantee for two laughs a minute," says C. L. Griffith, commander of the post. "In addition to all this there will be a surprise act that will not be divulged until the nights of the show."

The people of Arlington Heights and neighboring communities should be in just the proper mood to receive a show of this kind as Lent and the primary election will be all over and everyone will be in a mood to relax, laugh and enjoy himself.

Tickets for the show can be bought at Sieburg's Drug Store and the office of C. L. Griffith, insurance agency, 23 West Davis street, Arlington Heights and from any member of the Post. They also can be bought at the door of the auditorium the two nights of the show. All tickets are good for either night and for adults are 35c and for children under 12 years of age 20c. Judging from the advance sale of the tickets, it looks like a packed house for both nights and the Legion boys suggest that everyone who wants to see the show should buy his ticket as soon as possible.

Home Wedding Unites Frances Cropper and Leo Nepperman

The Wesley Comfort home, South Hale street, Palatine, was the scene of a quiet wedding April 5, 1936. Miss Frances May Cropper, one of Palatine's most popular, as well as beautiful girls, became the bride of Mr. Leo Nepermann of Dundee.

The Comfort home was simply adorned with gay blossoms of Clarkia and sweet peas. Before the ceremony, soft music was played to establish an atmosphere of quiet and solemnity of the occasion. Upon the first strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Esther Scheibach, the groom, attended by Wesley Cropper as best man, proceeded to the east windows of the spacious living room.

The bride, gracefully attired in white satin, cut princess style with a long train, her head encircled by a halo of braided tulle and shoulder veil, and carrying a bridal bouquet of white roses and fuchsias, slowly entered, guided by the arm of her Uncle, Mr. Wesley R. Comfort. The bridesmaids, the Misses Henrietta and Delores Meyers, were clothed in blue green and Miss Virginia McDonald, wearing peach taffeta, attended the bride most graciously. Little Miss Jeanne Ann Comfort, dressed in green and white, was train bearer.

The Rev. Sidney Bloomquist of the First Methodist church of Palatine and incidently, the church in which Miss Cropper is a Sunday school teacher, read the responsive marriage service with the single ring ceremony.

Upon being pronounced husband and wife, the melody of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," echoed above the voice of the minister as he asked the blessing upon the newly wedded couple.

Wesley Cropper then played upon his trumpet, "I Love You Truly." He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Scheibach.

After a most delicious buffet supper, and amid the shower of much rice and best wishes, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon. When they return they are to go to housekeeping on a farm near Algonquin.

All who know "Maizee," (as Frances is called by all who love her), wish her and her husband God's richest blessings and good luck.

SCHOOLS MUST HAVE ACTIVE SUPPORT

It is the duty of all voters, to actively show their interest and opinions regarding the conduct and determination of school policies, by voting at the school elections this Saturday afternoon. Boards of Education, intrusted with the planning of educational opportunities of the future generations as well as with the expenditure of larger sums of tax money than are given corresponding city officials, certainly are worthy of thoughtful consideration at election time. During the past few years the general public has not been voting at school elections, and this lack of participation may lead to a dangerous condition whereby the control of our schools might become invested in other than a true expression of a majority of voters of the district. Candidates for school board membership are not affiliated with any political parties, and by serving on a public board of this nature with no salary or other remuneration, deserve at least proper recognition at the polls. Show your interest in your schools by voting this Saturday afternoon and evening, April 11, 1936.

O. G. Barrett Invites Support of Voters

In announcing my candidacy for President of the Board of the Arlington Heights township high school, I do so with a keen sense of the responsibility that goes with it and I do so also with some degree of pleasure.

Far be it from me to criticize in any way, shape or form the administration of the high school under our present president, Mr. Militzer. So far as I am able to know, he has conducted an efficient administration for which we all, as citizens, should be truly thankful.

There are those of our people who have approached me in the past to present myself as a candidate and twice previously I have refused. I do not care to shirk my responsibilities. If it is within my power to render a service to this school district and to this community, I am very willing to assume that responsibility and render such service as is possible.

I believe in education as my record will indicate. I believe the boy or girl with the right kind of home training and proper kind of education is better qualified to meet the problems of life than one without that training and that education. I believe, too. that there should be a proper balance between the book education of the classroom and the contacts in athletics and other school activities. I believe that our high school has rendered a service in the past, but should be given such attention and consideration that it will render to our young people a greater service in the future.

I have before me my tax bill which indicates that slightly more than 50% of the taxes paid this last year went for the support of our schools. Not far from 25% of the taxes paid in this district by you and by me went for the support of the Arlington Heights township high school. I do not say this with an element of criticism. I say it only to impress upon you the responsibility that is yours, with the urge that you put forth the effort to cast your vote at the polls next Saturday.

I do not ask that you vote against Mr. Militzer. I would urge and appreciate your vote for me. I would ask your consideration on the basis of my record as a citizen of Arlington Heights for the last decade; my record as trustee of the Village for a 2-year period; and my record with the organization with which I am affiliated, the Farm Bureau.

I would ask you, if in your honest opinion you believe Mr. Militzer can render more efficient service to the young people of the District as well as to the taxpayers who are supporting this institution, to cast your vote for him.

If, on the other hand, my qualifications are such that I may render a service and it is your desire to register your vote in my behalf and I am elected to the office of president of the Arlington Heights township high school, I shall "carry on" to the best of my ability. Carry on consistent with the best interests of our young people as well as consistent with the best interests of our taxpayers.

If you read in this article any mud slinging at my opponent, you will have to read it between the lines. It is not here for I do not believe in that sort of thing. Your vote is solicited and will be appreciated.

Yours for cleanliness and efficiency, O. G. Barrett.

RIVER ROAD SCHOOL BUNCO PARTY

Palatine Lions Start Plans For Centennial

The Palatine Lions club is starting plans for a centennial celebration for Palatine. Such celebrations started in northern Illinois in 1933 with the Century of Progress in anniversary of the establishment of Chicago. Naperville and other older communities have held such celebrations, but up to the present time, Mt. Prospect is the only northwest suburb which has taken cognizance of the arrival of the first settlers.

The Lions club committee is composed of Otto Gaare, F. F. Danielsen, Richard Sanford and members of the publicity committee, who will report at the next meeting.

The centennial celebration for the community would dovetail into the tenth anniversary of Lionism in Palatine.

Palatine PEO Host To State Officers and Neighboring Chapters

Chapter E. P. PEO, Palatine, observed its first anniversary April 6, the local chapter having been organized April 6, 1935. The celebration took the form of an informal tea at the home of Mrs. Noble J. Puffer.

The social committee with Mrs. Wm. P. Slover as chairman, planned a delightful afternoon.

The guests were received by Mrs. Puffer, president and Mrs. H. Theo. Wanberg, vice president. Tea was served from a table which was made attractive by old silver and a low bowl of fresias and yellow daisies, carrying out the colors of the sisterhood. Mrs. Stuart Paddock and Mrs. Sidney Bloomquist presided at the urns.

The artists of the afternoon were Mrs. Marjorie Boye, violinist; Mrs. Gloria Taylor, soloist and Mrs. El vira H. Brown, pianist, who came to us from Chapter DA Park Ridge, Ill. Their beautiful music was an inspiration to all.

Special guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. Alice P. Perrin, State Pres., Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Mary K. Lindsay, 1st Vice Pres. (State chapter), Chicago; Mrs. Myrtice Anderson, Canton, Ill., State Organizer; Mrs. Margaret Brundage, organizer of Chapter EP, Riverside, Illinois; Mrs. Ruth Kimball, Mrs. Ruth Cruse, Mrs. May De Money and Mrs. Constance Coy of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Ethel C. Bennett and Mrs. Alice Blackman of Elgin, Illinois; Mrs. Mildred Wanberg, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Florence Smack, Mrs. Ruth James, Mrs. Mary S. Shepard, Mrs. C. Ryerson, Mrs. Bernice B. Ward, Mrs. Elvira Brown, Mrs. Gloria Taylor and Mrs. Marjorie Boye of Park Ridge, Ill.; Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett and Mrs. Martha Mills of Arlington Heights.

Water Mains Show Result of Zero Weather

The house services were not the only water pipes to freeze during the sub-zero weather of a month ago, as the Arlington Heights water department has learned this week when bad leaks from broken mains have been discovered on three streets. "There may be others," says Wm. Luehring, "we will just have to check the mains as much as possible as soon as time permits."

Now that warmer weather has arrived and there is no further danger from frozen surfaces, some of those householders who were given first aid with the specially imported thawing machine, are rather slow in paying the thawing charge. They did not talk that way when they had no water in their homes.

FARMERS SHOW INTEREST IN SOIL CONSERV.

Meetings Continue This Week; Big Opportunity To Farmers.

Farmers of Cook county, particularly truck farmers and dairymen are responding with keener interest to the new Soil Conservation Act than they did in the previous Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Our Farm Adviser, O. G. Barrett and Assistant, Charles Glover, are holding a series of meetings in the county in which they are conveying to the farmers in attendance the provisions of the Act and how they may take advantage of it.

Mr. Barrett reports that the meetings are not nearly as well attended as it wouldl seem that they should be. He, of course, feels that every farmer, like every business man, should be on hand to take advantage of whatever opportunity arises to improve his business.

Mr. Barrett, however, reports that at the meetings thus far held almost to a man those present are thoroughly interested in the provisions of the Act and feel that it is very logical and will be helpful to them in their farm operations. The truck gardeners who so rightly felt that the wheat control program and corn-hog program did not pertain to them are admitting that the ideas incorporated in the New Act make it possible for them to participate and enjoy the benefits.

Four meetings a day are being held in the county.

Tomorrow, Friday, afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Mr. Barrett will be in Elk Grove township, Elk Grove town hall to describe the program and answer any questions.

Saturday at 2 o'clock, he will be at Hartmann's school on Wiese road, in Schaumburg township.

Saturday evening, 8 o'clock in Hanover township at the Blacksmith Shop at Buttermilk Corners.

Every farmer should certainly attend and get to know the provisions of the Act before he has a right to conclude whether or not it holds an advantage for him.

A meeting of all of the several officers of the various townships is to be held at the office at Blue Island, next Wednesday, at which time the Board of Directors will have their organization meeting and the committeemen receive instructions as to their duties from Mr. Bumgarner, who is one of the members of the State committee.

Mr. Barrett urges with emphasis that all of our Cook county folks give some attention to studying the provisions for in most cases they would be able to benefit by it.

Homer J. Byrd Predicts Big Majority For Henry Horner

A prediction, based upon the returns of a recently completed survey indicating an overwhelming majority favorable to the incumbent, Governor Henry Horner, was made today by Homer J. Byrd, chairman of the Country Towns Headquarters for Governor Horner.

"Governor Horner," said Mr. Byrd, "has won the approval of both down state and Cook county voters, especially real estate owners who have expressed great favor for the Governor's successful fight to remove the State real estate tax approximately $140,000,000."

"Obviously," continued Mr. Byrd, "all citizens are affected by such taxation whether real estate owners or renters and the courageous stand of Governor Horner against the recent vicious gambling bill has won the support of decent citizens everywhere."

The survey which sought to determine the reasons why citizens preferred Governor Horner indicates, according to Mr. Byrd, a plurality of several hundred thousand votes as an endorsement for the Governor's record and policies.

Club Dance At Arlington Ball Room Saturday, April 18

Theft of Goats Was No April Fool Joke Goats Still Missing

The 1st of April is ordinarily regarded as April Fools Day, however, the burglars who made off with 4 goats owned by Mr. Maloney of Ruby street, Schiller Park, Ill., and the 300 lb. air compressor and various automobile accessories, the property of Mr. Ed. Heesch, operator of a gasoline station at Rand and Elmhurst roads, did not intend their actions as a joke, because the property to this date has not been returned. The war cry of Deputies Miller and Oszakowski who are investigating these burglaries is, "Who stole Mr. Maloney's goats."

TWPS. TURN THUMBS DOWN ON RELIEF LEVY

All Townships Will Wait Emergency Before Passage of 30c Relief Levy.

The voters attending the town meeting on Tuesday of Elk Grove, Wheeling and Schaumburg townships took the same action on the 30c special relief levy as was done in Palatine, the account of which meeting is given below. All of the townships have adopted a watchful waiting policy.

The question of a 30c per $100 valuation relief tax was held in abeyance at the Palatine town meeting Tuesday afternoon.

A good sized crowd turned out to the meeting. With the election of C. E. Julian as moderator the meeting proceeded to hear the annual reports of the road commissioner and supervisor which reports were unanimously accepted. The annual budget totaling $3500 for the next year was then approved and the meeting settled down to a discussion of the new relief tax. It seemed apparent from various bills read by the clerk that there is a great deal of confusion about the new tax, which is supposed to be levied by the township for relief purposes. One bill puts the burden of such tax upon the township, while another bill gives the county the right to levy the 30 cent tax.

The law which does away with most of the power of the Illinois Emergency Relief Commission also provides that after Aug. 1st, no relief shall be granted to any resident of a political subdivision, which has not made a maximum levy for relief purposes. In the case of Cook county no one seems to know whether the county intends to levy the tax or not. If the county does the feeling prevails that the township should not, but the county levied the tax and the township also levied the same tax it would be double taxation for the same purpose.

There is also an apparent confusion as to who is to handle the relief under the new set up. If the county levies the tax the county bureau of public welfare should handle the relief. If the townships levy the tax the relief should be handled by the townships. At a recent conference on relief the statement was made that after July 1st the Cook county bureau of public welfare would no longer handle relief in Cook county, but the relief would be handled by Chicago for Chicago and by each of the thirty townships for their respective townships. With the proposition in a maze of confusion the Palatine town meeting felt that no action should be taken until there was some definite information to act upon, so the meeting unanimously passed a motion to keep the annual meeting alive by an adjournment subject to call and instructed the clerk to attempt to find out whether or not the county intended to levy the relief tax and who was supposed to handle the relief.

It seemed to be the unanimous opinion of all present that Palatine was not going to take any action until they knew what it was all about and they were not going to saddle a $17,000 tax increase onto the taxpayers of the township in the form of passing a tax for that amount until they knew how the money was to be handled. In other words they weren't figuring any $17,000 checks for something they didn't know what for.

When definite information is secured the Palatine meeting will call to order again and take action.

Register Shares In Extending Best Wishes To Mrs. Sophie Steuve

Bensenville people are proud of the fact that tse community is the home of one of Illinois oldest citizens. Mrs. Sophia Steuve, better known to all as "Grandma Steuve," was born March 30, 1851, in the area that is now Edison Park. She has lived for 65 years on the same farm. Since the death of her husband, Henry Steuve, in 1922, her home has been with her son, William.

Just to show that the great work of her life in raising one of the best known families in this community is still appreciated, her family of seven children and 14 grandchildren gathered at the Steuve home to help "Grandma" celebrate her 85th birthday. Old and young alike enjoyed it and "grandma" was as young in spirit as any one present.

The Steuve family have been readers of The Register for many years and this newspaper takes pleasure in making this report. The Register also joins in wishing Mrs. Steuve many more years of health and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. George Voss are the proud parents of a nine pound baby boy born April 2. Mother and son are doing well.

Arrest 25 Owners of Tagless Cars

Unless settlement is made prior to the calling of their cases, the owners of 25 cars will face the judge in the Arlington Heights municipal court Saturday for failure to have purchased their city vehicle tags. There still remain about 160 owners who have not secured their tags. Summons will be issued as fast as the police can find the cars in question upon the streets.

The police committee reported to the village board Monday evening that 748 owners took advantage of the discount offered for early purchase of tags. These car owners saved $700.25. Since April 1 56 car owners have paid their fee in full. The sale of the 806 tags has netted the village $2,334.25.

Owners of dogs are also taking advantage of the discount on license fees for their pets. 120 dog tags were sold up to Wednesday noon at the special fee of $1.50 per dog.

The sale of business and peddler licenses has brought receipts of $700.81.

Palatine Woman's Club Visit North Woods By Movie

Mrs. William Slover of the Civics and Public Welfare Dept. had arranged for a sound picture tour of the North woods.

Mrs. Slover introduced Mr. Kenneth Pattison of the Chicago and North Western Railway Advertising Dept., who operated the machines which enabled club members to partake by sight and talkie description of the beauties of the lakes region abounding throughout Minnesota, Michigan and Wisconsin.

Fishing, swimming, golfing, aqua-planing, all sorts of outdoor activities were exhibited to such advantage that there is no doubt the vacation problem for many members has been definitely decided because of this visual journey.

The second half of the program was devoted to a musical reading of that appealing fable, "The Happy Prince." It was beautifully told by Mrs. Reuben Plagge, past president of the Barrington Woman's club, with piano obligato rendered by Miss Esther Smith.

BUSINESS PROTECTION HITS SNAG

Arlington Board Talks 2 Hours But Adjourns Without Agreement.

The Arlington Heights village board spent nearly two hours Monday evening talking about protection to local business firms but finally adjourned at 11:45 p. m. without having done anything except having participated in "friendly disagreement." The statement was made by Mayor Flentie that he was opposed to passing ordinances that are not enforced. Attorney Thal was not sure whether both of two ordinances presented by him would stand up against legal attack. A third ordinance in the interest of local business men was presented by the Herald Shopper, but its validity was questioned by a representative of the Downtown Shopper who informed the village board that no matter what kind of a local ordinance was passed they would continue the delivery of that paper.

The Shopper of the Chicago loop had made a survey of Arlington Heights Monday with a crew of men who reported that they had called at 642 homes, secured signatures of 331 housewives asking delivery of the Downtown Shopper, found 294 not at home and met only 17 refusals. The representative stated that his firm welcomed a control ordinance governing the distribution of advertising literature in Arlington Heights that would serve to keep out the small fellow, but they would not be kept out and that they had attorneys to protect their rights.

Alderman Schneberger presented a petition signed by a number of business men asking that outside advertising literature be kept out of Arlington Heights. The ordinance presented by the Herald Shopper in support of these business men provided a daily delivery fee of $5.00 for each and every outside advertiser soliciting business thru house to house delivery. The ordinance was referred to Attorney Thal and similar ordinances of other towns will be studied.

During this discussion nearly every board member expressed his desire to give to local business men every protection possible.

The big discussion started after two companion ordinances covering outside business firms and peddlers, were read. The ordinances prepared under instruction of the police department provided a yearly fee of $50 or a daily fee of $5 for each and every outside business. Included was a special ordinance covering milk wagons and other businesses in which an inspection fee could be charged, which fee has been upheld by the courts. No definite action was taken.

Another half hour was spent by the board discussing the report of Building Commissioner Taege who has been inspecting business signs and collecting the fee required by ordinance. Mr. Taege informed the board that many business men paid their fees with the understanding that the ordinance would be enforced to the letter.

Some of the business and professional men have removed their signs. A few business houses claim that they carry their own insurance but one or two say they will not pay the fee. The board voted to give these objectors ten days in which to pay, after which the police or fire department will remove the signs.

Elgin Resident Overcomes Difficulties By the Monoxide Route

Sgt. Allegretti and Deputy Oszakowski, April 5, investigating the finding of a dead man, Mr. John E. Farney of Elgin, Ill., concluded that he had taken his own life, after finding a vacuum cleaner hose attached to the exhaust pipe of his car running into the rear window of his car. The car containing the body was found in a clump of trees on Shoe factory road, west of Sutton road. Miscellaneous letters and papers estabilshed the fact that he was in strained financial circumstances.

Skript Popularity Contest Makes Big Hit

A large group of Arlington Heights boys and girls are earning cash commissions while the larger part of the homes in Arlington Heights now use Skript in place of the common ink—all because of the Skript Popularity contest that G. H. Wilke, local jeweler is conducting for the $60 bicycle and other prizes that are going to be given by Mr. Wilke. Double vote coupons go with the ink sales, which is an added inducement for the young salesmen.

Young people do not have to sell ink in order to get votes, as they go with all cash sales made at the jewelry store, no matter what is purchased. This is especially opportune at the Easter and the coming graduation season, when jewelry is in demand as gifts.

Mr. Wilke has received his spring gift line of jewelry and has marked it low for the period of the popularity contest.

Wheeling Township Levy Fixed at $7150

Ten voters of Wheeling township attended the annual meeting held in the Arlington Heights village hall Tuesday afternoon. There was so little interest displayed that George F. Meyer, who acting as moderator, had difficulty to get motions and in many instances the township officers themselves had to take the initiative, or the town meeting would probably have remained in session until night fall.

The reports of Chas. F. Grandt, supervisor and treasurer of the highway funds, were presented and accepted. These reports appear on page 15 of this issue. The cost to the township for removal of snow on the roads was $1,500, stated Commissioner Herman Garms.

An hour was spent in discussion of the levy, which was finally fixed at $7,150, that figure being necessary on account of the present "red" condition of township finances, and the certainty that less than 75% of taxes will be collected. One thousand dollars of this amount will be taken by the county for preparation of tax books and the quadrennial levy. $600 was included for election next spring.

The township officers made many explanations regarding the figures presented and the manner in which the money is expended, the tax payers expressing their approval of their policies.

The report of Louis Clark, thistle commissioner showed that the total expense for thistle eradication last year was only $300 as relief labor was used for the work.

In the discussion of present financial status, it was found that outstanding tax warrants prior to 1935 are: 1931, $458; 1932, $458; 1932, $665; 1933, $554; 1934, $378, making a total of $2,055. In addition to these practically all of the expenses of the past year are outstanding in 1935 tax warrants.

Commander Bernhart Denounces Propaganda In School Institution

Denouncing insidious propaganda in high schools, colleges, and churches, Mr. Joseph Bernhart of Mt. Prospect, commander of the ninth district of the American Legion in Illinois was heard with great enthusiasm Tuesday at a joint meeting of the Arlington Heights Methodist Men's club and the American Legion. Almost fifty fathers, and their own sons or those adopted for the evening, attended the annual Fathers-Sons banquet at which Mr. Bernhard spoke. The Merle Guild post was well represented by officers and many members, who were introduced to the Men's club by Commander Griffith. After a fine dinner, prepared by the ladies of the Methodist church, the audience listened to the speaker and was entertained by four reels of moving pictures.

The speaker stressed the fact that the American Legion and its Americanism campaign favored full freedom of speech for all, no matter what opinions they held. He insisted, however, that such persons should not advocate violent imposition of their opinions on the public. He held that soapbox speakers and communist parraders retarded rather than advanced their own cause.

The real danger, he said, lay in thoughtless remarks or deliberately planned efforts by those in positions of influence, especially ministers, teachers and professors. In counter-action the Legion is engaged in a great program of education and training of American youth. Publicity for these efforts, he said, was rapidly being pushed in order that they might steadily become more effective.

Park Ridge Autoists and Plain Clothes Men; Mistaken Identity

Mr. Leonard C. Johnson of Park Ridge, Ill., a brother to the Chief of Police, and William Anderson also a resident of Park Ridge, Ill., were indeed fortunate April 4, that Chicago police officers Bobene and Cleary did not resort to the use of their pistols, when a chase beginning in Rogers Park ended in Lincolnwood, Ill., at Lincoln and Touhy avenues, after numerous stop lights had been gone through and several near accidents resulted. Deputies Kreutz and Berkson sent to investigate the incident learned that the officers thought the two men were suspicious and sought to question them and that Johnson and his friend thought that the officers were trying to rob them in view of the fact that they were in plain clothes. The matter of identification was straightened out by the deputies and the parties went about their business.

George F. Meyer Now President of Des Plaines Insurance Co.

At the quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the Des Plaines and Cook County Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Co., held at Mt. Prospect, the resignation of Fred Wille, as president was accepted and Geo. F. Meyer was elected to that position.

Mr. Wille, 80 years old, who has been a director of the company 40 years and president since the death of Mr. Maas, gave failing health as reason for resigantion. Christ Hennig, of Maine township, was elected vice president.

The big show of the year will soon be here. Thursday and Friday nights, April 16 and 17, are the dates of the Legion Minstrels to be given at the Arlington Heights high school auditorium. The curtain will go up at 8:15 and the stage is all set for one of the finest Minstrel shows ever produced. The show is being put on by Merle Guild Post No. 208, the American Legion Post of Arlington Heights, and the entire cast is composed of members of the Post. The whole production is under the direction of Judge William E. Kopplin of Arlington Heights which in itself assures a good show.

Many well known business men and citizens of Arlington Heights, all members of the Legion Post, will be in the cast. Charles Page, the well known Sinclair man, will be one of the end men; Jules Spath, the well known Dixie Hayshaker orchestra man, will perform on his concertina; Orville Kurtz, will sing a solo; Les Griffith will be at the piano; and so on and so on. The evening will be full of novelty entertainment. There will be group singing, plenty of comedy, dancing, vocal solos, specialty acts and a comedy sketch all by our own boys. "With every ticket sold, there is a guarantee for two laughs a minute," says C. L. Griffith, commander of the post. "In addition to all this there will be a surprise act that will not be divulged until the nights of the show."

The people of Arlington Heights and neighboring communities should be in just the proper mood to receive a show of this kind as Lent and the primary election will be all over and everyone will be in a mood to relax, laugh and enjoy himself.

Tickets for the show can be bought at Sieburg's Drug Store and the office of C. L. Griffith, insurance agency, 23 West Davis street, Arlington Heights and from any member of the Post. They also can be bought at the door of the auditorium the two nights of the show. All tickets are good for either night and for adults are 35c and for children under 12 years of age 20c. Judging from the advance sale of the tickets, it looks like a packed house for both nights and the Legion boys suggest that everyone who wants to see the show should buy his ticket as soon as possible.

Home Wedding Unites Frances Cropper and Leo Nepperman

The Wesley Comfort home, South Hale street, Palatine, was the scene of a quiet wedding April 5, 1936. Miss Frances May Cropper, one of Palatine's most popular, as well as beautiful girls, became the bride of Mr. Leo Nepermann of Dundee.

The Comfort home was simply adorned with gay blossoms of Clarkia and sweet peas. Before the ceremony, soft music was played to establish an atmosphere of quiet and solemnity of the occasion. Upon the first strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Esther Scheibach, the groom, attended by Wesley Cropper as best man, proceeded to the east windows of the spacious living room.

The bride, gracefully attired in white satin, cut princess style with a long train, her head encircled by a halo of braided tulle and shoulder veil, and carrying a bridal bouquet of white roses and fuchsias, slowly entered, guided by the arm of her Uncle, Mr. Wesley R. Comfort. The bridesmaids, the Misses Henrietta and Delores Meyers, were clothed in blue green and Miss Virginia McDonald, wearing peach taffeta, attended the bride most graciously. Little Miss Jeanne Ann Comfort, dressed in green and white, was train bearer.

The Rev. Sidney Bloomquist of the First Methodist church of Palatine and incidently, the church in which Miss Cropper is a Sunday school teacher, read the responsive marriage service with the single ring ceremony.

Upon being pronounced husband and wife, the melody of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," echoed above the voice of the minister as he asked the blessing upon the newly wedded couple.

Wesley Cropper then played upon his trumpet, "I Love You Truly." He was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Scheibach.

After a most delicious buffet supper, and amid the shower of much rice and best wishes, the happy couple left for a short honeymoon. When they return they are to go to housekeeping on a farm near Algonquin.

All who know "Maizee," (as Frances is called by all who love her), wish her and her husband God's richest blessings and good luck.

SCHOOLS MUST HAVE ACTIVE SUPPORT

It is the duty of all voters, to actively show their interest and opinions regarding the conduct and determination of school policies, by voting at the school elections this Saturday afternoon. Boards of Education, intrusted with the planning of educational opportunities of the future generations as well as with the expenditure of larger sums of tax money than are given corresponding city officials, certainly are worthy of thoughtful consideration at election time. During the past few years the general public has not been voting at school elections, and this lack of participation may lead to a dangerous condition whereby the control of our schools might become invested in other than a true expression of a majority of voters of the district. Candidates for school board membership are not affiliated with any political parties, and by serving on a public board of this nature with no salary or other remuneration, deserve at least proper recognition at the polls. Show your interest in your schools by voting this Saturday afternoon and evening, April 11, 1936.

O. G. Barrett Invites Support of Voters

In announcing my candidacy for President of the Board of the Arlington Heights township high school, I do so with a keen sense of the responsibility that goes with it and I do so also with some degree of pleasure.

Far be it from me to criticize in any way, shape or form the administration of the high school under our present president, Mr. Militzer. So far as I am able to know, he has conducted an efficient administration for which we all, as citizens, should be truly thankful.

There are those of our people who have approached me in the past to present myself as a candidate and twice previously I have refused. I do not care to shirk my responsibilities. If it is within my power to render a service to this school district and to this community, I am very willing to assume that responsibility and render such service as is possible.

I believe in education as my record will indicate. I believe the boy or girl with the right kind of home training and proper kind of education is better qualified to meet the problems of life than one without that training and that education. I believe, too, that there should be a proper balance between the book education of the classroom and the contacts in athletics and other school activities. I believe that our high school has rendered a service in the past, but should be given such attention and consideration that it will render to our young people a greater service in the future.

I have before me my tax bill which indicates that slightly more than 50% of the taxes paid this last year went for the support of our schools. Not far from 25% of the taxes paid in this district by you and by me went for the support of the Arlington Heights township high school. I do not say this with an element of criticism. I say it only to impress upon you the responsibility that is yours, with the urge that you put forth the effort to cast your vote at the polls next Saturday.

I do not ask that you vote against Mr. Militzer. I would urge and appreciate your vote for me. I would ask your consideration on the basis of my record as a citizen of Arlington Heights for the last decade; my record as trustee of the Village for a 2-year period; and my record with the organization with which I am affiliated, the Farm Bureau.

I would ask you, if in your honest opinion you believe Mr. Militzer can render more efficient service to the young people of the District as well as to the taxpayers who are supporting this institution, to cast your vote for him.

If, on the other hand, my qualifications are such that I may render a service and it is your desire to register your vote in my behalf and I am elected to the office of president of the Arlington Heights township high school, I shall "carry on" to the best of my ability. Carry on consistent with the best interests of our young people as well as consistent with the best interests of our taxpayers.

If you read in this article any mud slinging at my opponent, you will have to read it between the lines. It is not here for I do not believe in that sort of thing. Your vote is solicited and will be appreciated.

Yours for cleanliness and efficiency, O. G. Barrett.

RIVER ROAD SCHOOL BUNCO PARTY

Palatine Lions Start Plans For Centennial

The Palatine Lions club is starting plans for a centennial celebration for Palatine. Such celebrations started in northern Illinois in 1933 with the Century of Progress in anniversary of the establishment of Chicago. Naperville and other older communities have held such celebrations, but up to the present time, Mt. Prospect is the only northwest suburb which has taken cognizance of the arrival of the first settlers.

The Lions club committee is composed of Otto Gaare, F. F. Danielsen, Richard Sanford and members of the publicity committee, who will report at the next meeting.

The centennial celebration for the community would dovetail into the tenth anniversary of Lionism in Palatine.

Palatine PEO Host To State Officers and Neighboring Chapters

Chapter E. P. PEO, Palatine, observed its first anniversary April 6, the local chapter having been organized April 6, 1935. The celebration took the form of an informal tea at the home of Mrs. Noble J. Puffer.

The social committee with Mrs. Wm. P. Slover as chairman, planned a delightful afternoon.

The guests were received by Mrs. Puffer, president and Mrs. H. Theo. Wanberg, vice president. Tea was served from a table which was made attractive by old silver and a low bowl of fresias and yellow daisies, carrying out the colors of the sisterhood. Mrs. Stuart Paddock and Mrs. Sidney Bloomquist presided at the urns.

The artists of the afternoon were Mrs. Marjorie Boye, violinist; Mrs. Gloria Taylor, soloist and Mrs. Elvira H. Brown, pianist, who came to us from Chapter DA Park Ridge, Ill. Their beautiful music was an inspiration to all.

Special guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. Alice P. Perrin, State Pres., Joliet, Ill.; Mrs. Mary K. Lindsay, 1st Vice Pres. (State chapter), Chicago; Mrs. Myrtice Anderson, Canton, Ill., State Organizer; Mrs. Margaret Brundage, organizer of Chapter EP, Riverside, Illinois; Mrs. Ruth Kimball, Mrs. Ruth Cruse, Mrs. May De Money and Mrs. Constance Coy of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Ethel C. Bennett and Mrs. Alice Blackman of Elgin, Illinois; Mrs. Mildred Wanberg, Evanston, Ill.; Mrs. Florence Smack, Mrs. Ruth James, Mrs. Mary S. Shepard, Mrs. C. Ryerson, Mrs. Bernice B. Ward, Mrs. Elvira Brown, Mrs. Gloria Taylor and Mrs. Marjorie Boye of Park Ridge, Ill.; Mrs. Elizabeth Barrett and Mrs. Martha Mills of Arlington Heights.

Water Mains Show Result of Zero Weather

The house services were not the only water pipes to freeze during the sub-zero weather of a month ago, as the Arlington Heights water department has learned this week when bad leaks from broken mains have been discovered on three streets. "There may be others," says Wm. Luehring, "we will just have to check the mains as much as possible as soon as time permits."

Now that warmer weather has arrived and there is no further danger from frozen surfaces, some of those householders who were given first aid with the specially imported thawing machine, are rather slow in paying the thawing charge. They did not talk that way when they had no water in their homes.

FARMERS SHOW INTEREST IN SOIL CONSERV.

Meetings Continue This Week; Big Opportunity To Farmers.

Farmers of Cook county, particularly truck farmers and dairymen are responding with keener interest to the new Soil Conservation Act than they did in the previous Agricultural Adjustment Act.

Our Farm Adviser, O. G. Barrett and Assistant, Charles Glover, are holding a series of meetings in the county in which they are conveying to the farmers in attendance the provisions of the Act and how they may take advantage of it.

Mr. Barrett reports that the meetings are not nearly as well attended as it wouldl seem that they should be. He, of course, feels that every farmer, like every business man, should be on hand to take advantage of whatever opportunity arises to improve his business.

Mr. Barrett, however, reports that at the meetings thus far held almost to a man those present are thoroughly interested in the provisions of the Act and feel that it is very logical and will be helpful to them in their farm operations. The truck gardeners who so rightly felt that the wheat control program and corn-hog program did not pertain to them are admitting that the ideas incorporated in the New Act make it possible for them to participate and enjoy the benefits.

Four meetings a day are being held in the county.

Tomorrow, Friday, afternoon, at 2 o'clock, Mr. Barrett will be in Elk Grove township, Elk Grove town hall to describe the program and answer any questions.

Saturday at 2 o'clock, he will be at Hartmann's school on Wiese road, in Schaumburg township.

Saturday evening, 8 o'clock in Hanover township at the Blacksmith Shop at Buttermilk Corners.

Every farmer should certainly attend and get to know the provisions of the Act before he has a right to conclude whether or not it holds an advantage for him.

A meeting of all of the several officers of the various townships is to be held at the office at Blue Island, next Wednesday, at which time the Board of Directors will have their organization meeting and the committeemen receive instructions as to their duties from Mr. Bumgarner, who is one of the members of the State committee.

Mr. Barrett urges with emphasis that all of our Cook county folks give some attention to studying the provisions for in most cases they would be able to benefit by it.

Homer J. Byrd Predicts Big Majority For Henry Horner

A prediction, based upon the returns of a recently completed survey indicating an overwhelming majority favorable to the incumbent, Governor Henry Horner, was made today by Homer J. Byrd, chairman of the Country Towns Headquarters for Governor Horner.

"Governor Horner," said Mr. Byrd, "has won the approval of both down state and Cook county voters, especially real estate owners who have expressed great favor for the Governor's successful fight to remove the State real estate tax approximately $140,000,000."

"Obviously," continued Mr. Byrd, "all citizens are affected by such taxation whether real estate owners or renters and the courageous stand of Governor Horner against the recent vicious gambling bill has won the support of decent citizens everywhere."

The survey which sought to determine the reasons why citizens preferred Governor Horner indicates, according to Mr. Byrd, a plurality of several hundred thousand votes as an endorsement for the Governor's record and policies.

Club Dance At Arlington Ball Room Saturday, April 18

Theft of Goats Was No April Fool Joke Goats Still Missing

The 1st of April is ordinarily regarded as April Fools Day, however, the burglars who made off with 4 goats owned by Mr. Maloney of Ruby street, Schiller Park, Ill., and the 300 lb. air compressor and various automobile accessories, the property of Mr. Ed. Heesch, operator of a gasoline station at Rand and Elmhurst roads, did not intend their actions as a joke, because the property to this date has not been returned. The war cry of Deputies Miller and Oszakowski who are investigating these burglaries is, "Who stole Mr. Maloney's goats."

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Elmer B. Sachs.

SACHS LOOMS AS WINNER AS RACE DRAWS TO A CLOSE

Exhilaration has taken hold of Wheeling Township with Primary Day just a few days away, and political feelings running at a high pitch.

The Young Republican Elephant has lifted his trunk and is trumpeting, loudly and mightly, for recognition.

There isn't any question but what this Primary marks the greatest political fight in the History of Wheeling Township.

The young Republican candidate, Elmer B. Sachs, entered into one of the most interesting phases of his life, when his strong Republican feelings led him into the race for Wheeling Township Committeeman.

He has long been known for his sponsorship of clean sports and sportsmanship. The same feeling prevails during his political career. He has a fight on his hands and he knows it. It takes courage to do the things you believe you are justified in doing, in spite of recriminations.

This young man was raised in Arlington Heights, and received his education in its schools. Upon leaving high school he entered the most expensive and trying college in the world—U. H. K.—University of Hard Knocks, and one that has no Graduation Day.

During his so-journ in the U. S. Army, he was stationed at the Hawaiian Islands. He traveled over the country, and worked at various kinds of occupation; no work too hard, nor too menial.

He finally made Evanston, Illinois, his residence. He applied for a commission on the Evanston Police Department, and after his appointment, began a relentless drive against the criminal element, which preyed upon the citizens of that city.

Delegated to the Detective Bureau, he won many rewards, and citations for bravery. His knowledge of human nature, and ability to read character, stood him in good stead. His record for convicted felonies had never been equaled up until the time he suffered further injuries, which placed him on the permanent disability list. Moving back to his home town, among his family and friends, he occupied his time with sports and athletic activities.

He interested Arthur J. Bidwill in sponsoring a traveling Softball team for Arlington Heights and acted as campaign manager for Bidwill in this territory, during his fight for State Senator, which culminated in the farce at Springfield, and ousted him after being duly elected.

Sachs became connected with the Electrolux Inc., and in six months time had rapidly advanced himself from salesman to Branch Manager to Director of Personnel, and was judged by officials of that company as an outstanding example and accomplishment of real leadership.

The citizens of Wheeling Township can be proud to have a man with the sterling qualifications of Elmer B. Sachs on their Republican ballot. His ability to meet people, his understanding of human nature, of human needs, his honesty, his high sense of fair play, and his common knowledge of people like himself, well qualify him to be their Republican committeeman.

Forerunner of Red Cross

The distinction of organizing the first aid society in the country for soldiers of the Civil war was claimed by a group of Cleveland women. On April 20, 1861, this group formed the organization, which later became a unit of the entire relief setup for the North, and this latter organization, known as the United States Sanitary commission, was the forerunner of the Red Cross of today.

Take a Chance Chinaware Nights

The Arlington Theatre will change the China nights back to Wednesday and Thursday nights, commencing next week.

During the Lenten season Mgr. Godshaw thought it apropos to take the China night off on Wednesday. This Thursday and Friday the Arlington is cleaning house on the big items that have been accumulating. 90 cake platters, about 60 large mixing bowls, a couple of dozen casseroles, a few rolling pins and a medley of cups, cereals, big plates, etc., will be given out along with some of the smaller items by a unique method. Every lady will select an envelope and the card inside the envelope advises what each lady gets. Some of the envelopes will carry both a dish card and a cash prize card. 100 free tickets will also appear along with a dish card in 100 envelopes, thus making some of the envelopes double gifts. The sugar bowls and 18 ounce bowl are on the way for early distribution. BELIEVE IT OR NOT

When you see Elmer B. Sachs coming around with his sign and speaker system, Believe it, or not, he was asked to buy a business license, for which he has a receipt. We sure have some small, petty individuals, who abuse their authority, living among our midst in Arlington Heights.

Elmer B. Sachs.

SACHS LOOMS AS WINNER AS RACE DRAWS TO A CLOSE

Exhilaration has taken hold of Wheeling Township with Primary Day just a few days away, and political feelings running at a high pitch.

The Young Republican Elephant has lifted his trunk and is trumpeting, loudly and mightly, for recognition.

There isn't any question but what this Primary marks the greatest political fight in the History of Wheeling Township.

The young Republican candidate, Elmer B. Sachs, entered into one of the most interesting phases of his life, when his strong Republican feelings led him into the race for Wheeling Township Committeeman.

He has long been known for his sponsorship of clean sports and sportsmanship. The same feeling prevails during his political career. He has a fight on his hands and he knows it. It takes courage to do the things you believe you are justified in doing, in spite of recriminations.

This young man was raised in Arlington Heights, and received his education in its schools. Upon leaving high school he entered the most expensive and trying college in the world—U. H. K.—University of Hard Knocks, and one that has no Graduation Day.

During his so-journ in the U. S. Army, he was stationed at the Hawaiian Islands. He traveled over the country, and worked at various kinds of occupation; no work too hard, nor too menial.

He finally made Evanston, Illinois, his residence. He applied for a commission on the Evanston Police Department, and after his appointment, began a relentless drive against the criminal element, which preyed upon the citizens of that city.

Delegated to the Detective Bureau, he won many rewards, and citations for bravery. His knowledge of human nature, and ability to read character, stood him in good stead. His record for convicted felonies had never been equaled up until the time he suffered further injuries, which placed him on the permanent disability list. Moving back to his home town, among his family and friends, he occupied his time with sports and athletic activities.

He interested Arthur J. Bidwill in sponsoring a traveling Softball team for Arlington Heights and acted as campaign manager for Bidwill in this territory, during his fight for State Senator, which culminated in the farce at Springfield, and ousted him after being duly elected.

Sachs became connected with the Electrolux Inc., and in six months time had rapidly advanced himself from salesman to Branch Manager to Director of Personnel, and was judged by officials of that company as an outstanding example and accomplishment of real leadership.

The citizens of Wheeling Township can be proud to have a man with the sterling qualifications of Elmer B. Sachs on their Republican ballot. His ability to meet people, his understanding of human nature, of human needs, his honesty, his high sense of fair play, and his common knowledge of people like himself, well qualify him to be their Republican committeeman.

in the state psycopathic hospital of Delaware. We trust her illness will be brief.

Tuesday, April 14, Mrs. Charles Scherf and Mrs. Joseph Melzer, will be hostesses to the Fidelis Circle of the Methodist church in the home of Mrs. Scherf on North Belmont avenue.

Mrs. H. C. Cleveland went up to Beaver Dam, Wisconsin, Friday last week to attend the 55th anniversary of the wedding of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Kellom. A large company shared in the festivities. There were five children, eleven grandchildren, thirty guests in all. A happy family celebration of a happy event.

Last Friday evening, Mr. Albert Nebel and family went out to Nebel's corners to help celebrate the birthday of their brother-in-law, Mr. William Heide. There were about twenty-four guests in all, a cheery family gathering, a genial company much more enjoyable than a crowd.

Miss Adele Adam is coming home from Kenosha, where she teaches for an over week-end vacation, including from Thursday until next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lorenzen had a family gathering in their home on South Dunton avenue, Sunday afternoon to commemorate the christening of their little son, James Howard. It was good to rejoice for the little one whose feet were set in the right way.

Mr. and Mrs. William Kuecker have moved from West Euclid street into the lower flat of 307 N. Dunton avenue.

Saturday evening, April 4, Mrs. Albert Adam invited a company to her home, 209 S. Dunton avenue to help her remember she was one year older than on the same date last year, and to comfort her with the assurance that the first hundred years are the worst. It was a large company that enjoyed the hospitality of the Adam's home. There were games, choice refreshments and everything to make a happy birthday. The guests left Mrs. Adam many happy returns, as many as she could wish for or help her friends to enjoy, as they did this one.

Mrs. Frank Jahn, 74 years old, and her youngest grandson, Richard Jahn, 10 years old, celebrated their birthdays together this week. Grandma provided the cake and Richard the ice cream. Their birthdays come the same day.

Apples—Snows, spys, delicious, ½ bu. 50c-65c. Bring basket, 903 N. Dunton. (4-10*

NOTE OF APPRECIATION

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

When spring first made her pretty bow,
And strove to get her finger in Old winter's pie, a mighty row
He roared and gave us such a din,
Of bellowing winds and ice and snow,
It seemed the monster ne'er would go;
But spring holds on with smiling face,
Scattering her flowers of lovely grace;
Spreading green carpets in each place,
Till spite of churlish lingering
Winter must go, the mean old thing.

Palm Sunday began this week. Good Friday comes and our great crowning day comes for next week, Easter Sunday.

Politicians keep the air stirred with each crying out "See how good I am" and see how bad is the other fellow. Easter Monday will be a holiday in the schools.

Primaries held Tuesday next week, April 14.

School election Saturday, April 11.

Woman's club annual election April 15, in the home of the president, Mrs. Jarvis.

Miss Aloise Henning and Mr. Elroy J. Harris announce their marriage to take place Saturday, April 11, in the bride's home at DeKalb.

Mrs. Lucie Mariacher died in Chicago hospital last Friday. The funeral was held Tuesday this week from the family home, North State road and Miner street, to St. James church. Mrs. Mariacher was a kindly, gentle woman to meet, yet but little known here since her business took her elsewhere.

Notice. Ballots bear the following colors in the Primary election. Democratic, true blue and the Republican, pure gold. They say a careful blending of the two shades produces a true green. Beware of the green-eyed monster—jealousy.

Glad to learn that Mr. John Berchtold, after seventeen weeks, spent in the hospital, came home last Sunday. He gives evidence of a modern miracle in his amazing cure. His broken leg, that had been so long paralized is now lengthened and alive so that he can use it with the aid of a cane. He was happy to get home and his family were full of Easter joy at his home coming.

Miss Faust came last week to take care of the home of her sister, Mrs. E. A. Elfeld during the absence of Dr. and Mrs. Elfeld.

John and Frank Lauting of Union Grove, Wisconsin, called on their sister, Mrs. Nickolas Mayer and family Monday evening. They took Nickolas, Jr., home with them to spend vacation on his grandparent's farm home at Union Grove, Wis.

Dr. and Mrs. E. A. Elfeld have gone to Philadelphia to see their daughter, Dr. Persis Elfeld, who is in a hospital there for observation. Dr. Persis Elfeld is head assistant

Holy Name Society

Open meeting April 14, 1936, 8 p. m., is the next schedule on our calendar.

We are going to have company at our house. In this case "our house" is the Parish school hall, and the company whom we are expecting are Mr. and Mrs. Parishioner and their family. Preparations are under way for handling a record breaking audience at this open meeting, 'cause in that open meeting, we'll have a lot of fun, we'll make the minutes count—and how! Yes, every single one!

The committees have been at work for the past month, preparing for your visit. Their work requires much of their time and painstaking effort, but they consider themselves repaid a thousand times if a smooth-running open meeting is the result of their labors.

If you have not yet decided to attend, let us add the invitation of the entertainment committee, which promises you a very clever and efficient speaker. There will be entertainment, music and refreshments, and remember this open meeting is for parishioners and their families. We promise you new contacts, some pleasant acquaintances, and some firm friends.

Surely with all these inducements, you cannot refrain from being our guests. We shall be seeing you at the open meeting April 14, at 8 p. m.; also you members, at communion Sunday, April 12, at 7:30 Mass.

Just a reminder, everyone is cordially invited to attend a performance to be presented by the St. James players at the parish school hall, Sunday, April 19, 1936, 8 p. m. Matinee, 3 p. m. There will be comedy galore, so please keep this date in mind.

Open meeting April 14, 1936, 8 p. m., is the next schedule on our calendar.

We are going to have company at our house. In this case "our house" is the Parish school hall, and the company whom we are expecting are Mr. and Mrs. Parishioner and their family. Preparations are under way for handling a record breaking audience at this open meeting, 'cause in that open meeting, we'll have a lot of fun, we'll make the minutes count—and how! Yes, every single one!

The committees have been at work for the past month, preparing for your visit. Their work requires much of their time and painstaking effort, but they consider themselves repaid a thousand times if a smooth-running open meeting is the result of their labors.

If you have not yet decided to attend, let us add the invitation of the entertainment committee, which promises you a very clever and efficient speaker. There will be entertainment, music and refreshments, and remember this open meeting is for parishioners and their families. We promise you new contacts, some pleasant acquaintances, and some firm friends.

Surely with all these inducements, you cannot refrain from being our guests. We shall be seeing you at the open meeting April 14, at 8 p. m.; also you members, at communion Sunday, April 12, at 7:30 Mass.

Just a reminder, everyone is cordially invited to attend a performance to be presented by the St. James players at the parish school hall, Sunday, April 19, 1936, 8 p. m. Matinee, 3 p. m. There will be comedy galore, so please keep this date in mind.

PALM SUNDAY EVENTS

St. Peter's Lutheran church had a large class prepared for confirmation given as forty-five, all of these earnestly preparing for their first communion.

The Methodist Episcopal church had a number of children presented for baptism. The Rev. Whipple took charge of this service. Those presented for baptism were Roger William, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawbaugh of South Highland avenue; James Alburn Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alburn C. Rector, Palatine road; Edward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Luehring, North Evergreen. Their second son, Herbert, will receive baptism Easter Sunday. The sermon was given by the Rev. Clyde Lamont Hay from Chicago. There was appropriate singing and other features of an impressive service. The communion service will be solemnized at eight o'clock Good Friday evening.

At the Presbyterian church, the Palm Sunday morning the church was appropriately made beautiful with palms and flowers. There was a large attendance and the service impressively befitting this day of sacred remembrance. The pastor, Dr. H. A. Kossack baptized the following: Robert Donald and Ronald Leroy, children of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Stevenson, 116 Evergreen avenue; Patricia Ann, child of Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan, 707 N. Highland. A pleasing feature of this last family was the presence of Patricia and her mother, grandmother Milligan and great grandmother Gathman, four generations. There was also Donald Herbert, child of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Helfers, 205 East Euclid; James Howard, child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kledhaus, who live in the Krause apartment; Dorothy Helene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McGowan of Evanston.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Nebel on No. Belmont avenue, gave a dinner party to immediate friends Palm Sunday afternoon to commemorate the confirmation of Norman, their second son, into their church and faith. It was a genial, happy company and will be a happy memory for Norman all his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Gerhardt of North Dunton avenue, entertained a large company of friends to commemorate and be glad over the confirmation of their daughter, Sylvia Palm Sunday afternoon, in their home.

Mrs. Charles Kosmin had about fifty guests with her in her home on No. Dunton avenue to help celebrate her birthday Saturday, April 4. There were about fifty guests. Games, bunco and choice refreshments in a genial company with a tip top hostess inspired the guests to wish Mrs. Kosmin many happy returns, even a whole century.

WOMAN'S CLUB

The Woman's club met Wednesday, April 1, in the usual meeting place. The usual routine business, reports of committees were taken up and satisfactorily presented.

The program was in charge of the education committee, consisting of an address by Miss Jessie Austin, superintendent of vocational training in the J. Sterling Morton high school, Chicago. The music was given by Mrs. McWharter in place of the school glee club as was on the program. The attendance was large and the audience listened with deep attention to Miss Austin's intelligent and wholesomely informing outline of her helpful work. Of the children needing direction and all too often home help, so earnest and impressive were the individual instances she cited all were touched and inspired to desire all our schools might have such work and such a helpful humane director.

Not to seem too personal, we sincerely say we have had no out of town speaker, who gave us such a helpful suggestive message, full of such human appeal and such open avenues, leading to help needy children. We are glad Miss Austin is in this great work and glad she came to tell us about it. In closing, Miss Austin urged club members all women, to inform themselves in regard to measures pending at Springfield and among law makers.

The music so graciously given by Mrs. McWharter, who substituted for a missing number. The following numbers were perfectly well given: Autschwung Schuman; Kamenwillostrow by Reubenstein, all skillfully well given and enthusiastically appreciated.

Refreshments, cake and coffee generously served.

The president called attention to the district meeting at Des Plaines April 9. The nominating committee presented names of those officials to be voted on at the annual meeting in the home of the president, April 15. Don't forget, in the home of Mrs. Jarvis, April 15.

EVER-READYS

A happy idea was thought out in our club, which after an experiment proved so favorable that it has been decided to make it a monthly affair.

This is in the form of a monthly magazine, contents to be material for an afternoon program contributed by each member. A pleasant afternoon we have when this magazine is read with its games, stories and talks on different subjects and are to be saved so at the end of the year, we can see what we have done. We believe this helps to bring out hidden talent and believe it or not. We do enjoy them, shall I say, better, than some of these high priced speakers we some times hear.

The following are the programs for March and April.

Friends of Ruth Dahlstrom will be interested to know that she is following up her nurses training with a special three month's course in children's diseases, at a Detroit hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Atkinson and children are planning to spend the Easter vacation in Marshalltown, Iowa. They will leave here Thursday evening and visit Rev. and Mrs. Allan Billman in Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Geisser, 39 So. Mitchell, entertained Chicago friends Saturday evening.

Mrs. C. H. Mills and Mrs. O. G. Barrett attended a P. E. O. tea at the home of Mrs. Lillian Puffer in Palatine, Monday. Chapter E. P. celebrated their first birthday. Their organizer, Mrs. Brundage, was present as were many state officers.

Mrs. Wm. McKaig visited her son, Emmett and wife, in Chicago the first part of the week.

University students are home for Easter vacation, Miss Dorothy Mills from Northwestern; Howard Sayers and Marsia Martens from Illinois.

Peggy Bowlin has been out for two weeks because of tonsilitis, and complications. Eleanor Lutes has been absent because of bronchitis.

We understand that little Dawn Lama, who won first place at the American Legion audition last week is to broadcast over WCFL at 9 o'clock Friday evening. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Late Spring Hinders High School Track Events

Track and baseball at Arlington Heights high school, as at most of the other schools in the district, has been severely retarded by the unusual cold weather and snow. It is time for the outdoor meets to begin, yet no outdoor work has been done, worthy of mention. The first meet was scheduled for this Wednesday or Thursday, April 8 or 9, at Palatine, with Palatine and Barrington as competitors for the Cardinals, whether or not it will be run off is very doubtful.

Coach Grose is facing the task of completely rebuilding a squad to defend Arlington's laurels as track champs of the northwest conference. Absence of such stars as "Doc" Rohlwing last year's half mile state champ, and also 440 yd. winner and record holder in the N. W. conference; Steve Szasz, sprint champ, and pole vault record holder; and Wallie Schroeder, ace sprinter and broad jumper and others leave a big gap in the Arlington ranks.

Only two track letter men returned this year. Mills, who came up fast late last year and who won a second in the mile, and Don Johnson, are the only two letter men to be back.

However, the largest squad in the history of the school is ready to report for practice when and if the weather lets up. There is really a lot of talent in the making and with a lot of hard work, and determination on the part of the squad quite a few new stars will no doubt be unearthed.

A full squad of twenty boys was entered in the Oak Park Relays this coming Saturday. It is unlikely that any of them can make much of a showing with no more work than they will have had, but it is thought the experience will do them good.

Reasoned Courage

True courage is the result of reasoning. A brave man is always impregnable. Resolution lies more in the head than in the veins, and a just sense of honor and of infamy, of duty and of religion, will carry us farther than all the force of mechanism.

Oak Park Relays Are Saturday

Coach McElroy will take six boys to the Oak Park Relays Saturday evening. Palatine has entered the 4 lap relay and the sprint medley. This is the biggest indoor high school meet held in Illinois. With very limited practice and a green team the Palatine coach does not expect to win any places. It is felt that the experience and opportunity to see good track men in action will be worth while. The boys from whom the relay teams will be selected are Capt. Shelby North, Edward Kraft, Leslie Deverman, Harold Mess, Cecil Kuhn, Ralph Wiehrdt and Thomas Philbin.

A. H. S. Baseball Is Nearly Snowed Out

Baseball prospects at Arlington are about as uncertain as the weather, on which they are greatly dependent. One day of air-cooled batting practice is all the drill the players have been able to take thus far. With the first conference game only one week away, but little chance exists to get a team into reasonable condition for the start of the season.

Weather conditions are not all of the worries faced by coaches Grose and Hayes. Six letter men return, and not all of those were regulars last year. Kehe will be available for the pitching burden. Clark is the number one candidate for the catcher's position. Laseke and Herb. Kirchhoff are returning infielders. while Pingel and Roy Wille won their letters in outfield work last year. These players may be shifted around, depending on what replacements show up. To date no one can tell what material is available.

"Beyond the Pale"

A pale was originally a stake, and referred especially to one of the stakes used to form a fence. As early as 1400 it was used in a figurative sense to mean a limit, boundary or restriction.

Palatine Relays Saturday, April 25

The Fourth Annual Palatine Relays will be held Saturday, April 25, starting at 1:30 p. m. Eight schools have entered including Arlington, Barrington, Bensenville, Crystal Lake, Grant, Libertyville, Palatine and Woodstock.

Four new events have been added to the program making a total of 13 regular events and three relays. New events are the high hurdles, Frosh-Soph 440 yard relay and the Medley relay. Medals will be given to each of the first five winners in each regular event and to each member of the winning team in the relay events. A gold plated baton of full size on a chain will be awarded the winning team.

Last year Arlington won the meet. This year Libertyville and Woodstock appear outstanding. Woodstock has Kraemer and Peacock who stood out in the dashes and hurdles last year as well as Austin who placed third in the mile. Libertyville has Ray, Newhouse, Grimes, Jaeger, Madden and Isaacson of last year's team. Palatine and Crystal Lake do not have a man left among those who placed in last year's meet. Arlington has only Johnson of their winning relay team. Bensenville will make a bid with Davis, Gallery and Koske of last year's team.

The dead line for entries is April 18. Last year the meet produced two state record breaking marks and three boys who competed were later winners in the state meet.

Palatine and Grant In Dual Meet

Next Friday Palatine entertains Grant in a dual meet. Palatine has only one man available for track who scored any points in meets last year. This senior boy Shelby North has been appointed captain. He competed in the high jump in dual meets last year. Cliff Haemker has shown good prospects as a high jumper by clearing five feet one inch in his first workout. Deverman, Mess and Kuhn are the speediest men of the squad and will run the dashes and 440. The best distance runners are Harlow Smith, Wiehrdt and Philbin. O'Brien and Kraft have been looking good as hurdlers. Palatine will be woefully weak in the field events this season.

Icy Pavement, No Tail Light; None Injured Police Sent Home

Sheriff's Highway Police investigating a call April 3, reporting an accident on River road, ½ mile south of Irving Park boulevard, learned from Mr. George Laye of 1244 Washington avenue, Des Plaines, Ill., one of the parties involved, that he had driven into the rear of a car being driven by Mr. Leonard Bue of Chicago, Ill., which did not display a lighted tail light and due to the icy pavement, it was impossible for him to stop in time. Fortunately, no one was injured and the parties agreed to settle the matter between themselves.

Palatine Relays Saturday, April 25

The Fourth Annual Palatine Relays will be held Saturday, April 25, starting at 1:30 p. m. Eight schools have entered including Arlington, Barrington, Bensenville, Crystal Lake, Grant, Libertyville, Palatine and Woodstock.

Four new events have been added to the program making a total of 13 regular events and three relays. New events are the high hurdles, Frosh-Soph 440 yard relay and the Medley relay. Medals will be given to each of the first five winners in each regular event and to each member of the winning team in the relay events. A gold plated baton of full size on a chain will be awarded the winning team.

Last year Arlington won the meet. This year Libertyville and Woodstock appear outstanding. Woodstock has Kraemer and Peacock who stood out in the dashes and hurdles last year as well as Austin who placed third in the mile. Libertyville has Ray, Newhouse, Grimes, Jaeger, Madden and Isaacson of last year's team. Palatine and Crystal Lake do not have a man left among those who placed in last year's meet. Arlington has only Johnson of their winning relay team. Bensenville will make a bid with Davis, Gallery and Koske of last year's team.

The dead line for entries is April 18. Last year the meet produced two state record breaking marks and three boys who competed were later winners in the state meet.

Palatine and Grant In Dual Meet

Next Friday Palatine entertains Grant in a dual meet. Palatine has only one man available for track who scored any points in meets last year. This senior boy Shelby North has been appointed captain. He competed in the high jump in dual meets last year. Cliff Haemker has shown good prospects as a high jumper by clearing five feet one inch in his first workout. Deverman, Mess and Kuhn are the speediest men of the squad and will run the dashes and 440. The best distance runners are Harlow Smith, Wiehrdt and Philbin. O'Brien and Kraft have been looking good as hurdlers. Palatine will be woefully weak in the field events this season.

Icy Pavement, No Tail Light; None Injured Police Sent Home

Sheriff's Highway Police investigating a call April 3, reporting an accident on River road, ½ mile south of Irving Park boulevard, learned from Mr. George Laye of 1244 Washington avenue, Des Plaines, Ill., one of the parties involved, that he had driven into the rear of a car being driven by Mr. Leonard Bue of Chicago, Ill., which did not display a lighted tail light and due to the icy pavement, it was impossible for him to stop in time. Fortunately, no one was injured and the parties agreed to settle the matter between themselves.

to think of the chances some people take in trying to get along without adequate insurance protection. The householder is rarely without fire insurance, but too frequently he fails to realize the ever-present danger of explosion, the menace of high winds, or his legal liability for persons injured on his property. These and other hazards can be covered by modern insurance. Are you fully protected?

Make No Mistake This Year—
Start Your Chicks on Startena!

This year when every chick you raise means twice as much profit as it did four or five years ago, the Purina Research Laboratories announce one of the most outstanding developments in the history of chick feeding —the discovery of Pur-a-tene.

What is Pur-a-tene? It's the concentrated goodness that's in many fresh vegetables and fruits. Scientists call it carotene or pro-vitamin A. Poultrymen see it in bright red combs, smooth plumage, added life and vigor. Purina Startena has been known for years as America's finest starting feed. Now it is made even better by the addition of Pur-a-tene.

Don't take chances this year. Start your chicks on Startena and have the kind of chicks you want at six weeks. See us today for a supply of Startena!

to think of the chances some people take in trying to get along without adequate insurance protection. The householder is rarely without fire insurance, but too frequently he fails to realize the ever-present danger of explosion, the menace of high winds, or his legal liability for persons injured on his property. These and other hazards can be covered by modern insurance. Are you fully protected?

Make No Mistake This Year—
Start Your Chicks on Startena!

This year when every chick you raise means twice as much profit as it did four or five years ago, the Purina Research Laboratories announce one of the most outstanding developments in the history of chick feeding —the discovery of Pur-a-tene.

What is Pur-a-tene? It's the concentrated goodness that's in many fresh vegetables and fruits. Scientists call it carotene or pro-vitamin A. Poultrymen see it in bright red combs, smooth plumage, added life and vigor. Purina Startena has been known for years as America's finest starting feed. Now it is made even better by the addition of Pur-a-tene.

Don't take chances this year. Start your chicks on Startena and have the kind of chicks you want at six weeks. See us today for a supply of Startena!

WHEELING

Mrs. Herbert Lesch and little Ruby have gone to Minnesota to make their home with relatives.

Voters of school district number 21 are reminded of the election which is to be held this Saturday, April 11th. Make it your business to go to the polls. The term of Mr. Henry Grandt, president of the board expires this year.

Master Rudolph Henrich of 3057 Lincoln Ave., Chicago, who was seriously injured about the face in a motor accident which occurred near Palwaukee several weeks ago is convalescing very satisfactorily at the Wheeling hospital.

We are sorry to note that Miss Violet Richardson has been forced to leave her work at the Benjamin because of illness. She is staying with her sister, Mrs. Meehan at Des Plaines at the present. We hope she may soon be restored to normal health.

Mrs. Geo. Sicks visited relatives in Madison, Wis., during the week-end.

Mr. Oscar Kuntz of Faribault, Minn., called on the Ehlers family here, while en route to Chicago to purchase a new truck this week.

Mr. John Sicks motored to Urbana last week-end to make arrangements to enter the university next fall.

Bette Davis, Academy Award Winner at Des Plaines Sunday

Bette Davis, the young lady who was honored by the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences recently, comes to the Des Plaines theatre Sunday in the role that won her the coveted award. The picture "Dangerous" with Franchot Tone playing opposite her and Margaret Lindsay her rival, will have a two-day showing.

The screen play by Laird Doyle is said to be sheer drama of dynamic intensity and tremendous emotions. Bette has the role of a famous actress, who after rising to the top of the ladder of success, tumbles to the gutter through her own egotism and selfishness, although she calls it a jinx, dragging down those who loved her.

It is after her fall that Tone, in the role of a young architect, sets about sobering her up and trying to reestablish her as the brilliant star she had been.

But Bette loves lightly and too well. She already has a discarded husband she has ruined, of whom the architect knows nothing. The situation leads to a veritable scandal which ends in dynamic and tumultuous scenes and an amazing climax.

Miss Davis is not presented in a pretty light, but the part is said to give her the strongest characterization which she has had in films.

CANDIDATES MAKE FINAL BID TO VOTERS

Issue Is Horner versus Cook County Organization.

In the democratic race for governor, Henry Horner, present incumbent, and Herman N. Bundesen, regular organization nominee have been furnishing voters plenty of entertainment. The contest easily surpasses that of 1932 for bitterness when Horner and Igoe were opponents for the nomination. A struggle in the democratic ranks being staged in every precinct in the state, and the outcome Tuesday will have momentuous consequences for the Democratic organization, from top to bottom.

The fun started when the state central committee refused to recommend the Governor for renomination, but instead selected Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago. The reason given for this choice is that Horner's record had won him such widespread opposition that it would be impossible to carry the state for Roosevelt next November with him on the ticket. The Governor, however, retorted that the real reason was that he had refused to submit to Chicago "bossism" in directing the affairs of the state. He made this the issue in the campaign and immediately set out to carry the war to his opponents.

Both candidates claim the down state vote, although with most of the county downstate Democratic organizations favorable to the Governor he probably has the edge outside of Cook county. The real decision is expected to be made in Cook county where the campaign is now being conducted between the rival candidates.

Many old time democrats say that Horner is doomed to defeat because no candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in the whole history of Illinois Democratic politics has been able to buck the organization and get away with it. But on the other hand there are democrats equally as good who point out that the Governor is not only getting away with it, but he is doing it in the grand manner.

It may not be generally known but Arlington Heights has its own candidate for member of state legislature. Thomas A. Pope, of 201 S. Walnut, has the endorsement, he claims, of both local Democratic factions. Mr. Pope has been a resident of Arlington Heights eight years and is a painter by trade. He has also held a state supervisor's job of maintenance. There are six candidates for the position. There are two to receive the nomination, and a cross in the square before Mr. Pope's name alone will give him three votes. Mr. Pope holds a congressional medal of honor and is being supported by many world war veterans.

Democratic Workers of Six Townships Hear Candidate for Governor

All of the northwest townships of Cook county were represented in the audience that greeted Dr. Bundesen, candidate for governor and his party at the Arlington Heights high school Friday night. Dr. Bundesen was the star attraction. In his talk he made a plea for the vote and understanding of the milk producers. He said in part:

. . . at the time of the last milk strike, New York offered to supply Chicago with all of the milk needed. I refused to allow it.

. . . Today northern Illinois furnishes more than twice as much milk to the Chicago market than it did prior to the present regulations.

. . . Chicago is no longer the dumping ground for the dairy culls of Wisconsin and Indiana.

. . . My administration of the Chicago board of health has been beneficial to the dairymen of this state who are better off today on account of the manner in which I have protected their best interests.

Mr. Bundesen criticized Gov. Horner for the padded pay rolls that have been exposed and for the improper use by the Governor of the sales tax, only a small part of which, stated Mr. Bundesen, went to relief. "Governor Horner did away with the state property tax, but the small houseowner is paying a great deal more in state sales tax," stated the speaker.

Mrs. Plumb, former county commissioner and a member of the Illinois University Board spoke on the need of more vocational education in Illinois and charged that Governor Horner had vetoed needed measures. Referring to Dr. Bundesen, Mrs. Plumb said: "There is no need of mentioning the administrative abilities of the candidate except that I can not emphasize his good qualities too strongly."

Other speakers were Judge John C. Lewe, of Riverside, who is the only judge on the circuit or supervisor bench who was elected by the country towns, and Richard L. Creedon, candidate for the legislature.

O. S. Johnson, of Mt. Prospect presided.

Many prominent women in Chicago's Civic and Charitable organizations were seated at the speaker's table and a number were scattered among the audience. Candidate Pledges New Postoffice for Arlington Heights

A Republican victory in November means the erection of a government owned postoffice building for Arlington Heights, provided that M. A. Michaelson is the congressman who will represent the seventh district in congress. The above is the pledge that Mr. Michaelson made to the people of Arlington Heights Wednesday when he was calling upon old acquaintances. Mr. Michaelson represented this district in congress prior to the Democratic landslide in 1928. He expressed himself as well pleased with the appearance of the business district, which he said only lacks a real postoffice building, and its approval will be one of his first official acts if he receives the Republican nomination next Tuesday and is elected next November.

FRANK RING

Frank Ring, An Outstanding Legislator Seeks Renomination

Frank Ring in his first term as a representative from the Seventh District, was unusually active and served with distinction. He introduced and secured the passage of the Chicago Park Disconnection law whereby certain parts of rural Cook county lying outside the city of Chicago were detached from the Park District; introduced the "Cocktail Wedding Bill," which was to prevent the issuance of marriage licenses after 6 p. m., thereby stopping the vicious racket of issuing them after midnight and the early hours of the morning when people under the influence of liquor sought them; he introduced non-high school legislation and secured its passage which made possible the payment of delinquent tuition due organized high school districts in the county; voted for an increase in the state distributive fund which goes to the support of the elementary schools and in many other constructive ways showed his interest in and worth to the voters of his district.

A vote for him is a reward of faithful public service.

POLITICAL SHORTS

Republican Camp

George Oscar Lehr, Republican candidate for Auditor of Public Accounts, has an excellent record as a business man to qualify him for this important office. He has served on the boards of directors of several large business organizations, and is now serving as president of the Western Engineering company. He is also a member and an organizer of men's civic and business clubs throughout the state.

Mr. Lehr also boasts an active and noteworthy record as a member of the Republican party. He is a duly elected member of the Republican Cook county central committee. He has been active in the formation of the Young Republican organization of Illinois and is at present a member of the executive committee of this group.

He is 37 years of age of German parentage and lives in Chicago.

James C. Moreland, one of the leading Republican candidates for congress in the 7th district, has begun the distribution of 330,000 marked sample ballots on the northwest side. The district, representing about one-eighth of the state's population, is one of the largest in the nation, having a population close to 900,000.

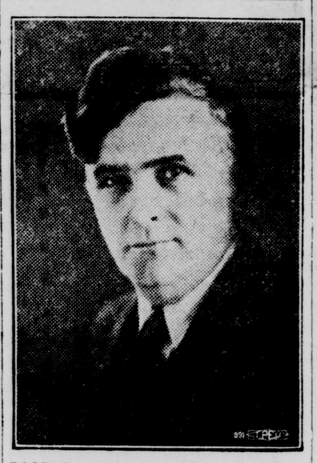

Moreland, who is also Republican committeeman of the 41st ward, is supported by the Brooks organizations in the district and has been endorsed by the Illinois Republican Citizens' organization.

Albert F. Volz, candidate for Committeeman in Wheeling township, has been active for others in every campaign of recent years. Probably no other man in the suburban district is as well informed politically as is Mr. Volz. This is the first time since he was in the legislature some 20 years ago, that he has been a candidate for an office. His headquarters has been the central Republican headquarters for six townships.

Ralph Church, candidate for congress in the 11th district, has taken his job very seriously and has the endorsement of maiy prominent peaoplea of the north shorea.

JAMES C. MORELAND of Chicago is a candidate for the republican nomination for congressman from the 7th district. He has been selected by the Illinois citizens republican organization as being a man who will be the strongest possible candidate after the nomination. He is receiving support from all the Brooks organizations in the district. Actively engaged in politics since 1930 when he won the republican nomination which he is again seeking, Moreland has always given his democratic opponents a stiff fight.

For the first time in sixteen years our own state of Illinois has a 'Favorite Son" candidate for the Presidency of the United States. He is a forthright, vigorous, two-fisted fighting candidate—Colonel Frank Knox of Chicago—a former Rough Rider under Theodore Roosevelt, a front-line veteran in two wars—a soldier who won his rank under fire—a citizen and an editor who has fought for good government, honest government, for thirty-five years.

His name appears on the primary ballot. He deserves your vote not only because he is "a favorite" son of Illinois, but because he has the qualifications for the highest office in the land. Illinois may well be proud of Colonel Knox. He is a campaigner who can bring victory to the Republican national ticket. Illinois and the nation would be proud of him as President.

Colonel Knox deserves the support of all of us.

Bernice T. Van der Vries, present member of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Illinois is an outstanding candidate in the list of aspirants for the two nominations of the Republican Party in the 7th Senatorial District.

She is the only Republican candidate in the northern end of a very large district which comprises the country towns in Cook county. She has travelled extensively to acquaint herself with the needs of the whole district and has been ever watchful of all legislation affecting these 95 towns, being a strong advocate of "Home Rule." This section most certainly should endeavor to retain a representative in the General Assembly by her reelection.

Democratic Camp

George C. Olcese, candidate for Democratic committeeman of Wheeling township during the closing days of the campaign is emphasizing the six planks of his platform, which are:

(1) I have not and will not promise any man a job—That rests and will rest with the State and County central committees. I will, however intercede with these committees for any man whom the Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization deems worthy and qualified.

(2) I will not make a promise that I can not or do not intend to keep, for the purpose of hoodwinking any one to vote for me.

(3) I pledge myself that my official position will not be used for my own advancement or my families to the detriment of the voters who elected me—that neither I nor my family will take all the good jobs so that the deserving may have none or a few menial ones.

(4) I promise that there will never, with my consent, be two or three people, in one family earning a livelihood, through political manipulations while others have none or are forced to work on the WPA for $55.00 per month.

(5) I promise that I will use my influence and energy, to undo the wrong my opponent perpetrated on the citizens of Arlington Heights in his recommendation and appointment of postmistress.

(6) I will support with all my ability the will of the people, in their choice of Democratic Candidates, as expressed in the primary and pledge my honor that I will not trade one candidate to secure my own election.

Starting out in life as an orphan, Herman N. Bundesen, Democratic candidate for governor at the primaries, next Tuesday, now at the age of 53 years is making a bid for the highest public office within the power of the voters of the state to give.

Mr. Bundesen was born in Germany, but came to this country with his parents when a small child. He worked his way through Northwestern University, graduating from the medical school in 1909. He early became identified with public health work in the City of Chicago and rapidly established himself as an outstanding leader in this field. His executive ability and keen understanding of public problems have made him the choice of Cook county party leaders for the governorship.

His friends say that he is the "Democrat needed to win with Roosevelt in November."

State Treasurer John Stelle, candidate for nomination as lieutenant-governor, said:

"We are going to win handily downstate. I am firmly convinced of that after three weeks of travel. We have had remarkably fine crowds at all of our meetings, and the warmth with which Bundesen is received everywhere is indicative of the downstate popularity he established through his splendid work as a public health administrator, and as a regular radio broadcaster over a period of many years."

A candidate for township committeeman who attends all of the meetings held in his behalf has few evenings to himself. This is especially true in Wheeling township where the several precincts attempt to out-due each other in interest and attractions. Among these are the Horner-Byrd workers in precinct 2, where a group of 114 attended the meetings held at the home of Wm. Weber, 810 N. Pine avenue and 135 attended a meeting at the home of P. Mayer, 1210 N. Dunton avenue. Of course Mr. Byrd was the guest of honor in both instances. Mr. Walkowiack also spoke at the latter place.

More than 225 Horner-Byrd Democrats were in attendance on Sunday night, April 5, at a precinct meeting for Precinct number 2, held at Buffalo Grove, by Joseph Hinsberger, its regularily elected Precinct Committeeman.

Mr. Hinsberger, as presiding officer, introduced as speakers for the occasion, Thomas Lynch, Precinct Captain, of New Trier township, and Homer J. Byrd, the Horner for Governor Organization's candidate for Township Committeeman of Wheeling Township. Each of the speakers delivered a very interesting and convincing address, which was well received and heartily applauded by a capacity audience. On adjournment of the meeting, at 11 o'clock p. m., refreshments were served.

The Horner for Governor club held its regular weekly meeting Monday night, April 6, at its headquarters, 109 E. Davis street. At the invitation of the club, the Honorable Lloyd C. Whitman, of Chicago, a law partner of the Governor previous to the latter's elevation to the Probate bench, was present and addressed the meeting. Mr. Whitman does not, nor does any member of his family, hold any elective or appointive office. His address disclosed his knowledge of and confidence in the honesty, integrity and capacity of Governor Horner and carried conviction to the minds of all fortunate enough to hear him. Though no public announcement was made that a speaker would be present, only standing room was available.

G.O.P. Mass Meeting Draws Big Crowd Tuesday Night

The old republican elephant came out of his temporary seclusion at the Arlington Theatre Tuesday evening and trumpeted his defiance to the world at large and particularly to the Democratic party.

The occasion was an old time Republican mass meeting sponsored by Al. Volz, Republican candidate for township committeeman from Wheeling township. Republicans from all the neighboring townships were invited and they came in scores.

The Arlington Theatre was packed to the doors and then some, long before the arrival of the speakers.

The huge crowd was entertained with music and movies, while waiting the arrival of the speakers. Features of the musical entertainment were the three boys "The Elk Grove Hayshakers," and the 9th district Republican band.

Weiss is Chairman

With the introduction of Walter Weiss of Mt. Prospect as chairman of the meeting the political part of the evening got under way. First on the program was Arthur Bidwill, candidate for state auditor, the man who lost his state senate seat in favor of Baumrucker on contested ballots. Bidwill spoke briefly and to the point. He told of the big crowds that had greeted the Republican candidates all over the state, ripped into the excessive legal and receivership fees being paid in cases of closed state banks and promised reform in that important office if elected.

Next came Harry S. Dichtburne, candidate for state's attorney of Cook county, who has served under two administrations as an assistant state's attorney and has won high praise from law enforcing agencies for his good work.

Warns Ballot Thieves

Dichtburne won the crowd by his dry humor and warned the ballot box thieves of Cook county that if he were nominated next Tuesday and they tried any vote stealing on him in the November election they had better steal enough or he'd put them all in jail if he were elected.

Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, member of the house of representatives was the next speaker and she spoke forcefully and intelligently on legislation at Springfield. She told of the fight against the rise in sales tax made by herself and representative Frank Foster of this district and warned that there were rumors afloat at the capital of a raise to four cents. She told of the $7,000,000 owed by the state to the distributive school fund, gave an intelligent talk on the question of relief and satisfied her hearers that the 7th district is well represented by Frank E. Foster and herself at Springfield, both of whom are candidates for re-election.

Praises Wm. Busse

Dr. Brust, candidate for coroner of Cook county and M. M. Shea, candidate for clerk of the Superior court were introduced and spoke briefly.

Gen. John V. Clenin, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, told the audience that we had a heritage handed down to us by our forefathers and that it was up to us to preserve that heritage which was our constitutional form of government, which is threatened at this time by a wave of socialistic doctrines which are leading us up a lot of blind alleys and away from the government set up and fought for by our forefathers.

Gen. Clenin paid high tribute to Wm. Busse, candidate for Recorder and said he had worked in the county building and knew that Mr. Busse was thoroughly acquainted with the operation of every department of the county.

Predicts to G. O. P. Victory

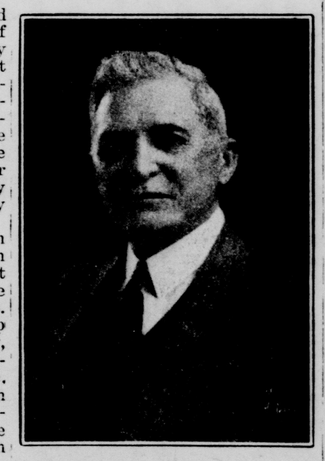

And then with a rollicking "how do you do, Mr. Busse, how do you do" song by the Elk Grove "Hay Shakers" the final speaker of the evening was presented, Wm. (Bill) Busse, long time member of the county board from the country towns and war horse of the Republican party and a candidate for County Recorder.

Mr. Busse's talk was not a political speech, but rather a talk with his friends and neighbors from the surrounding countryside. He thanked the Republican voters and especially the women for their loyal support in the past and particularly during the last two campaigns when the country towns elected the only Republican to be elected in Cook county.

KNOX LOGICAL CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT, SAYS BUSSE

With such an active state and county campaign, the majority of the voters will not realize until they go to the polls next Tuesday that they have the opportunity to express their preference for presidential candidates—that is the Republicans have that chance. Of the four names that appear upon the Republican ballot, Commissioner Wm. Busse in his address Tuesday evening, had the following to say of Frank Knox:

"I consider it a privilege and an honor to appear on this program tonight and say a few words about our Native Son of Illinois. These are trying and turbulent times. The nation is looking for leadership of outstanding ability, integrity, courage and devotion to the American people. We are face to face, not with partisan politics, but with the problem of perpetuating American ideals and institutions. True greatness is synonymous with humbleness. The man who emerges the victor from the struggles and hardships of life is a qualified leader. Col. Frank Knox has made his own way in the world since he was eleven years of age. Forced to give up his studies and fight for his existence because of the great economic disaster of the early nineties, he succeeded in keeping his head up, and emerged with hope of self betterment and higher education. Through hard work and careful management he saved enough money to go back to school and complete his college education. He served in Col. Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders in the Spanish-American war, and again in the late World war. He served in action with an admirable record. In the business world he has risen from the bottom to the position of publisher of one of the greatest newspapers in the world—The Chicago Daily News. Frank Knox is true blue and has remained true to his trust. Illinois presents in the person of Frank Knox, a true American, a leader of men, a thoroughly practical and efficient executive, whose patriotism, ability, human understanding and integrity, are part of his life of service to his fellowmen and to his country. Frank Knox is Illinois' own candidate on the Republican ticket. Let us support him and help to elevate him to a position of public trust.—The Presidency of the United States of America."

WILLIAM BUSSE of Mount Prospect is one of the oldest and most highly respected republicans in politics in Cook county. He began his political career in 1904 and since that time has consistently devoted himself in the interest of the public welfare. He is a County Commissioner from the country towns. Mr. Busse is one republican who is not worried about the outcome of the election Tuesday as all republican groups are giving him their unqualified support. He will be nominated for recorder of deeds of Cook county.

G. O. P. RACE BETWEEN TWO CANDIDATES

Small and Brooks in Struggle for the Illinois Party Leadership.

A fighting G. O. P. striving to win back the favor of the citizenry of the county, state and nation, is staging a free for all fight for the gubernatorial nomination with eight candidates in the field. The real struggle, however, has simmered down to a last minute whirlwind finish between young, fiery and aggressive C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago and Len Small of Kankakee, twice governor of the state of Illinois and a veteran in the busness of political campaigning.

Brooks is 38, a world war veteran, a practicing lawyer and former assistant state's attorney of Cook county. He also teaches law at Northwestern University. In 1932 he was republican candidate for state treasurer, and in 1934 republican candidate for congressman at large. Although defeated twice, he has bounced out in front again fighting harder than ever. A forceful and eloquent public speaker, he has been going up and down the state lambasting the new deal and all its works.

Len Small, past his 70th year, is said by observers to be winning powerful support downstate. He has had a long career in state politics, being elected first as state treasurer and then two successive times as governor. Small originally won his popularity in the early twenties when he sponsored the hard road system for the state of Illinois. He is making his appeal for support in this campaign to the farmers and the wage earners. Small is opposed to the sales tax and bases his campaign primarily on a pledge to repeal it if elected Governor.

CHAUNCEY W. REED, after a two year term in Washington as Congressman from the 11th district is back home conducting his campaign for renomination at the Republican primaries next Tuesday. He frankly says that his work in Congress is an open record, he voted for those measures that he thought would benefit his constituents and the nation as a whole and did not hesitate to oppose measures that he considered to be harmful. Reed is serving on several important committees in the House.

Horner for Governor Organization to Hold Meeting Sunday

On Sunday night, April 12, at 8 o'clock, at State and Rand Tavern, intersection of State and Rand roads, the Horner for Governor organization will hold a meeting for Precinct Number 2, in honor of Governor Horner, Homer J. Byrd and the entire Horner ticket. Speakers will be present and address the meeting on the issues of the campaign. Dancing and refreshments are on the program. Music will be furnished by McGuire's orchestra.

GEORGE OSCAR LEHR has a good record as a business executive in Chicago and is one of the founders of the young republican organization of Illinois. He is seeking the Republican nomination for auditor of public accounts.

CANDIDATES MAKE FINAL BID TO VOTERS

Issue Is Horner versus Cook County Organization.

In the democratic race for governor, Henry Horner, present incumbent, and Herman N. Bundesen, regular organization nominee have been furnishing voters plenty of entertainment. The contest easily surpasses that of 1932 for bitterness when Horner and Igoe were opponents for the nomination. A struggle in the democratic ranks being staged in every precinct in the state, and the outcome Tuesday will have momentuous consequences for the Democratic organization, from top to bottom.

The fun started when the state central committee refused to recommend the Governor for renomination, but instead selected Dr. Herman N. Bundesen of Chicago. The reason given for this choice is that Horner's record had won him such widespread opposition that it would be impossible to carry the state for Roosevelt next November with him on the ticket. The Governor, however, retorted that the real reason was that he had refused to submit to Chicago "bossism" in directing the affairs of the state. He made this the issue in the campaign and immediately set out to carry the war to his opponents.

Both candidates claim the down state vote, although with most of the county downstate Democratic organizations favorable to the Governor he probably has the edge outside of Cook county. The real decision is expected to be made in Cook county where the campaign is now being conducted between the rival candidates.

Many old time democrats say that Horner is doomed to defeat because no candidate for the gubernatorial nomination in the whole history of Illinois Democratic politics has been able to buck the organization and get away with it. But on the other hand there are democrats equally as good who point out that the Governor is not only getting away with it, but he is doing it in the grand manner.

Bernice T. Van der Vries, present member of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of Illinois is an outstanding candidate in the list of aspirants for the two nominations of the Republican Party in the 7th Senatorial District.

She is the only Republican candidate in the northern end of a very large district which comprises the country towns in Cook county. She has travelled extensively to acquaint herself with the needs of the whole district and has been ever watchful of all legislation affecting these 95 towns, being a strong advocate of "Home Rule." This section most certainly should endeavor to retain a representative in the General Assembly by her reelection.

Democratic Camp

George C. Olcese, candidate for Democratic committeeman of Wheeling township during the closing days of the campaign is emphasizing the six planks of his platform, which are:

(1) I have not and will not promise any man a job—That rests and will rest with the State and County central committees. I will, however intercede with these committees for any man whom the Wheeling Township Regular Democratic Organization deems worthy and qualified.

(2) I will not make a promise that I can not or do not intend to keep, for the purpose of hoodwinking any one to vote for me.

(3) I pledge myself that my official position will not be used for my own advancement or my families to the detriment of the voters who elected me—that neither I nor my family will take all the good jobs so that the deserving may have none or a few menial ones.

(4) I promise that there will never, with my consent, be two or three people, in one family earning a livelihood, through political manipulations while others have none or are forced to work on the WPA for $55.00 per month.

(5) I promise that I will use my influence and energy, to undo the wrong my opponent perpetrated on the citizens of Arlington Heights in his recommendation and appointment of postmistress.

(6) I will support with all my ability the will of the people, in their choice of Democratic Candidates, as expressed in the primary and pledge my honor that I will not trade one candidate to secure my own election.

Starting out in life as an orphan, Herman N. Bundesen, Democratic candidate for governor at the primaries, next Tuesday, now at the age of 53 years is making a bid for the highest public office within the power of the voters of the state to give.

Mr. Bundesen was born in Germany, but came to this country with his parents when a small child. He worked his way through Northwestern University, graduating from the medical school in 1909. He early became identified with public health work in the City of Chicago and rapidly established himself as an outstanding leader in this field. His executive ability and keen understanding of public problems have made him the choice of Cook county party leaders for the governorship.

His friends say that he is the "Democrat needed to win with Roosevelt in November."

State Treasurer John Stelle, candidate for nomination as lieutenant-governor, said:

"We are going to win handily downstate. I am firmly convinced of that after three weeks of travel. We have had remarkably fine crowds at all of our meetings, and the warmth with which Bundesen is received everywhere is indicative of the downstate popularity he established through his splendid work as a public health administrator, and as a regular radio broadcaster over a period of many years."

A candidate for township committeeman who attends all of the meetings held in his behalf has few evenings to himself. This is especially true in Wheeling township where the several precincts attempt to out-due each other in interest and attractions. Among these are the Horner-Byrd workers in precinct 2. where a group of 114 attended the meetings held at the home of Wm. Weber, 810 N. Pine avenue and 135 attended a meeting at the home of P. Mayer, 1210 N. Dunton avenue. Of course Mr. Byrd was the guest of honor in both instances. Mr. Walkowiack also spoke at the latter place.

More than 225 Horner-Byrd Democrats were in attendance on Sunday night, April 5, at a precinct meeting for Precinct number 2, held at Buffalo Grove, by Joseph Hinsberger, its regularily elected Precinct Committeeman.

Mr. Hinsberger, as presiding officer, introduced as speakers for the occasion, Thomas Lynch, Precinct Captain, of New Trier township, and Homer J. Byrd, the Horner for Governor Organization's candidate for Township Committeeman of Wheeling Township. Each of the speakers delivered a very interesting and convincing address, which was well received and heartily applauded by a capacity audience. On adjournment of the meeting, at 11 o'clock p. m., refreshments were served.

The Horner for Governor club held its regular weekly meeting Monday night, April 6, at its headquarters, 109 E. Davis street. At the invitation of the club, the Honorable Lloyd C. Whitman, of Chicago, a law partner of the Governor previous to the latter's elevation to the Probate bench, was present and addressed the meeting. Mr. Whitman does not, nor does any member of his family, hold any elective or appointive office. His address disclosed his knowledge of and confidence in the honesty, integrity and capacity of Governor Horner and carried conviction to the minds of all fortunate enough to hear him. Though no public announcement was made that a speaker would be present, only standing room was available.

G.O.P. Mass Meeting Draws Big Crowd Tuesday Night

The old republican elephant came out of his temporary seclusion at the Arlington Theatre Tuesday evening and trumpeted his defiance to the world at large and particularly to the Democratic party.

The occasion was an old time Republican mass meeting sponsored by Al. Volz, Republican candidate for township committeeman from Wheeling township. Republicans from all the neighboring townships were invited and they came in scores.

The Arlington Theatre was packed to the doors and then some, long before the arrival of the speakers.

The huge crowd was entertained with music and movies, while waiting the arrival of the speakers. Features of the musical entertainment were the three boys "The Elk Grove Hayshakers," and the 9th district Republican band.

Weiss is Chairman

With the introduction of Walter Weiss of Mt. Prospect as chairman of the meeting the political part of the evening got under way. First on the program was Arthur Bidwill, candidate for state auditor, the man who lost his state senate seat in favor of Baumrucker on contested ballots. Bidwill spoke briefly and to the point. He told of the big crowds that had greeted the Republican candidates all over the state, ripped into the excessive legal and receivership fees being paid in cases of closed state banks and promised reform in that important office if elected.

Next came Harry S. Dichtburne, candidate for state's attorney of Cook county, who has served under two administrations as an assistant state's attorney and has won high praise from law enforcing agencies for his good work.

Warns Ballot Thieves

Dichtburne won the crowd by his dry humor and warned the ballot box thieves of Cook county that if he were nominated next Tuesday and they tried any vote stealing on him in the November election they had better steal enough or he'd put them all in jail if he were elected.

Mrs. Bernice T. Van der Vries, member of the house of representatives was the next speaker and she spoke forcefully and intelligently on legislation at Springfield. She told of the fight against the rise in sales tax made by herself and representative Frank Foster of this district and warned that there were rumors afloat at the capital of a raise to four cents. She told of the $7,000,000 owed by the state to the distributive school fund, gave an intelligent talk on the question of relief and satisfied her hearers that the 7th district is well represented by Frank E. Foster and herself at Springfield, both of whom are candidates for re-election.

Praises Wm. Busse

Dr. Brust, candidate for coroner of Cook county and M. M. Shea, candidate for clerk of the Superior court were introduced and spoke briefly.

Gen. John V. Clenin, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, told the audience that we had a heritage handed down to us by our forefathers and that it was up to us to preserve that heritage which was our constitutional form of government, which is threatened at this time by a wave of socialistic doctrines which are leading us up a lot of blind alleys and away from the government set up and fought for by our forefathers.

Gen. Clenin paid high tribute to Wm. Busse, candidate for Recorder and said he had worked in the county building and knew that Mr. Busse was thoroughly acquainted with the operation of every department of the county.

Predicts to G. O. P. Victory

And then with a rollicking "how do you do, Mr. Busse, how do you do" song by the Elk Grove "Hay Shakers" the final speaker of the evening was presented, Wm. (Bill) Busse, long time member of the county board from the country towns and war horse of the Republican party and a candidate for County Recorder.

Mr. Busse's talk was not a political speech, but rather a talk with his friends and neighbors from the surrounding countryside. He thanked the Republican voters and especially the women for their loyal support in the past and particularly during the last two campaigns when the country towns elected the only Republican to be elected in Cook county.

KNOX LOGICAL CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT, SAYS BUSSE

With such an active state and county campaign, the majority of the voters will not realize until they go to the polls next Tuesday that they have the opportunity to express their preference for presidential candidates—that is the Republicans have that chance. Of the four names that appear upon the Republican ballot, Commissioner Wm. Busse in his address Tuesday evening, had the following to say of Frank Knox:

"I consider it a privilege and an honor to appear on this program tonight and say a few words about our Native Son of Illinois. These are trying and turbulent times. The nation is looking for leadership of outstanding ability, integrity, courage and devotion to the American people. We are face to face, not with partisan politics, but with the problem of perpetuating American ideals and institutions. True greatness is synonymous with humbleness. The man who emerges the victor from the struggles and hardships of life is a qualified leader. Col. Frank Knox has made his own way in the world since he was eleven years of age. Forced to give up his studies and fight for his existence because of the great economic disaster of the early nineties, he succeeded in keeping his head up, and emerged with hope of self betterment and higher education. Through hard work and careful management he saved enough money to go back to school and complete his college education. He served in Col. Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders in the Spanish-American war, and again in the late World war. He served in action with an admirable record. In the business world he has risen from the bottom to the position of publisher of one of the greatest newspapers in the world--The Chicago Daily News. Frank Knox is true blue and has remained true to his trust. Illinois presents in the person of Frank Knox, a true American, a leader of men, a thoroughly practical and efficient executive, whose patriotism, abiilty, human understanding and integrity, are part of his life of service to his fellowmen and to his country. Frank Knox is Illinois' own candidate on the Republican ticket. Let us support him and help to elevate him to a position of public trust.—The Presidency of the United States of America."

WILLIAM BUSSE of Mount Prospect is one of the oldest and most highly respected republicans in politics in Cook county. He began his political career in 1904 and since that time has consistently devoted himself in the interest of the public welfare. He is a County Commissioner from the country towns. Mr. Busse is one republican who is not worried about the outcome of the election Tuesday as all republican groups are giving him their unqualified support. He will be nominated for recorder of deeds of Cook county.

G. O. P. RACE BETWEEN TWO CANDIDATES

Small and Brooks in Struggle for the Illinois Party Leadership.

A fighting G. O. P. striving to win back the favor of the citizenry of the county, state and nation, is staging a free for all fight for the gubernatorial nomination with eight candidates in the field. The real struggle, however, has simmered down to a last minute whirlwind finish between young, fiery and aggressive C. Wayland Brooks of Chicago and Len Small of Kankakee, twice governor of the state of Illinois and a veteran in the busness of political campaigning.

Brooks is 38, a world war veteran, a practicing lawyer and former assistant state's attorney of Cook county. He also teaches law at Northwestern University. In 1932 he was republican candidate for state treasurer, and in 1934 republican candidate for congressman at large. Although defeated twice, he has bounced out in front again fighting harder than ever. A forceful and eloquent public speaker, he has been going up and down the state lambasting the new deal and all its works.

Len Small, past his 70th year, is said by observers to be winning powerful support downstate. He has had a long career in state politics, being elected first as state treasurer and then two successive times as governor. Small originally won his popularity in the early twenties when he sponsored the hard road system for the state of Illinois. He is making his appeal for support in this campaign to the farmers and the wage earners. Small is opposed to the sales tax and bases his campaign primarily on a pledge to repeal it if elected Governor.

CHAUNCEY W. REED, after a two year term in Washington as Congressman from the 11th district is back home conducting his campaign for renomination at the Republican primaries next Tuesday. He frankly says that his work in Congress is an open record, he voted for those measures that he thought would benefit his constituents and the nation as a whole and did not hesitate to oppose measures that he considered to be harmful. Reed is serving on several important committees in the House.

INSURE A ROOSEVELT VICTORY IN NOVEMBER

BUNDESEN MEANS REAL HELP FOR ROOSEVELT!

Study the cartoon ana the news clipping alongside. The forces of greed and special privilege are afraid of Bundesen as a candidate because they're afraid of Roosevelt. They know Bundesen will help Roosevelt get the twenty-nine electoral votes of Illinois.

(An authentic clipping from an anti-Roosevelt newspaper)

'Big Business' Pledged to Oppose Roosevelt

New York, Dec. 6.—(UP)—More than 1,500 of the wealthiest and most powerful men of the country left a four-day convention today pledged to use politics, propaganda and personal influence to defeat President Roosevelt in next year's elections.

The industrialists declared war without quarter on every deviation in government from "the American system," and asserted an intention to enlist their stockholders, employes and the general public.

The consensus of the industrialists carrying the anti-Roosevelt platform to their home communities today was expressed by S. Wells Utley, president of the Detroit Steel Castings Company and last major speaker of the convention.

"Industry must mobilize all its forces for action through one of the political parties," he said, then added that the Republican party must be kept from becoming "liberal, meaning radical," so industry may have a refuge.

Here's Proof

that the anti-Roosevelt forces will use every means to destroy Roosevelt—even try to bore from within the Democratic ranks! Stop them April 14 by supporting the regular Democratic candidates

THE anti-Roosevelt forces are fighting relentlessly to control the nomination of the Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois.

We have the peculiar spectacle of Republicans and Republican spokesmen in Illinois trying to tell Democratic voters whom to support for the Democratic nomination. Why?

The answer is—Herman N. Bundesen! The anti-Roosevelt forces know that Bundesen will help Roosevelt win.

So they're trying to becloud your mind with false issues such as "bossism" . . . knowing full well that if they can defeat Bundesen on primary day, practically any Republican will have easy sailing in November. The present Governor, with his prison and institutional scandals, his veto of the old age pensions and his blundering mismanagement is the man the anti-Roosevelt people know they can beat.

Your elected Democratic State Central Committeemen recommend Bundesen!

All of the responsible and recognized leaders of the Democratic party of Illinois—the men who are on the firing line in behalf of Roosevelt and complete Democratic success in November—joined in recommending Bundesen for Governor.

These men have nothing against the present Governor as an individual. If they had thought he could win in November—and help Roosevelt win—they would have given him their endorsement.

But they had to face facts. They could not sacrifice the good of the party in order to spare one individual's feelings. Urged by county chairmen, county officials, judges, state senators and representatives, these elected Committeemen—25 of them from the State's 25 congressional districts—determined that Herman N. Bundesen was the best qualified man in the party to make a winning fight for the governorship.

Bundesen polled an all-time record of 1,087,000 votes in a county election!

See to it that your vote is cast for the good of the State and the Nation on primary day. Don't be influenced by maudlin sentiment or baseless sectional prejudice.

Herman N. Bundesen, a master executive and proved vote-getter, can help keep Illinois in the Democratic column.

The people know him as a man of action—Rooseveltian—an executive who gets things done!

Democrats! Think of November! Bundesen is the man the party can win with in Illinois. His whole career is distinguished by successful service in the interest of his fellow citizens. He understands human problems.

Bundesen has nothing to live down—nothing to apologize for or that needs explanation. He is making an American campaign that appeals to Americans.

A vote for him is a vote for Roosevelt and for a united, progressive, prosperous Illinois. Don't let the anti-Roosevelt schemers sway you from nominating Bundesen.

BUNDESEN ADVOCATES FOR ILLINOIS:

A farm to market road system throughout the State ★ A lower sales tax without return to a State property tax ★ Betterment and extension of the State's public school system ★ Better and more humane management of State institutions ★ Conservation of public health and a lower death rate for Illinois ★ Intelligent cooperation with President Roosevelt's programs.

INSURE A ROOSEVELT VICTORY IN NOVEMBER

BUNDESEN MEANS REAL HELP FOR ROOSEVELT!

Study the cartoon ana the news clipping alongside. The forces of greed and special privilege are afraid of Bundesen as a candidate because they're afraid of Roosevelt. They know Bundesen will help Roosevelt get the twenty-nine electoral votes of Illinois.

(An authentic clipping from an anti-Roosevelt newspaper)

'Big Business' Pledged to Oppose Roosevelt

New York, Dec. 6.—(UP)—More than 1,500 of the wealthiest and most powerful men of the country left a four-day convention today pledged to use politics, propaganda and personal influence to defeat President Roosevelt in next year's elections.

The industrialists declared war without quarter on every deviation in government from "the American system," and asserted an intention to enlist their stockholders, employes and the general public.

The consensus of the industrialists carrying the anti-Roosevelt platform to their home communities today was expressed by S. Wells Utley, president of the Detroit Steel Castings Company and last major speaker of the convention.

"Industry must mobilize all its forces for action through one of the political parties," he said, then added that the Republican party must be kept from becoming "liberal, meaning radical," so industry may have a refuge.

Here's Proof

that the anti-Roosevelt forces will use every means to destroy Roosevelt—even try to bore from within the Democratic ranks! Stop them April 14 by supporting the regular Democratic candidates

THE anti-Roosevelt forces are fighting relentlessly to control the nomination of the Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois.

We have the peculiar spectacle of Republicans and Republican spokesmen in Illinois trying to tell Democratic voters whom to support for the Democratic nomination. Why?

The answer is—Herman N. Bundesen! The anti-Roosevelt forces know that Bundesen will help Roosevelt win.

So they're trying to becloud your mind with false issues such as "bossism" . . . knowing full well that if they can defeat Bundesen on primary day, practically any Republican will have easy sailing in November. The present Governor, with his prison and institutional scandals, his veto of the old age pensions and his blundering mismanagement is the man the anti-Roosevelt people know they can beat.

Your elected Democratic State Central Committeemen recommend Bundesen!

All of the responsible and recognized leaders of the Democratic party of Illinois—the men who are on the firing line in behalf of Roosevelt and complete Democratic success in November—joined in recommending Bundesen for Governor.

These men have nothing against the present Governor as an individual. If they had thought he could win in November—and help Roosevelt win—they would have given him their endorsement.

But they had to face facts. They could not sacrifice the good of the party in order to spare one individual's feelings. Urged by county chairmen, county officials, judges, state senators and representatives, these elected Committeemen—25 of them from the State's 25 congressional districts—determined that Herman N. Bundesen was the best qualified man in the party to make a winning fight for the governorship.

Bundesen polled an all-time record of 1,087,000 votes in a county election!

See to it that your vote is cast for the good of the State and the Nation on primary day. Don't be influenced by maudlin sentiment or baseless sectional prejudice.

Herman N. Bundesen, a master executive and proved vote-getter, can help keep Illinois in the Democratic column.

The people know him as a man of action—Rooseveltian—an executive who gets things done!

Democrats! Think of November! Bundesen is the man the party can win with in Illinois. His whole career is distinguished by successful service in the interest of his fellow citizens. He understands human problems.

Bundesen has nothing to live down—nothing to apologize for or that needs explanation. He is making an American campaign that appeals to Americans.

A vote for him is a vote for Roosevelt and for a united, progressive, prosperous Illinois. Don't let the anti-Roosevelt schemers sway you from nominating Bundesen.

BUNDESEN ADVOCATES FOR ILLINOIS:

A farm to market road system throughout the State ★ A lower sales tax without return to a State property tax ☆ Betterment and extension of the State's public school system ★ Better and more humane management of State institutions ★ Conservation of public health and a lower death rate for Illinois ★ Intelligent cooperation with President Roosevelt's programs.

MT. PROSPECT WATER SAFE ANALYSIS SHOWS

Mt. Prospect Board held ite regular monthly meeting at the Village hall Tuesday evening and after the customary reports, the meeting was thrown open for new business and discussion.

A representative of the Greenlee Construction Co., who had previously inspected our water tower advised that it was leaking in two places and needed painting. It was decided that the members of the Board make their own inspection and determine if it is necessary to repair and repaint the tower at this time.

Propose New Street Light Fixtures

Also present at the meeting was a representative of the Westinghouse Electric Co., who quoted some facts and figures in regard to replacing the broken street lighting fixtures. This matter also was held over pending a thorough examination of just what is needed.

A report on the result of analyses of two specimens of water being pumped into our distribution system—a report from the Sanitary Engineering Laboratories of the State Department of Health, was read, in which it was stated that our water is entirely safe to drink.

The Board authorized the street committee to place gravel on the unpaved streets in the Village and make these streets passable for both the cars of residents and the fire truck in case of emergency. At this time of year, when the frost is coming out of the ground, some of these unpaved streets get into pretty bad shape.

The Board also voted to continue the practice of allowing a reduction in business license fees to those merchants who pay their fees before Aug. 1, of this year for the fiscal year of May 1. The following bills were voted to be paid:

Mixed Choir Will Present Easter Program

On Sunday, April 19. the St. Paul's Mixed choir will present the Easter cantata, "Our King Victorious."

This is the first musical program of its kind to be presented in Mt. Prospect, and offers something truly beautiful to lovers of good choral music.

The cantata depicts, in song, the Passion of Christ; it is based on the Medieval Liturgy and contains some of the most beautiful sacred hymns ever written.

The choir has undertaken this program in the interest of its church, with the desire to bring to you a story in song that has a really true meaning and religious significance.

A program of this sort should be of interest to everyone in the community and all who can, are urged to attend. The program is to be given in St. Paul's church and while there will be a free will offering to help defray expenses, there is to be no admission charge.

De Mille's Enjoying Fields of Blue Bonnetts

Readers will remember that the REVIEW asked Mr. W. E. DeMille, who is motoring to Seattle, Washington, with his family, to drop us a line once in a while. Here is his first letter.

"Have intended writing before this, but we are just as busy seeing things that we never write more than a post card.

"We have been in eleven states since leaving Illinois and so far like Texas the best. That, however, might be different if we were here in July. Just now you see whole fields covered with blue bonnetts. It is a relief after so many miles of swamp and terpentine forests from Savannah to New Orleans.

"In the mountains of Tennessee we found model 'T' Fords wild. We saw one that had to be parked with a wheel against a tree to make it sit still. I hope you will believe me when I tell you that mustard is a Jasmine is a weed. We have actually seen acres of mustard carefully planted and cultivated. What would they do to a man for that in Illinois?

"The thing that has impressed me most throughout the South is the courtesy. I do not refer merely to politeness, but to a genuine desire to be of assistance and a real respect for the privacy of others. This applies not only to those I have been dealing with for cash, but to strangers who have assisted us with information or actual assistance. Almost without exception they will ask permission before even coming close to the trailer to look in a window, even though there is no one in it. You can feel sure that the nearest person will promptly and cheerfully give what assistance you need that he can possibly give. Best regards."

This letter is dated April 2, and is postmarked San Antonio, Texas.

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR CAMPOREE

The Activities committee under the leadership of E. J. Anderson, is planning a council-wide camporee for the spring of this year, met last Sunday afternoon. The Camporee will be held May 22-23 in Des Plaines and it is hoped to secure the Lions Park for the location of the Camporee. The Scouts and Scouters, camping by troops and patrols, will set up camp on Friday afternoon. In the evening a campfire program will be conducted under the leadership of District Commissioner Norton Gilbert, of Mt. Prospect at which time the Council-wide Court of Honor chairman, Chas. Passmore, will preside.

The program Saturday will consist of various camp craft and scoutcraft projects which will be conducted in the manner of the standard camporee plan. A Regional Camporal will be held August 21-2-3, at which time it is hoped that a number of patrols from the Northwest Suburban Council will be able to attend. The Camporee to be held next month will serve as a training project for the Scouts and Scouters in preparation for the Regional Camporal.

On next Thursday, April 16, a special training course will be held in Barrington for Scouters, prospective Scouters and fathers of boys. This course will be directed by Scout Executive Donald E. Kyger, and is open to men of the entire council territory.

This course is entitled "A Bird's Eye View of Scouting" and it is intended to present a general outline of Scouting organization, principles, objectives and program.

The sessions will be held in the Scout Cabin in Barrington starting at 7:45 p. m.

The University of Scouting which is being held at the Maine township high school each Wednesday evening, held a very interesting session this week. The course on boyology which is conducted for all members of the course in the opening period of the evening continued with a very interesting presentation by Chas. S. Stewart, who contrasted the trend of modern times with that of earlier days. He showed how the average boy had much more leisure time and also had much less to do in a physical way than did the boys of former times. He also pointed out the great need of a program such as Scouting to take care of the needs of the boys of the present era. Under the direction of the Morale officer, district commissioner. Norton Gilbert, a pleasant session of music and songs was conducted.

The fourth session of the University of Scouting will be held on Wednesday evening, April 16, and anyone interested is invited and urged to attend even though they have not enrolled in the course.

Ham Follows An Old Tradition for Easter

For some reason a great roast ham, shining with its glazed crust, and made piquant with cloves and fruits is the favored Easter meat. Whatever the origin of the tradition, the choice is a happy one, for ham, properly prepared has a flavor that is superb. And ham is an adaptable meat, too, it may appear in many different guises, each appealing and satisfying. If you plan to serve a whole roast ham on Easter you will want to follow the method suggested here for best results.

Baked Ham

10 pound Ham
4 quarts cold water
2 bay leaves
2 onion slices
12 whole cloves

Wash the ham thoroughly and add rest of the ingredients. Cover with lid and cook slowly 4 hours or until ham is tender when tested with a fork. Remove ham from stock and cool until it can be handled, then remove excess fat and cut off rind. Fit ham, fat side up, in a small roaster. Cover with sugar mixture.

Sugar Mixture

18 whole cloves
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup spiced peach juice

Stick cloves in ham, spread with sugar and add juice. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Cover with lid and bake 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold. If spiced peach juice is not available use water to which 2 tablespoons of vinegar have been added.

Ham Baked in Cream

Have a slice of ham cut 1½ inches thick. Leave the fat edge on the slice. Saute the ham lightly on both sides and season by rubbing in a little brown sugar. Lay the slice in a baking dish and cover with half milk and half cream. Bake in a moderate oven for about 2 hours or until the ham is tender. The sauce will be quite thick when the ham is done. It may be that additional milk and cream will have to be added, but should be cooked down to the proper "sauce" consistency before serving.

Boiled Ham with Spinach

Soak ham in water overnight. Put the ham in a deep pot and cover with cold water. Heat and remove the scum which rises to the surface. Bring to a boil and reduce the heat so that it will boil very slowly. To cook properly will require about 20 minutes to each pound.

A half hour before the boiling will be finished pour off practically all the water and add half a bottle of dry white wine. The white wine, diluted with the water will serve to make the sauce. Slice an onion and brown in butter, add flour to thicken, about 1 tablespoon to 1 cup of liquid, and make a sauce with the wine in which the ham has been boiled. Cook for 10 minutes, remove the onion and add a few mushrooms cut in thin slices. Cook for another 10 minutes. Season with Cayenne pepper and add a glass of cognac. Serve the spinach with the sauce in a separate dish, to be added as the ham is served in slices.

Ham Omelet Chinese Style

½ cup boiled minced onions
½ cup diced cooked ham
3 eggs
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon cream
½ teaspoon salt

Drain the onions thoroughly and combine with the ham, the eggs (slightly beaten), the cream and the seasonings. Fry the mixture in fat, using 2 tablespoons to each cake. Serve with soy bean sauce.

Ham Roll and Hard Cooked Eggs

Mix one pound cured ham, ½ pound ground fresh pork, 2 cups rice flakes, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Form half the mixture into an oblong layer. Arrange 3 hard cooked eggs on the meat, end to end, then cover with remaining meat and pat into a loaf. Bake in a moderate oven for 1¼ hours, basting with a small amount of water as needed. Serve with tomato ketchup.

Ham Stuffing for Bread Loaf

Hollow out a loaf of bread from which the crusts have been removed after cutting a slice lengthwise from the top about 1 inch thick. Butter the loaf all over the outside and fill with the following stuffing.

Ham Stuffing

1 small onion chopped
1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 cup canned cream of tomato soup
3 cups cooked ham chopped
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
3 sprigs parsley minced
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs beaten slightly

Brown the onion and green pepper in bacon drippings. Add creamed tomato soup and chopped cooked ham. Stir in bread crumbs and heat. Then add minced parsley, mustard, pepper and eggs. Stuff the bread loaf and adjust the cover. Bake until the loaf is a golden brown.

Makes Last Appeal to Voters

When the Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township, by action of their membership, presented to the citizens the candidacy of Homer J. Byrd for Township Committeeman, they stated through the local press that they would conduct various meetings in each precinct throughout the Township and present in an honest and clean manner, the reasons why Mr. Byrd should be elected to that position.

We have faithfully performed this duty without the use of dishonest or questionable tactics. We believe that the people are familiar with Mr. Byrd's splendid record as a local official, an educator and county commissioner. The selection of Mr. Byrd to serve our great State in the important position of Superintendent of Registration and Education reflects honor and credit upon him and our Community. It is a recognition of his unusual ability and leadership. Our confidence in his election by a large majority is justified by the spontaneous response of the citizens to his candidacy.

With the release of this article in today's issue of the newspaper, we officially close our campaign and there will be no more AUTHORIZED newspaper articles or statements by pamphlet or otherwise.

We earnestly urge that every citizen entitled to vote in the primary election on Tuesday, April 14, ask for a Democartic Ballot, vote for and elect Homer J. Byrd Township Committeeman on his record of accomplishments. The last name on the right side of the ballot.

Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township.

Byrd Speaks of Own Candidacy

TO THE PEOPLE OF WHEELING TOWNSHIP:

During the primary campaign I have confined my efforts to the candidacy of Governor Henry Horner for renomination. His success at the polls next Tuesday is more important than the candidacy of any township committeeman. However, on April 14, the Democratic Voters of Wheeling township will choose a township committeeman. I am a candidate for that office.

I have lived with you people long enough for you to know the principles upon which I stand. On several occasions you have honored me with public office. These I have always considered a public trust and endeavored at all times to fulfill your expectations. I have consistently worked for the best interests of the people of this township. My time has always been your time for I have been available when needed. If elected I propose to carry on in the same manner.

I believe that clean and honest government is the desire of every citizen of this township. The position of trust which I now hold in the State of Illinois under Governor Horner came, I am sure, as a result of my sincerity of purpose and honest intentions in dealing with the public.

If elected I propose to place at the complete and constant disposal of all the people of Wheeling Township every facility of the office of committeeman that will contribute to your welfare.

Homer J. Byrd.

North Western Offers New Movie of Wisconsin Lake Region

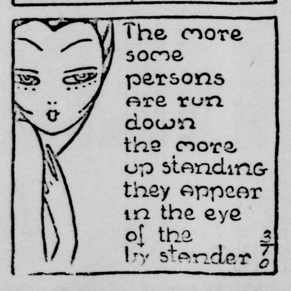

The Chicago and North Western Railway has just completed a three reel moving picture in sound which it is using to show before large groups of women's clubs, schools, parent-teachers organizations, lodges and the like which features the complete Summer vacation activities in the North Woods of Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Minnesota.

This movie, made by Charles T. Chapman of Evanston, an experienced newsreel and commercial photographer, is a camera trip through the lakes and forests of this vacation region. Among other things featured are the reenactment of ancient tribal dances of the Indians in that territory, water sports with their thrilling turns and flourishes, wild life in a playful mood, and interesting shots of resort centers and private lake homes in that territory.

The picture is available in both 35 and 16 millimeter sizes and the Chicago and North Western Railway is booking it in two ways, by loaning the film to groups having their own projector, screen and operator, and to groups requiring a complete "showing" service.

All bookings are being handled through the office of R. Thomson, Passenger Traffic Manager of the road.

Eve's Epigrams

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Good friends, we know it's just like this,
Everything now seems all amiss;
Don't fret or fume, keep on your way,
Just day by day;
Keep a brave heart, knowing somehow
You'll find the strength for hurt and care,
Till skies grow blue, now dark and gray,
Since joy or grief we only bear
Just day by day.

The worries, the fears and defeat do not all heap upon us at once, else we could not march into a new day. The thought would fill us with terror. Yet we go on buoyed up with a hope for better things, tomorrow or next year. The sun will shine and all be well tomorrow.

You may be passing through an endurance test. Keep courage, show your metal. We might learn lessons from things in nature that are not crushed or dismayed by clouds and storm.

When April sun plays hide and seek,
Cool blows a nipping breeze;
Meadow larks where the grass grows green,
Robins sing in the trees;
There's sadness in our homes today,
Where some in grief are bowed,
Winter and grief God takes away,
When hope shines through the cloud.

Who thinks of weather, floods or disaster when the weather we are now passing through is producing a wonderful, an amazing crop of great men, yet candidates for office, who could have believed our state held so many, honest, capable men, eager to serve their country to the highest crest any nation, state our country could reach.

Candidates for governor, candidates for lesser positions, even to village and town officials and most important of all, our high school board. Aside from true greatness, who could have imagined there were so many "promising" men claiming our official positions?

The air is so full of attractive printed letters and autobiographies of candidates; so many winning promises and invitations to banquets, card parties and dances, and such deep interest shown in the danger of harm to you should you fall under the wiles of the wrong candidate. What can one do?

Green wings, yellow wings,
Violet and rose,
Some startling message brings
As each wind blows.

"Voters and peoples"
How can we choose?
Like treetops and steeples,
So high are their views.

Bright gold of daffodils,
Or as violets blue;
Colorful printed slips,
Tell what we should do.

Hail to the warriors,
Hail to the wings
Printed all over,
With startling things.

Tulips and daffodils,
Your colors fade,
These bright election thrills
Grow in the shade.

All are our brothers,
Which shall we choose,
If we vote for the others,
The right one may lose.

If you send more trickey bills,
So intrigueing and gay,
For tulips and daffodils,
I'll vote today!

Word comes from Canada, some public official up there recommends more music should be given to make the people reconciled to the increase in their taxes. Come down here "strike up the band" Cook county needs all the consolation music can afford.

Here we would speak of Palm Sunday, which falls on April 5. Here we are a professed Christian people, or at least believers in God. Whatever it is that has plunged this world of ours into this mad whirlpool of strife, turmoil and trial, all of us who profess to be Christians, are tremendously responsible. We have set our minds and hearts on the things that perish—the things of time.

Is it doubt, and dismal unbelief that have paralyzed all that is worthwhile in our brief stay here? Palm Sunday, what an eventful day, it has ever been when on that day scores of children take their first communion, binding them into the church of Christ of whatever denomination. Whatever your belief or unbelief, who can fail to be impressed by this sacred solemn first step to follow the Master, our great example and our elder brother?

That day when far Jerusalem,
Saw through the gathered throngs of them,
The King of earth and heaven pass,
Borne by earth's humblest beast, an Ass,
Knew, when His pure, majestic soul,
Burst from all mortal bonds control,
Yet in that hour of triumph still,
Obedient to His fathers will;
When loud hosannas round His head,
Echoed and palms His pathway spread;
He passed, where hate and envy nod,
Assent to slay the son of God.

Are we much better here today,
Dazzled by earthly pomp still we
Fail His majestic soul to see,
Refuse His teaching to obey,
We drive Christ from our lives away.

Borne through the streets of Jerusalem on the back of an Ass, and that poor creature has been made to say the following:
The scorn of man I ever meet,
Yet on that day came my glad hour,
When Palms were all about my feet
While loud Hosannas rang to greet
As on my humble back I bore,
The King of earths and heaven's power,
What could I ask of heaven more?

The week following Palm Sunday is termed Holy Week usually kept by services each night and observation of the sacrament of our Lord's Supper Good Friday when new communicants enter for church membership. These forms are impressively beautiful. We hope and pray they are always sincere.

The past week has been one lively procession of social events: Card parties, luncheons, plays, all for some good cause no doubt. The week ahead seems to be well dated for the same class of social events. Indeed all through the Lenten season, there has been no check on entertainments.

There is an old saying "An Early Easter precedes an early spring," not always true. We recall that in 1910, Easter came on March 27. The violets and daisies were in blossom. The fruit trees, pears and plums covered with flowers, the maple trees in full leaf. Inside of a week winter came back. Hard freeze and snow. The leaves froze and fell off the trees, we thought never to come that season, but when June came the new foliage robed the trees and all was well.

This Easter morn be glad,
For all that's true shall live;
All good you ever had,
Or shared, the love you give;
Pure thoughts, kind acts along the way,
Live in some hearts this Easter day.

This Easter morn be glad,
Glad if the grave can hide,
All harmful things and bad,
While love and truth abide,
May truth and love and hope adorn,
And bid you live this Easter morn.

When we think of the crime, the sin and the destructive propaganda that make, even those who try to follow the Master, weak and trembling, we begin to fear there are no honest men in office or seeking office, yet we know God always raises up a man for the hour and He will know our need.

Awake and sing, ye that seem to sleep. "Ye dwellers in the dust." Wonder if that grand old sear of Israel wouldn't thunder an awakening call at some of us groveling in the dust, in the unsatisfying things of earth today?

Often we seem to dwell too much on the death of our Lord, His life of self-sacrifice, of enduring and overcoming, His pure white life, showing us how to live, we all too often forget He said, "I came that ye might have life and have it more abundantly." He said, "I came that ye might know the truth and the truth will make you free."

Think on this in the blessed Easter season. How many of us are living up to our God given privileges? "Dwellers in the dust most of us, chasing, yeah bowing down to mammon "the almighty dollar." At times rare glimpses come to us of life's larger meaning and possibilities. It may be when the grandeur and majesty of the heavens or the beauty of dawn or sunset, stir within us a feeling almost of kinship, yet to these loftier ideals we are often blinded by the pursuit of material things that perish. O, that we might in the true spirit of Easter awaken to the life abundant, our Lord came to bestow.

Awake, ye dwellers in the dust,
Awake and sing;
He lives Who died for you O trust,
Your risen King.

Awake ye dwellers in the dust,
Your powers bring;
The harp unused is dulled by rust,
Strike now each string.

Why do ye grovel in the dust?
All earth can bring
Soon perisheth by moth and rust,
Riches take wing.

Ye dwellers in the dust awake,
Christ bids you live;
He overcame all for your sake,
True life to give.

Awake, ye dwellers in the dust,
Awake and sing;
Rejoice, for life abundant trust,
Your living king.

After Antonio Stradivari's death, one of his sons sold all of his effects for a trifling sum to the Marchese Cozio di Salubem, a nobleman living in the little Piedmontese town and a great admirer of the violin maker. Years later Luigi Fiorini, also an Italian violin maker, who had gained great fame and made a fortune in Germany, bought many of the possessions from an heir of the Marchese. Wishing to pay homge to the city that had given Stradivari to the world, he donated the entire collection to Cremona, and today it forms the basis of the permanent collection.

And ham is an adaptable meat, too, it may appear in many different guises, each appealing and satisfying. Baked Ham

10 pound Ham
4 quarts cold water
2 bay leaves

12 whole cloves

Wash the ham thoroughly and add rest of the ingredients. Cover with lid and cook slowly 4 hours or until ham is tender when tested with a fork. Remove ham from stock and cool until it can be handled, then remove excess fat and cut off rind. Fit ham, fat side up, in a small roaster. Cover with sugar mixture.

Sugar Mixture

18 whole cloves
1 cup dark brown sugar
1 cup spiced peach juice

Stick cloves in ham, spread with sugar and add juice. Bake 20 minutes in a hot oven. Cover with lid and bake 15 minutes. Serve hot or cold. If spiced peach juice is not available use water to which 2 tablespoons of vinegar have been added.

Ham Baked in Cream

Have a slice of ham cut 1½ inches thick. Leave the fat edge on the slice. Saute the ham lightly on both sides and season by rubbing in a little brown sugar. Lay the slice in a baking dish and cover with half milk and half cream. Bake in a moderate oven for about 2 hours or until the ham is tender. The sauce will be quite thick when the ham is done. It may be that additional milk and cream will have to be added, but should be cooked down to the proper "sauce" consistency before serving.

Boiled Ham with Spinach

Soak ham in water overnight. Put the ham in a deep pot and cover with cold water. Heat and remove the scum which rises to the surface. Bring to a boil and reduce the heat so that it will boil very slowly. To cook properly will require about 20 minutes to each pound.

A half hour before the boiling will be finished pour off practically all the water and add half a bottle of dry white wine. The white wine, diluted with the water will serve to make the sauce. Slice an onion and brown in butter, add flour to thicken, about 1 tablespoon to 1 cup of liquid, and make a sauce with the wine in which the ham has been boiled. Cook for 10 minutes, remove the onion and add a few mushrooms cut in thin slices. Cook for another 10 minutes. Season with Cayenne pepper and add a glass of cognac. Serve the spinach with the sauce in a separate dish, to be added as the ham is served in slices.

Ham Omelet Chinese Style

½ cup boiled minced onions
½ cup diced cooked ham
3 eggs
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon cream
½ teaspoon salt

Drain the onions thoroughly and combine with the ham, the eggs (slightly beaten), the cream and the seasonings. Fry the mixture in fat, using 2 tablespoons to each cake. Serve with soy bean sauce.

Ham Roll and Hard Cooked Eggs

Mix one pound cured ham, ½ pound ground fresh pork, 2 cups rice flakes, 1 egg, ¾ cup milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Form half the mixture into an oblong layer. Arrange 3 hard cooked eggs on the meat, end to end, then cover with remaining meat and pat into a loaf. Bake in a moderate oven for 1¼ hours, basting with a small amount of water as needed. Serve with tomato ketchup.

Ham Stuffing for Bread Loaf

Hollow out a loaf of bread from which the crusts have been removed after cutting a slice lengthwise from the top about 1 inch thick. Butter the loaf all over the outside and fill with the following stuffing.

Ham Stuffing

1 small onion chopped
1 tablespoon green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons bacon drippings
1 cup canned cream of tomato soup
3 cups cooked ham chopped
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
3 sprigs parsley minced
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 eggs beaten slightly

Brown the onion and green pepper in bacon drippings. Add creamed tomato soup and chopped cooked ham. Stir in bread crumbs and heat. Then add minced parsley, mustard, pepper and eggs. Stuff the bread loaf and adjust the cover. Bake until the loaf is a golden brown.

Makes Last Appeal to Voters

When the Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township, by action of their membership, presented to the citizens the candidacy of Homer J. Byrd for Township Committeeman, they stated through the local press that they would conduct various meetings in each precinct throughout the Township and present in an honest and clean manner, the reasons why Mr. Byrd should be elected to that position.

We have faithfully performed this duty without the use of dishonest or questionable tactics. We believe that the people are familiar with Mr. Byrd's splendid record as a local official, an educator and county commissioner. The selection of Mr. Byrd to serve our great State in the important position of Superintendent of Registration and Education reflects honor and credit upon him and our Community. It is a recognition of his unusual ability and leadership. Our confidence of his election by a large majority is justified by the spontaneous response of the citizens to his candidacy.

With the release of this article in today's issue of the newspaper, we officially close our campaign and there will be no more AUTHORIZED newspaper articles or statements by pamphlet or otherwise.

We earnestly urge that every citizen entitled to vote in the primary election on Tuesday, April 14, ask for a Democartic Ballot, vote for and elect Homer J. Byrd Township Committeeman on his record of accomplishments. The last name on the right side of the ballot.

Democratic Organization of Wheeling Township.
Thurman J. Dodge, President
Bernard H. Hoss, Secretary
James Bailey, Chairman, Board of Mgrs.

Byrd Speaks of Own Candidacy

TO THE PEOPLE OF WHEELING TOWNSHIP:

During the primary campaign I have confined my efforts to the candidacy of Governor Henry Horner for renomination. His success at the polls next Tuesday is more important than the candidacy of any township committeeman. However, on April 14, the Democratic Voters of Wheeling township will choose a township committeeman. I am a candidate for that office.

I have lived with you people long enough for you to know the principles upon which I stand. On several occasions you have honored me with public office. These I have always considered a public trust and endeavored at all times to fulfill your expectations. I have consistently worked for the best interests of the people of this township. My time has always been your time for I have been available when needed. If elected I propose to carry on in the same manner.

I believe that clean and honest government is the desire of every citizen of this township. The position of trust which I now hold in the State of Illinois under Governor Horner came, I am sure, as a result of my sincerity of purpose and honest intentions in dealing with the public.

If elected I propose to place at the complete and constant disposal of all the people of Wheeling Township every facility of the office of committeeman that will contribute to your welfare.

Homer J. Byrd.

North Western Offers New Movie of Wisconsin Lake Region

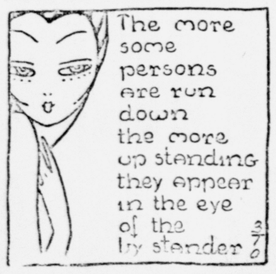

The Chicago and North Western Railway has just completed a three reel moving picture in sound which it is using to show before large groups of women's clubs, schools, parent-teachers organizations, lodges and the like which features the complete Summer vacation activities in the North Woods of Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Minnesota.

This movie, made by Charles T. Chapman of Evanston, an experienced newsreel and commercial photographer, is a camera trip through the lakes and forests of this vacation region. Among other things featured are the reenactment of ancient tribal dances of the Indians in that territory, water sports with their thrilling turns and flourishes, wild life in a playful mood, and interesting shots of resort centers and private lake homes in that territory.

The picture is available in both 35 and 16 millimeter sizes and the Chicago and North Western Railway is booking it in two ways, by loaning the film to groups having their own projector, screen and operator, and to groups requiring a complete "showing" service.

Eve's Epigrams

OBSERVER'S NOTES

Good friends, we know it's just like this,
Everything now seems all amiss;
Don't fret or fume, keep on your way,
Just day by day;
Keep a brave heart, knowing somehow
You'll find the strength for hurt and care,
Till skies grow blue, now dark and gray,
Since joy or grief we only bear

The worries, the fears and defeat do not all heap upon us at once, else we could not march into a new day. The thought would fill as with terror. Yet we go on buoyed up with a hope for better things, tomorrow or next year. The sun will shine and all be well tomorrow.

You may be passing through an endurance test. Keep courage, show your metal. We might learn lessons from things in nature that are not crushed or dismayed by clouds and storm.

When April sun plays hide and seek,
Meadow larks where the grass grows green,
Robins sing in the trees;
There's sadness in our homes today,
Where some in grief are bowed,
Winter and grief God takes away,
When hope shines through the cloud.

Who thinks of weather, floods or disaster when the weather we are now passing through is producing a wonderful, an amazing crop of great men, yet candidates for office, who could have believed our state held so many, honest, capable men, eager to serve their country to the highest crest any nation, state our country could reach.

Candidates for governor, candidates for lesser positions, even to village and town officials and most important of all, our high school board. Aside from true greatness, who could have imagined there were so many "promising" men claiming our official positions?

The air is so full of attractive printed letters and autobiographies of candidates; so many winning promises and invitations to banquets, card parties and dances, and such deep interest shown in the danger of harm to you should you fall under the wiles of the wrong candidate. What can one do?

Green wings, yellow wings,
Violet and rose,
Some startling message brings
As each wind blows.

How can we choose?
Like treetops and steeples,
So high are their views.

Bright gold of daffodils,
Or as violets blue;
Colorful printed slips,
Tell what we should do.

Hail to the warriors,
Hail to the wings
Printed all over,
With startling things.

Tulips and daffodils,
Your colors fade,
These bright election thrills
Grow in the shade.

All are our brothers,
Which shall we choose,
If we vote for the others,
The right one may lose.

If you send more trickey bills,
So intrigueing and gay,
For tulips and daffodils,
I'll vote today!

Word comes from Canada, some public official up there recommends more music should be given to make the people reconciled to the increase in their taxes. Come down here "strike up the band" Cook county needs all the consolation music can afford.

Here we would speak of Palm Sunday, which falls on April 5.

Here we are a professed Christian people, or at least believers in God. Whatever it is that has plunged this world of ours into this mad whirlpool of strife, turmoil and trial, all of us who profess to be Christians, are tremendously responsible. We have set our minds and hearts on the things that perish—the things of time.

Is it doubt, and dismal unbelief that have paralyzed all that is worthwhile in our brief stay here? Palm Sunday, what an eventful day, it has ever been when on that day scores of children take their first communion, binding them into the church of Christ of whatever denomination. Whatever your belief or unbelief, who can fail to be impressed by this sacred solemn first step to follow the Master, our great example and our elder brother?

That day when far Jerusalem,
Saw through the gathered throngs of them,
The King of earth and heaven pass,
Borne by earth's humblest beast, an Ass,
Knew, when His pure, majestic soul,
Burst from all mortal bonds control,
Yet in that hour of triumph still,
Obedient to His fathers will;
When loud hosannas round His head,
Echoed and palms His pathway spread;
He passed, where hate and envy nod,
Assent to slay the son of God.

Are we much better here today,
Dazzled by earthly pomp still we
Fail His majestic soul to see,
Refuse His teaching to obey,
We drive Christ from our lives away.

Borne through the streets of Jerusalem on the back of an Ass, and that poor creature has been made to say the following:
The scorn of man I ever meet,
Yet on that day came my glad hour,
When Palms were all about my feet
While loud Hosannas rang to greet
As on my humble back I bore,
The King of earths and heaven's power,
What could I ask of heaven more?

The week following Palm Sunday is termed Holy Week usually kept by services each night and observation of the sacrament of our Lord's Supper Good Friday when new communicants enter for church membership. These forms are impressively beautiful. We hope and pray they are always sincere.

The past week has been one lively procession of social events: Card parties, luncheons, plays, all for some good cause no doubt. The week ahead seems to be well dated for the same class of social events. Indeed all through the Lenten season, there has been no check on entertainments.

There is an old saying "An Early Easter precedes an early spring," not always true. We recall that in 1910, Easter came on March 27. The violets and daisies were in blossom. The fruit trees, pears and plums covered with flowers, the maple trees in full leaf. Inside of a week winter came back. Hard freeze and snow. The leaves froze and fell off the trees, we thought never to come that season, but when June came the new foliage robed the trees and all was well.

This Easter morn be glad,
For all that's true shall live;
All good you ever had,
Or shared, the love you give;
Pure thoughts, kind acts along the way,
Live in some hearts this Easter day.

This Easter morn be glad,
Glad if the grave can hide,
All harmful things and bad,
While love and truth abide,
May truth and love and hope adorn,
And bid you live this Easter morn.

When we think of the crime, the sin and the destructive propaganda that make, even those who try to follow the Master, weak and trembling, we begin to fear there are no honest men in office or seeking office, yet we know God always raises up a man for the hour and He will know our need.

Awake and sing, ye that seem to sleep. "Ye dwellers in the dust." Wonder if that grand old sear of Israel wouldn't thunder an awakening call at some of us groveling in the dust, in the unsatisfying things of earth today?

Often we seem to dwell too much on the death of our Lord, His life of self-sacrifice, of enduring and overcoming, His pure white life, showing us how to live, we all too often forget He said, "I came that ye might have life and have it more abundantly." He said, "I came that ye might know the truth and the truth will make you free."

Think on this in the blessed Easter season. How many of us are living up to our God given privileges? "Dwellers in the dust most of us, chasing, yeah bowing down to mammon "the almighty dollar." At times rare glimpses come to us of life's larger meaning and possibilities. It may be when the grandeur and majesty of the heavens or the beauty of dawn or sunset, stir within us a feeling almost of kinship, yet to these loftier ideals we are often blinded by the pursuit of material things that perish. O, that we might in the true spirit of Easter awaken to the life abundant, our Lord came to bestow.

Awake, ye dwellers in the dust,
Awake and sing;
He lives Who died for you O trust,
Your risen King.

Awake ye dwellers in the dust,
Your powers bring;
The harp unused is dulled by rust,
Strike now each string.

Why do ye grovel in the dust?
All earth can bring
Soon perisheth by moth and rust,
Riches take wing.

Ye dwellers in the dust awake,
Christ bids you live;
He overcame all for your sake,
True life to give.

Awake, ye dwellers in the dust,
Awake and sing;
Rejoice, for life abundant trust,

Exhibit Stradivari's Belongings

After Antonio Stradivari's death, one of his sons sold all of his effects for a trifling sum to the Marchese Cozio di Salubem, a nobleman living in the little Piedmontese town and a great admirer of the violin maker. Years later Luigi Fiorini, also an Italian violin maker, who had gained great fame and made a fortune in Germany, bought many of the possessions from an heir of the Marchese. Wishing to pay homge to the city that had given Stradivari to the world, he donated the entire collection to Cremona, and today it forms the basis of the permanent collection.

HULL
FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

Mr. Hull was the guiding genius and power behind the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico deep waterway legislation that has done more for Illinois and the Middle West than the Panama canal. He finished what LaSalle started talking about two hundred and sixty years ago and innumerable others have tried since.

His labor record commands the endorsement of all labor unions with whom he has dealt in a long business and industrial life.

He understands farm problems and his record in farm legislation, when he was in congress, speaks for itself. He always advocated high tariffs to keep out competitive farm products.

He has had a long and honorable business and civic career in his home city of Peoria.

He was ten years in Congress and was one of the best congressmen the Middle West ever sent to Washington.

He is a fiery critic not afraid to speak his mind and his speeches exposing the fallacies of communism and the Roosevelt administration have shown how to save the country from despotism and bolshevism.

He has, from the time he was state commander of the Sons of Veterans, constantly and consistently worked for the welfare of service men and their families, having personally secured satisfactory adjustment of more than 3,500 soldiers' claims.

Friends of Russell W. Keeney, DuPage county state's attorney, candidate for nomination on the Republican ticket at the primaries Tuesday, have formed "Keeney Boosters Clubs" throughout the county in support of his campaign. Keeney has made an excellent record both as assistant state's attorney under Chauncey Reed and since 1934 when he was appointed to assume full charge of the office to succeed Reed when the latter went to Washington to serve as Congressman.

"For the following reasons," a statement issued by the Keeney Boosters says, "we believe Russell W. Keeney should be nominated as Republican candidate for State's Attorney of Du Page county:

1. That he has an excellent record in public service.
2. That his accomplishments in the rehabilitation of juvenile offenders is outstanding.
3. That his record shows that he is unrelenting in the prosecution of hardened criminals.
4. That he is experienced, as he has tried or assisted in the prosecution of practically all of the important criminal cases in recent years in DuPage county.
5. That he knows his job and we feel that he is qualified by experience, temperament, and ability to best serve DuPage county in this office.

PERRY SEES VICTORY FOR GOV. HORNER

Campaign Manager for Nine Counties Cites A Large Public Response.

Friends of Joseph S. Perry, leader of the Du Page Democratic organization, say that his opponents must work night and day if they expect to keep pace with him in the political arena. Perry early threw his support to the candidacy of Gov. Horner and since that time has been in the thick of the campaign, directing the fight against what he calls "the Kelly-Nash menace" in nine counties in Northern Illinois.

Perry, a tireless worker and a forceful speaker, has been addressing thousands of voters all over this section of the state, besides making a series of radio broadcasts in behalf of Horner. His law associate, Francis Zimmerman of Villa Park, is also delivering talks at numerous places.

In answer to a quip in a campaign sheet issued by the Bundesen camp to the effect that he, Perry, made the statement that "Horner was through," Perry makes the following reply:

"The statement is entirely misleading and was meant to confuse the voters in a desperate effort to halt what to every intelligent citizen sees as inevitable—a complete victory for Gov. Horner at the polls Tuesday. The interest manifested by the public in the scores of meetings that I have addressed, convinces me that it is no longer a question of Horner winning, but winning by how much."

M'COY SEEKS NOMINATION SECOND TIME

His Home Town Is Backing Him for State's Attorney.

John E. McCoy of Lombard hit the peak of his campaign for the Republican nomination for state's attorney Thursday night at the Du-Page theater where a big mass meeting was held in his behalf.

McCoy is village attorney of Lombard and has the support of many of the leading citizens of that city in his campaign for the nomination. He has been a practicing attorney for 15 years and a member of the DuPage county bar.

Four years ago he sought the nomination for state's attorney against Chauncey W. Reed. In that campaign he inaugurated the sound truck as a new method in going about the county to tell his story to the voters.

"If elected," McCoy declares, "I will owe my election only to the voters of Du Page county and will be free of any obligations to any organization, whether in the court house or out of it."

TIPSY MATCH PACK

FOR this entertaining trick, you require an emptied book of paper matches. In mysterious fashion you set the match pack on end and release it.

Presto! The match pack does a complete somersault along the table. You pick it up, set it down and it repeats its acrobatic stunt. Other people try it; but somehow the trick fails to work for them.

To begin with, you must bend the match pack to make it concave at the front. People observe this fact and they think they know the secret. But they invariably neglect to notice the most important part of the trick.

Always stand the match pack upside down and let it roll backward. Other people, trying to duplicate your stunt, will naturally set the pack right side up. From that position, it will not do the double roll.

PERRY SEES VICTORY FOR GOV. HORNER

Campaign Manager for Nine Counties Cites A Large Public Response.

Friends of Joseph S. Perry, leader of the Du Page Democratic organization, say that his opponents must work night and day if they expect to keep pace with him in the political arena. Perry early threw his support to the candidacy of Gov. Horner and since that time has been in the thick of the campaign, directing the fight against what he calls "the Kelly-Nash menace" in nine counties in Northern Illinois.

Perry, a tireless worker and a forceful speaker, has been addressing thousands of voters all over this section of the state, besides making a series of radio broadcasts in behalf of Horner. His law associate, Francis Zimmerman of Villa Park, is also delivering talks at numerous places.

In answer to a quip in a campaign sheet issued by the Bundesen camp to the effect that he, Perry, made the statement that "Horner was through," Perry makes the following reply:

"The statement is entirely misleading and was meant to confuse the voters in a desperate effort to halt what to every intelligent citizen sees as inevitable—a complete victory for Gov. Horner at the polls Tuesday. The interest manifested by the public in the scores of meetings that I have addressed, convinces me that it is no longer a question of Horner winning, but winning by how much."

M'COY SEEKS NOMINATION SECOND TIME

His Home Town Is Backing Him for State's Attorney.

McCoy is village attorney of Lombard and has the support of many of the leading citizens of that city in his campaign for the nomination. He has been a practicing attorney for 15 years and a member of the DuPage county bar.

Four years ago he sought the nomination for state's attorney against Chauncey W. Reed. In that campaign he inaugurated the sound truck as a new method in going about the county to tell his story to the voters.

"If elected," McCoy declares, "I will owe my election only to the voters of Du Page county and will be free of any obligations to any organization, whether in the court house or out of it."

TIPSY MATCH PACK

FOR this entertaining trick, you require an emptied book of paper matches. In mysterious fashion you set the match pack on end and release it.

Presto! The match pack does a complete somersault along the table. You pick it up, set it down and it repeats its acrobatic stunt. Other people try it; but somehow the trick fails to work for them.

To begin with, you must bend the match pack to make it concave at the front. People observe this fact and they think they know the secret. But they invariably neglect to notice the most important part of the trick.

Always stand the match pack upside down and let it roll backward. Other people, trying to duplicate your stunt, will naturally set the pack right side up. From that position, it will not do the double roll.

A final prize of $50 will be awarded the poem considered the best of the monthly groups. Contributors need not be subscribers to the magazine. John E. McCoy

FOR

State's Attorney

At the Republican Primaries April 14, 1936

With the primary election taking place next Tuesday, the voters of Du Page County have been sizing up the candidates for the various offices from every viewpoint. Citizens generally have reached the conclusion that John E. McCoy is the only Republican candidate for State's Attorney who can be elected in the fall, because he is able to carry both the independent and the regular vote.

He is well qualified for the office, as his record in serving the public will show; he is experienced and capable. If John E. McCoy is nominated and elected State's Attorney he will owe his election only to the voters of Du Page County and will be free and clear of any obligations to any particular organization, whether in the court house or out of it, and will be able to perform his duties for the best interests of all the citizens. He is not the candidate of any so-called machine, and will owe no duty to any political group, and will be holden only to the taxpayers and voters of Du Page County.

HULL FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR

Mr. Hull was the guiding genius and power behind the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico deep waterway legislation that has done more for Illinois and the Middle West than the Panama canal. He finished what LaSalle started talking about two hundred and sixty years ago and innumerable others have tried since.

His labor record commands the endorsement of all labor unions with whom he has dealt in a long business and industrial life.

He understands farm problems and his record in farm legislation, when he was in congress, speaks for itself. He always advocated high tariffs to keep out competitive farm products.

He has had a long and honorable business and civic career in his home city of Peoria.

He was ten years in Congress and was one of the best congressmen the Middle West ever sent to Washington.

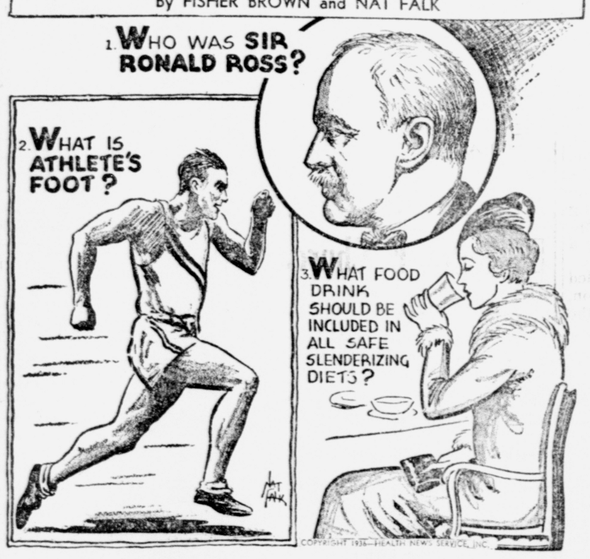

He is a fiery critic not afraid to speak his mind and his speeches exposing the fallacies of communism and the Roosevelt administration have shown how to save the country from despotism and bolshevism.

Broad Economic Progress—The Way It Can Be Achieved

By HAROLD G. MOULTON

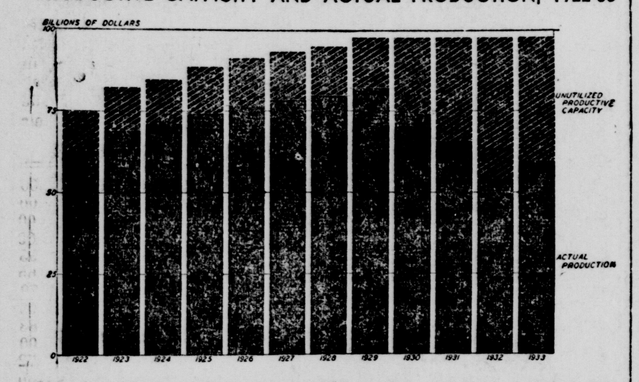

President, The Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.

MUCH current discussion of economic problems is focused too intently on the depression to shed real light on our fundamental difficulties. Today's troubles obscure our view of what happened yesterday and what is likely to happen tomorrow. Actually our economic structure was being undermined by grave maladjustments long before the depression; in our "prosperity" years, millions of American families were poor.

Farmers and people in the small towns scarcely need to be told this. In 1929 and before, agriculture was not prosperous. Farmers had to pay high prices for the things they bought, but got little for what they sold. They were in a depression even then—caught between what looked like irresistible forces and an immovable body.

There are about 54 million farmers and people living in the small towns. In addition, professional

PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY AND ACTUAL PRODUCTION, 1922-33

This chart illustrates the extent to which we have failed to utilize our full productive capacity. The black area represents what we produced; the shaded area, the additional amount that could have been turned out. Over most of this period, our plant, as a whole could have produced about 20 per cent more than it did, but after 1929 this percentage of non-utilization became much larger.

men, domestic workers, small shopkeepers and others living in the cities were similarly affected, inasmuch as they could not utilize organized pressure to force upward the return on their services. These with their dependents total about 20 million. While their standards of living perhaps were not actually lowered, most of them realized little gain from the great advance in productive efficiency made in that period.

The diminution in purchasing power of these groups, or its failure to rise, in turn, reacted on others. Business men sold less goods, and workers everywhere found it harder to get jobs. The forces that were retarding the farmer's prosperity were by no means helping the man in the city.

Progress—But Not Enough

It is true that our economic system has brought us living standards higher than those existing anywhere else in the world. Between 1900 and 1930, as an example, per capita income, in terms of what it would buy, increased about 38 per cent, at the same time, working hours were reduced about 13 per cent. But the fact of idle plant capacity indicated that we could have produced more goods and thus raised living standards.

Studies we have made at the Brookings Institution, aided by a grant from the Falk Foundation, of Pittsburgh, throw significant light on this. We made a detailed survey of productive capacity in manufacturing, mining, farming and all the other major divisions of industry, resulting in the finding that our productive plant could have turned out about 20 per cent more than it did.

If nobody had wanted to buy anything, the idle plant would have been easily explained. But, millions of families were not getting nearly enough to satisfy their wants.

Nearly 6 million farm and city families received incomes of less than $1,000; 16 millions received less than $2,000; and 19 millions, or 71 per cent of the total, less than $2,500. More than 54 per cent of farm families got less than $1,000. Of course, in considering farm income the lower living costs of rural areas should be kept in mind. But, no matter where they lived, families trying to pay for food, clothing, medical service, education, etc., on $1,000 were not prosperous.

The extent of unfilled wants may be judged by the fact that nearly all family income in the $2,000 class or lower is spent for ordinary consumption goods—food, shelter, clothes, education, etc. Fifteen million families got less than this figure.

Purchasing Power Must Expand

Our productive efficiency is increasing year by year in normal times. That is, we are learning how to make things more cheaply. But if the people are to buy the added products thus made possible, their purchasing power must grow with production.

Expanding purchasing power cannot be created simply by printing them to pay higher prices for manufactured goods or has prevented them from obtaining lower ones. The same was true in large degree of the city dwellers mentioned above who do not work for wages, numbering 20 million. An economic disparity was created between two great segments of our population, raising a serious barrier to economic progress.

But if we permit the fruits of man's inventive genius and technological advance to reach the people in the form of price reductions, no such barriers are raised. All classes benefit alike to the extent that they are consumers; the chief gain is in the low income groups where it is most needed.

To the farmer, it means better houses, tools, food, clothes, and in general a steady rise in his standard of living that he can get no other way.

Price reductions, of course, must not come from wage cuts, if they are to increase purchasing power. But we must reduce prices as we learn to make things more cheaply. This is the way we can expand consumption solidly, year after year, which in turn will call forth larger production. Increased efficiency makes price reductions possible; competition must insure that they actually take place.

Price Stabilization Tendencies

Whereas the period of great technological advance between 1870 and 1890 brought notable price reductions, contributing much to raising living standards, there was little reduction of prices in the similar period of 1922-29. Productive efficiency in manufacturing in the latter era as measured by output per worker, increased about 25 per cent. But forces of price maintenances had become so strong that retail prices in the aggregate remained practically stationary.

Of course, there was competition in many lines, and prices declined accordingly. But this was not true of all producers. Many neglected to face the fact that in the long run they could prosper only as the masses could buy an expanding volume of their goods.

This fact must be faced. We must remove the obstacles to price reductions which now exist, whetever they are. It is the only way that people who live in small towns or on farms, or otherwise do not work for wages, can fully participate in our economic progress. And, unless these do participate, we can have no broad, continued progress.

The failure of industrial prices to decline is primarily responsible for the movement in recent years to attempt an improvement in the farm situation by artificial methods of restricting production, with a view to restoring "price parity" with industry. However helpful such policies may be temporarily, agriculture and industry combined obviously cannot expect to increase the total production of goods and services for the American people as a whole by restricting output and raising prices. National cooperation in the expansion of output, giving to all the people the largest possible consumption, is the paramount necessity.

HOW PADDY WARNED LIGHTFOOT

IT WAS a queer partnership, that partnership between Lightfoot and Paddy, but it was a good partnership. They had been the best of friends for a long time. Paddy had always been glad to have Lightfoot visit his pond. To tell the truth, he was rather fond of handsome lightfoot. You know, Paddy is himself not at all handsome. On land he is a rather clumsy looking fellow and really homely.

Then Paddy Had Dived.

So he admired Lightfoot greatly. That is one reason why he proposed that they be partners.

Lightfoot himself thought the idea a splendid one. He spent that night browsing not far from Paddy's pond. With the coming of daylight he lay down under the upper end of Paddy's pond. It was a quiet, peaceful day. It was so quiet and peaceful and beautiful that it was hard to believe that hunters with terrible guns were searching the Green Forest for beautiful Lightfoot. But they were, and lightfoot knew that sooner or later one of them would be sure to visit Paddy's pond. So, though he rested and took short naps all through that beautiful day, he was anxious. He couldn't help but be.

The next morning found Lightfoot back in the same place. But this morning he took no naps. He rested, but all the time he was watching and alert. A feeling of uneasiness possessed him. He felt in his bones that danger in the shape of a hunter with a terrible gun was not far distant.

But the hours slipped away and little by little he grew less uneasy. He began to hope that that day would prove as peaceful as the previous day had been. Then suddenly there was a sharp report from the farther end of Paddy's pond. It was almost like a pistol shot. However, it wasn't a pistol shot. It was the slap of Paddy's broad tail on the surface of the water. Instantly Lightfoot was on his feet. He knew just what that meant. He knew that Paddy had seen or heard or smelled a hunter.

It was even so. Paddy had heard a dry stick snap. It was a very tiny snap, but it was enough to warn Paddy. With only his head above the water he had watched in the direction from which the sound had come. Presently, stealing quietly along towards the pond, a hunter had come in view. Instantly Paddy had brought his broad tail down on the water with all his force. He knew that Lightfoot would know that that meant danger. Then Paddy had dived, and swimming under water, had sought the safety of his house. He had done his part and there was nothing more he could do.

POTTED MEATS AND FISH

IN ENGLAND potted meats are so common that the everyday cook knows all about preparing them. We like to have such meats occasionally, and the following are reliable methods of preparing such dishes.

Meat such as ham, tongue or chicken as well as fish may be potted for a luncheon dish, rather than use it in other ways, such as hash, which is all too common in some homes. The goodness of the potted meats is, of course, first of all, in the meat, then in the proper pounding and preparation and seasoning. If carefully prepared and put away, these will keep for a long time and may be used for an occasional snack or an emergency dish.

Potted Chicken.

Take a cold roast chicken, rejecting the skin and sinews, chop fine and to every pint allow a half-cupful of chopped ham or tongue. Put the bones of the fowl into a saucepan, add a pint of cold water and simmer until there is half a pint of stock; strain and remove the fat. Pound the chicken, and ham or tongue to a smooth paste in a mortar with an old-fashioned pestle; this makes a smooth paste; or it may be put several times through the food chopper until fine. Then pound—the pounding makes the meat of the creamy consistency needed. Add a little of the broth, season with cayenne, nutmeg and a tablespoonful of butter. Put into small jars, press down and cover with a cloth, then cover the cloth with a flour and water paste. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, having the jars in water. Take out, remove the cloth, cover with melted butter, then tie over a paper moistened with egg white and set away to keep in a cool place until wanted. This will keep for months, and makes a fine hot-weather dish. This will be a good way to take care of extra chicken at any time. Fresh beef tongue, cold roast veal, boiled or roast mutton, ham and smoked tongue are all most tasty treated in this way.

Broad Economic Progress—The Way It Can Be Achieved

By HAROLD G. MOULTON

President, The Brookings Institution, Washington, D. C.

MUCH current discussion of economic problems is focused too intently on the depression to shed real light on our fundamental difficulties. Today's troubles obscure our view of what happened yesterday and what is likely to happen tomorrow. Actually our economic structure was being undermined by grave maladjustments long before the depression; in our "prosperity" years, millions of American families were poor.

Farmers and people in the small towns scarcely need to be told this. In 1929 and before, agriculture was not prosperous. Farmers had to pay high prices for the things they bought, but got little for what they sold. They were in a depression even then—caught between what looked like irresistible forces and an immovable body.

There are about 54 million farmers and people living in the small towns. In addition, professional men, domestic workers, small shopkeepers and others living in the cities were similarly affected, inasmuch as they could not utilize organized pressure to force upward the return on their services. These with their dependents total about 20 million. While their standards of living perhaps were not actually lowered, most of them realized little gain from the great advance in productive efficiency made in that period.

The diminution in purchasing power of these groups, or its failure to rise, in turn, reacted on others. Business men sold less goods, and workers everywhere found it harder to get jobs. The forces that were retarding the farmer's prosperity were by no means helping the man in the city.

Progress—But Not Enough

It is true that our economic system has brought us living standards higher than those existing anywhere else in the world. Between 1900 and 1930, as an example, per capita income, in terms of what it would buy, increased about 38 per cent, at the same time, working hours were reduced about 13 per cent. But the fact of idle plant capacity indicated that we could have produced more goods and thus raised living standards.

Studies we have made at the Brookings Institution, aided by a grant from the Falk Foundation, of Pittsburgh, throw significant light on this. We made a detailed survey of productive capacity in manufacturing, mining, farming and all the other major divisions of industry, resulting in the finding that our productive plant could have turned out about 20 per cent more than it did.

If nobody had wanted to buy anything, the idle plant would have been easily explained. But, millions of families were not getting nearly enough to satisfy their wants.

Nearly 6 million farm and city families received incomes of less than $1,000; 16 millions received less than $2,000; and 19 millions, or 71 per cent of the total, less than $2,500. More than 54 per cent of farm families got less than $1,000. Of course, in considering farm income the lower living costs of rural areas should be kept in mind. But, no matter where they lived, families trying to pay for food, clothing, medical service, education, etc., on $1,000 were not prosperous.

The extent of unfilled wants may be judged by the fact that nearly all family income in the $2,000 class or lower is spent for ordinary consumption goods—food, shelter, clothes, education, etc. Fifteen million families got less than this figure.

Purchasing Power Must Expand

Our productive efficiency is increasing year by year in normal times. That is, we are learning how to make things more cheaply. But if the people are to buy the added products thus made possible, their purchasing power must grow with production.

Expanding purchasing power cannot be created simply by printing more money. That would just raise prices. And we cannot accomplish much by "sharing wealth or income." Such a program would entail taking income from skilled workers, many farmers, small shopkeepers, government clerks, etc. It would not merely "soak the rich."

Purchasing power can be increased only as we learn how to produce goods and services more efficiency and pass the benefits of that efficiency on to the masses. If we devise a way to make two articles where we formerly made one, and we pass on this gain to the people, purchasing power is actually created—the extra article can be sold.

Higher Wages and the Farmer

Organized labor for many years has tried to obtain the benefits of increased efficiency by pressure for higher wages. This gave certain groups of workers more purchasing power, but the effect on farmers has not been favorable. It has forced them to pay higher prices for manufactured goods or has prevented them from obtaining lower ones. The same was true in large degree of the city dwellers mentioned above who do not work for wages, numbering 20 million. An economic disparity was created between two great segments of our population, raising a serious barrier to economic progress.

But if we permit the fruits of man's inventive genius and technological advance to reach the people in the form of price reductions, no such barriers are raised. All classes benefit alike to the extent that they are consumers; the chief gain is in the low income groups where it is most needed.

To the farmer, it means better houses, tools, food, clothes, and in general a steady rise in his standard of living that he can get no other way.

Price reductions, of course, must not come from wage cuts, if they are to increase purchasing power. But we must reduce prices as we learn to make things more cheaply. This is the way we can expand consumption solidly, year after year, which in turn will call forth larger production. Increased efficiency makes price reductions possible; competition must insure that they actually take place.

Price Stabilization Tendencies

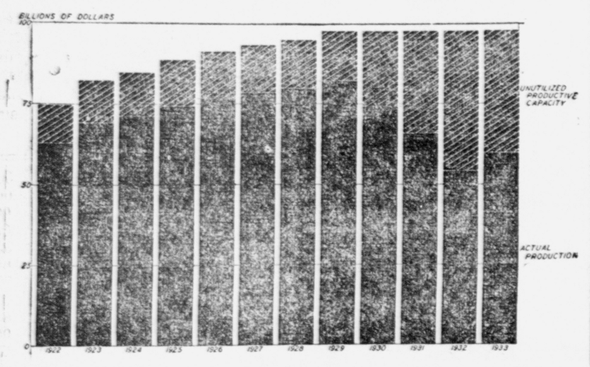

Whereas the period of great technological advance between 1870 and 1890 brought notable price reductions, contributing much to raising living standards, there was little reduction of prices in the similar period of 1922-29. Productive efficiency in manufacturing in the latter era as measured by output per worker, increased about 25 per cent. But forces of price maintenances had become so strong that retail prices in the aggregate remained practically stationary.

Of course, there was competition in many lines, and prices declined accordingly. But this was not true of all producers. Many neglected to face the fact that in the long run they could prosper only as the masses could buy an expanding volume of their goods.

This fact must be faced. We must remove the obstacles to price reductions which now exist, whetever they are. It is the only way that people who live in small towns or on farms, or otherwise do not work for wages, can fully participate in our economic progress. And, unless these do participate, we can have no broad, continued progress.

The failure of industrial prices to decline is primarily responsible for the movement in recent years to attempt an improvement in the farm situation by artificial methods of restricting production, with a view to restoring "price parity" with industry. However helpful such policies may be temporarily, agriculture and industry combined obviously cannot expect to increase the total production of goods and services for the American people as a whole by restricting output and raising prices. National cooperation in the expansion of output, giving to all the people the largest possible consumption, is the paramount necessity.

PRODUCTIVE CAPACITY AND ACTUAL PRODUCTION, 1922-33

This chart illustrates the extent to which we have failed to utilize our full productive capacity. The black area represents what we produced; the shaded area, the additional amount that could have been turned out. Over most of this period, our plant, as a whole could have produced about 20 per cent more than it did, but after 1929 this percentage of non-utilization became much larger.

A Parhelion

A parhelion is called a sun dog because it follows the sun. This particular effect is similar in nature to the halos occasionally seen around the moon. It is due to the refraction of light by fine snow crystals in the air.

Telling the Future

There is something in the atmosphere of every person which predicts his future; for the way he does things, the energy, the degree of enterprise which he puts into his work, his manner—everything is a telltale of what is awaiting him.

Boston Police Better Armed for War on Crime

IN THE determined war on criminals which Police Commissioner Eugene McSweeney of Boston has opened, his men are to be protected with the latest in gas equipment, more efficient than the guns they have been using. The chief called in a number of his higher officials to inspect the guns, as shown in the photograph.

"Little Stories for Bedtime" by Thornton W. Burgess

HOW PADDY WARNED LIGHTFOOT

IT WAS a queer partnership, that partnership between Lightfoot and Paddy, but it was a good partnership. They had been the best of friends for a long time. Paddy had always been glad to have Lightfoot visit his pond. To tell the truth, he was rather fond of handsome lightfoot. You know, Paddy is himself not at all handsome. On land he is a rather clumsy looking fellow and really homely.

Then Paddy Had Dived.

So he admired Lightfoot greatly. That is one reason why he proposed that they be partners.

Lightfoot himself thought the idea a splendid one. He spent that night browsing not far from Paddy's pond. With the coming of daylight he lay down under the upper end of Paddy's pond. It was a quiet, peaceful day. It was so quiet and peaceful and beautiful that it was hard to believe that hunters with terrible guns were searching the Green Forest for beautiful Lightfoot. But they were, and lightfoot knew that sooner or later one of them would be sure to visit Paddy's pond. So, though he rested and took short naps all through that beautiful day, he was anxious. He couldn't help but be.

The next morning found Lightfoot back in the same place. But this morning he took no naps. He rested, but all the time he was watching and alert. A feeling of uneasiness possessed him. He felt in his bones that danger in the shape of a hunter with a terrible gun was not far distant.

But the hours slipped away and little by little he grew less uneasy. He began to hope that that day would prove as peaceful as the previous day had been. Then suddenly there was a sharp report from the farther end of Paddy's pond. It was almost like a pistol shot. However, it wasn't a pistol shot. It was the slap of Paddy's broad tail on the surface of the water. Instantly Lightfoot was on his feet. He knew just what that meant. He knew that Paddy had seen or heard or smelled a hunter.

It was even so. Paddy had heard a dry stick snap. It was a very tiny snap, but it was enough to warn Paddy. With only his head above the water he had watched in the direction from which the sound had come. Presently, stealing quietly along towards the pond, a hunter had come in view. Instantly Paddy had brought his broad tail down on the water with all his force. He knew that Lightfoot would know that that meant danger. Then Paddy had dived, and swimming under water, had sought the safety of his house. He had done his part and there was nothing more he could do.

POTTED MEATS AND FISH

IN ENGLAND potted meats are so common that the everyday cook knows all about preparing them. We like to have such meats occasionally, and the following are reliable methods of preparing such dishes.

Meat such as ham, tongue or chicken as well as fish may be potted for a luncheon dish, rather than use it in other ways, such as hash, which is all too common in some homes. The goodness of the potted meats is, of course, first of all, in the meat, then in the proper pounding and preparation and seasoning. If carefully prepared and put away, these will keep for a long time and may be used for an occasional snack or an emergency dish.

Potted Chicken.

Take a cold roast chicken, rejecting the skin and sinews, chop fine and to every pint allow a half-cupful of chopped ham or tongue. Put the bones of the fowl into a saucepan, add a pint of cold water and simmer until there is half a pint of stock; strain and remove the fat. Pound the chicken, and ham or tongue to a smooth paste in a mortar with an old-fashioned pestle; this makes a smooth paste; or it may be put several times through the food chopper until fine. Then pound—the pounding makes the meat of the creamy consistency needed. Add a little of the broth, season with cayenne, nutmeg and a tablespoonful of butter. Put into small jars, press down and cover with a cloth, then cover the cloth with a flour and water paste. Bake in a moderate oven for half an hour, having the jars in water. Take out, remove the cloth, cover with melted butter, then tie over a paper moistened with egg white and set away to keep in a cool place until wanted. This will keep for months, and makes a fine hot-weather dish. This will be a good way to take care of extra chicken at any time. Fresh beef tongue, cold roast veal, boiled or roast mutton, ham and smoked tongue are all most tasty treated in this way.

THROUGH A Woman's Eyes

By JEAN NEWTON

THE FIVE-YEAR-OLD LIKES "I"

AN INTERNATIONAL kindergarten survey showed that the word most frequently used by children of five years of age is "I"!

That does not prove, of course, that a person who is fond of the word "I" necessarily has a mentality of five. But the connection is unavoidable!

And this is one characteristic that we cannot attribute particularly to women! Thanks be for that.

As we sit back and smile at the grown-up children who like above all else to say "I," we can smile with the pleasing realization that they are not preponderantly of our own sex.

There are so many ways of saying "I" without actually using the word.

All the dogmatic opinions, all the arbitrariness, all the "laying down the law" in this world is merely another expression of the spirit of "I."

The people who are always sure of themselves, sure that they are right, that they must be right, theirs is just another way of saying "I." And theirs is a very evident kinship with the five-year-old.

For it is only as the mind grows mature that it begins to question itself, its own motives, its own rightness. It is when we begin to really know something of all this infiniteness that we realize how much we do not know. Then we are not very sure of ourselves, then when we indulge the "I" we do it with a sense of embarrassment.

Does it irritate you, fill you with annoyance when one of the sure-people are so constant with their "I's?" Well, don't let it. Would you be angry with a five-year-old?

Christian Science

A LECTURE BY
MARGARET MURNEY GLENN
C. S. B.
BARRINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B. of Boston, Massachusetts, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Masachusetts, delivered a lecture entitled—"Man's Spiritual Nature as Revealed by Christian Science"—Monday evening, April 6 in the Barrington Public School Auditorium, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Barrington.

Miss Glenn spoke in part as follows:

A question of vital import to us all is, What constitutes our nature, our substance, our being? In other words, What is man? Natural science explains man as a wholly material creation; medicine treats him as a material body, with a mentality resident in the brain; theology believes him to be material and spiritual. The natural scientist is correct in believing that there must be a science to explain man's nature, but this science is the Science of Spirit, not of mater. The theologian is correct in maintaining that God created men in His image, but this image, in order to be a likeness, must be wholly spiritual, for God is Spirit, not flesh.

The Science of Christianity does not deprive the natural scientist of science, but gives him a higher concept of it. Neither does it rob the religionist of his belief that man is God's image, but it reveals man in the perfection of his spiritual being as that image. The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes: "Nature reflects man and art pencils him, but it remains for Science to reveal man to man" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscelany, p. 124), and the Psalmist indicated man's purely spiritual nature when he said "What is man, that thou art mindful, of him?" Let us consider the things of which God must be conscious, or mindful, and thus learn more of man's spiritual nature.

Man's Substance

What is man's substance, that God is mindful of it? If the answers of the physical sciences are correct then are we, of all creatures, most miserable, for according to their analyses a mortal man consists of matter-substance which is subject to discord, decay, and disintegration. Can God really be mindful of a substance that is discordant, decadent, destructible, and can this unsubstantiai, so-called substance constitute man, who is God's most noble creation? Assuredly not, and the Science of man, opposed to the so-called science of mortals, reveals man's substance as consisting of spiritual ideas, which are as immutable as their source, the one divine and infinite Spirit, God. Man's substance cannot be perceived by the material senses, for it is spiritual and mental. All there is humanly to you and me is our thinking. Remove a person's thinking and there is no longer human evidence of his existence.

Christian Science teaches that the qualities of love, joy, strength, harmony, honesty, and intelligence, that you and I manifest, constitute our substance. One often uses the expression, There is not much substance to what he says, or, He is a substantial sort of person, meaning not that he has a great deal of matter, but that his thinking is intelligent, honest, just, and loving. Let us see why these qualities are substantial. Honesty cannot be burned, drowned, nor destroyed by an accident, and this is true of every other quality or attribute of God, such as harmony, health, and love. These qualities do not originate in the brain, for a substance which is subject to discord, decay, and disintegration is incapable of producing its opposite, namely, substantial, immutable, harmonious ideas. Their origin is in the divine Mind. This Mind, being one, can know nothing unlike itself nor outside of itself, for it is infinite, and there is none else, as the Bible says. Mind's thoughts or ideas about itself constitute man, the only man of whom God is mindful. If the true man of God's creating were the man of dust, described in the second chapter of Genesis, or the man evolved by atomic force, think of what extremely ungodlike and unspiritual things God would be mindful. And it would follow that the more we knew of God the more we would have to know of such material theories. These theories pertain only to mortality, and as mortality is laid off these views will be laid off with it, for, as Paul says, "this mortal must put on immortality." The material theory of evolution is probably as logical as anything can be about the descent of mortal man, but its study cannot prove so uplifting, spiritualizing, health-giving, or purifying as the study of the perfect man, for this study requires that thought ascend to the real man's origin, to the most high God. Material evolution but shows that a mortal's concept of man is the exact opposite of God's idea, man. Only one of these concepts can actually be man. No one would be willing to aver that God's image and likeness was ever a material atom, dust, or an electron which had to evolve in order to become God's image, for God spake and it was done. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mrs. Eddy makes this clear contrast between the man of material evolution and the man of God's creating revealed by Christian Science. She says (p. 189): "The human mortal mind, by an inevitable perversion, makes all things start from the lowest instead of from the highest mortal thought. The reverse is the case with all the formations of the immortal divine Mind. They proceed from the divine source; and so, in tracing them, we constantly ascend in infinite being."

Even the most learned men do not claim to understand perfectly the origin, nature, and substance of a mortal. This mystery with regard to mortal life has led some to consider it a marvelous creation, and natural scientists, physicians, and others have continued to grope from one theory to another in the hope of finding the proper solution to the enigma of mortal existence, an existence which can no more be explained than can the statement that two times two are five. Just as this statement is a false concept of a mathematical truth, so mortal existence is a false concept of Life. Neither can be explained, for they are mistakes, and are therefore unscientific. Mystery can afford no satisfaction to the reasoning person, for it indicates either ignorance or superstition. One of the purposes of education is to dispel mystery. Geography, for example, dispels the mystery with regard to the shape of the earth, its rotations and revolutions, which seem to the physical senses the opposite of that which they really are. In accepting these correct explanations we have to deny the physical sense testimony which claims that we see a flat earth, and the sun going around it. Surely, if we are willing to deny this evidence with regard to the earth, we cannot hesitate to deny the physical sense testimony with regard to man, and to see him with our intelligence instead of with our material eyes, particularly as this scientific seeing restores to us our health, happiness, and purity. Christian Science dispels all mystery with regard to God and man, and it shows that we must understand, know, and love the man of whom God is mindful.

If we are not to know God and man, in other words, if we are not to have a science revealing the truth about them, then Jesus' work was in vain, for he said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." And then he defines life in these words,—"this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." Jesus came, then, not to mystify us, but that we might have a more abundant knowledge of God and true man, whom he represented, and that we might know God and man as he knew them. This true knowledge he declared to be life eternal.

Mary Baker Eddy

In order to judge others correctly we must have some comprehension of their motives. Mrs. Eddy gives as her life-motive the following (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 30): "The motive of my earliest labors has never changed. It was to relieve the sufferings of humanity by a sanitary system that should include all moral and religious reform." Could there be a more comprehensive or unselfish motive? It was never Mrs. Eddy's desire to thrust her personality forward or in any way to court personal adulation. In order, however, to understand Christian Science it is essential to have a proper appreciation of Mrs. Eddy's place as its Discoverer, Founder, and Leader. Just as we could never grasp the meaning and portent of the Lutheran religion without some understanding of the motives, aims, and place of Martin Luther, so we cannot apprehend the purpose and scope of the Christian Science movement without discerning the place and work of its Leader. Her own words about Paul might well be applied to this situation (Science and Health, p. 560): "To misunderstand Paul, was to be ignorant of the divine idea he taught."

It is quite natural that the way to relieve the sufferings of humanity should have come through a woman's discovery. Dr. Frank Crane, whose articles were formerly published throughout the United States, once wrote, "A doctor often occupies the place of a mother, and all that is the matter with many sick people is that they need mothering." Mrs. Eddy not only perceived humanity's need for mother-love, but she recognized God as the giver of every good and perfect gift and therefore as the source of all true mother-love. And why is it that we need this particular quality of love at this time? Because we are engaged in a warfare against the false, limited, unhappy, sick, sinful, material concept of man; and the mother-love qualities, such as intuition, understanding, tenderness, courage, purity, constancy, protection, and unselfishness are requisite to win this battle.

Effectual Prayer

Solomon's counsel to alknowledge God in all our ways is disregarded when we do not acknowledge Him as the only physician who healeth all our diseases. The Lord's Prayer expresses comprehensively the fact that God is available for every human need. To the Christian Scientist the Lord's Prayer is not a petition to God to be our Father but an acknowledgment of the fact that He is our Father and our Mother, that His kingdom is come, that His good and loving will is done, that He supplies, forgives, and delivers from sin, disease, and death. All of you here know the Lord's Prayer, so test sometime, if you will, its healing and saving power by affirming its statements instead of pleading with God to make them come to pass.

The Lord's Prayer in its opening words "Our Father" reveals man's spiritual origin and nature. Jesus proved the truth contained in these two words "our Father," for he exemplified the pure, spiritual, immutable nature of man as the son, reflection, or idea of our Father, God. Jesus also made clear to us the compassion of our divine Mother, Love—not by sympathy with, but by the destruction of all that would make man sick, sinful, or sorrowful. He bade the widow "Weep not" before he raised her son. After he had healed her grief he restored the young man to his mother.

So today the Science of Christ, of the perfect man, bids us weep not over the temporal and painful nature of a mortal. With true compassion it restores us to that divine Mother-Love which holds its child forever as an idea of Life, as the indestructible, spiritual man, of whom God is ever mindful.

"O Love, our Mother, ever near,
To Thee we turn from doubt and fear!
In perfect peace our thoughts abide;
Our hearts now in this truth confide:
Man is the child of God."

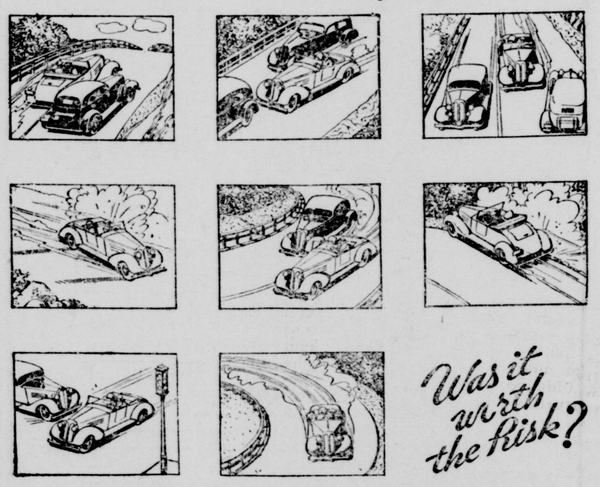

Limp, Once English Fad

Many women in England walked with the "Alexandra Limp" for several years after 1863 when Princess Alexandra of Denmark, who was lame, was married to the prince of of Wales, later King Edward VII. Eventually the nationwide fad was laughed out of existence, writes Allen E. Sloane, New York city, in Collier's Weekly.

What's the Big Hurry?

..and here are some of the things he DID on the way up!

Travelers Ins. Co. Safety Service.

Between 1925 and 1934, inclusive, the rate of death from automobile accidents increased 17 per cent in urban territory of the United States. But while this change was taking place, the rate of death increased almost 100 per cent in rural territory. (Urban territory includes all towns and cities more than 10,000 population, and rural territory the remainder.)

Last year there were nearly 160,000 automobile accidents which happened on rural highways which resulted in close to 14,000 deaths. Many of these deaths happened because drivers took chances and drove too fast for conditions, as illustrated above. That speed is a more serious factor in deaths on highways than on city streets is indicated by the fact that at city street intersections last year deaths from almost 300,000 accidents numbered only 6,000, less than half the fatalities from accidents on highways. This information shrieks a warning about the danger of driving too fast, no matter how good a driver a person regards himself.

Merle Guild Post Auxiliary News

The regular April meeting of Merle Guild Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, April 7. Twenty-one members were preesnt. Mrs. Detweiler, Ninth District Director was guest of honor, Mrs. Detweiler congratulated our unit on being 100% in membership and told of the excellent service work done by the various units. Our Fidac chairman, Mrs. Schaefer, announced the next Fidac meeting to be held Thursday, April 23, at her home; both Americanism and Fidac will be studied.

Proceeds of the Fashion and Amateur show were turned in and were the cause of much satisfaction. Credit for the success of the show should be given to the committee in charge; to Carlsons and the Arlington Bootery for their donations and to Klehm's for the beautiful flowers they donated; to Mr. Platt for free tickets and to Mr. Paddock of the Cook County Herald for his generous first page publicity for all our articles on the show and also to the many willing workers who modeled, performed in the amateur contest and those who took part in the play. Miss Wilke also deserves honorable mention for choosing her loveliest apparel for the models and the time she put in to training and dressing them. The various beauty shops contributed their services, and well, it seems as if the auxiliary is well liked in this town for the merchants and everyone else cooperated willingly every time they were called upon.

The amateur contest was won by Dawn Lama; a tiny six year old pianist and tap dancer and she well deserved the honor, for as time will prove, she is a child prodigy. Second prize was won by Miss Rae Myers, a tap dancer extraordinary and third prize by Melvin Preston, 12 years old, another child prodigy of the accordian.

Had a popularity contest been voted upon little Jimmy Pecchia would most certainly have won first prize for he stole the show. The applauding started when he made his appearance on the runway and he seemed to enjoy it so much it became deafening on his second appearance.

Well folks, we kept our promise and gave you the best show to be seen anywhere for twenty-five cents. Don't forget that when next approached about an Auxiliary program.

A date for our rummage sale has definitely been decided upon—Saturday, May 2 is the day and we hope that by that time sufficient articles will be brought to Mrs. Nichols to open shop. If you are unable to bring articles there please call 120-R and we will call for same. There hasn't been much response to the appeal so far, so please rummage around home and surely there will be one or two articles around the house no longer needed which might fill the need of some one else.

Red Cross Aids 100,000 Families In Flood-Stricken Eastern Area

THE appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the middle of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen States. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world, both in Pennsylvania and in Connecticut. The Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies into afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places. Trucks with water, medicine, food, clothing were rushed into many towns. Amateur radio operators told the outside world over short wave sets what the true conditions were.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $3,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the Red Cross than had been anticipated, Admiral Grayson urged that this three million dollar fund be exceeded by Chapters. Many responded by doubling and trebling their goals.

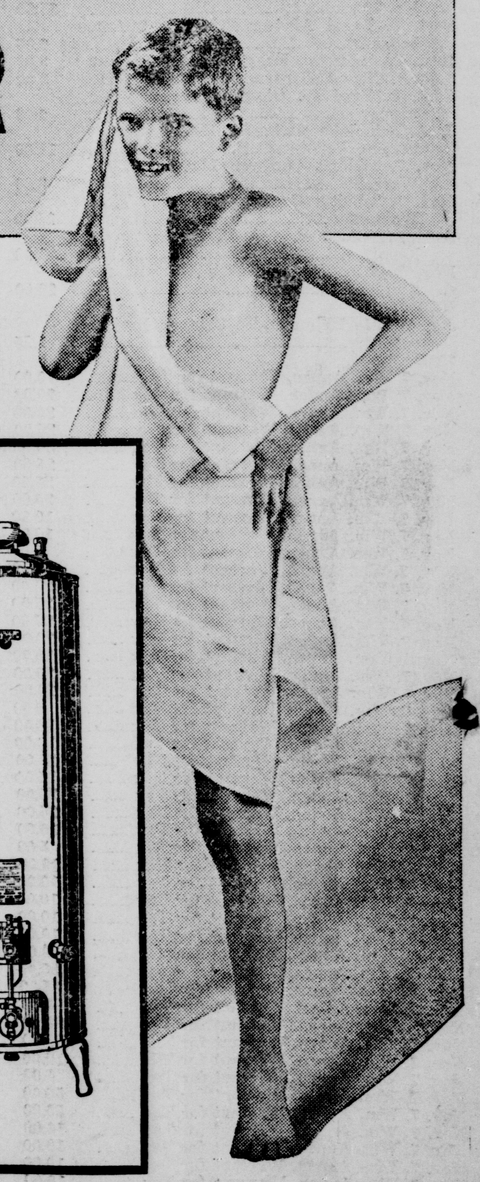

Citizens were urged to contribute to their local Red Cross Chapters. After the flood emergency passed, the Red Cross prepared to restore needy families to their homes and anticipated that their workers would not conclude the relief job for several months.

There are so many ways of saying "I" without actually using the word.

All the dogmatic opinions, all the arbitrariness, all the "laying down the law" in this world is merely another expression of the spirit of "I."

The people who are always sure of themselves, sure that they are right, that they must be right, theirs is just another way of saying "I." And theirs is a very evident kinship with the five-year-old.

For it is only as the mind grows mature that it begins to question itself, its own motives, its own rightness. It is when we begin to really know something of all this infiniteness that we realize how much we do not know. Then we are not very sure of ourselves, then when we indulge the "I" we do it with a sense of embarrassment.

Does it irritate you, fill you with annoyance when one of the sure-people are so constant with their "I's?" Well, don't let it. Would you be angry with a five-year-old?

Christian Science

A LECTURE BY
MARGARET MURNEY GLENN
C. S. B.
BARRINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

Miss Margaret Murney Glenn, C. S. B. of Boston, Massachusetts, a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Masachusetts, delivered a lecture entitled—"Man's Spiritual Nature as Revealed by Christian Science"—Monday evening, April 6 in the Barrington Public School Auditorium, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Barrington.

Miss Glenn spoke in part as follows:

A question of vital import to us all is, What constitutes our nature, our substance, our being? In other words, What is man? Natural science explains man as a wholly material creation; medicine treats him as a material body, with a mentality resident in the brain; theology believes him to be material and spiritual. The natural scientist is correct in believing that there must be a science to explain man's nature, but this science is the Science of Spirit, not of mater. The theologian is correct in maintaining that God created men in His image, but this image, in order to be a likeness, must be wholly spiritual, for God is Spirit, not flesh.

The Science of Christianity does not deprive the natural scientist of science, but gives him a higher concept of it. Neither does it rob the religionist of his belief that man is God's image, but it reveals man in the perfection of his spiritual being as that image. The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, writes: "Nature reflects man and art pencils him, but it remains for Science to reveal man to man" (The First Church of Christ, Scientist, and Miscelany, p. 124), and the Psalmist indicated man's purely spiritual nature when he said "What is man, that thou art mindful, of him?" Let us consider the things of which God must be conscious, or mindful, and thus learn more of man's spiritual nature.

Man's Substance

What is man's substance, that God is mindful of it? If the answers of the physical sciences are correct then are we, of all creatures, most miserable, for according to their analyses a mortal man consists of matter-substance which is subject to discord, decay, and disintegration. Can God really be mindful of a substance that is discordant, decadent, destructible, and can this unsubstantial, so-called substance constitute man, who is God's most noble creation? Assuredly not, and the Science of man, opposed to the so-called science of mortals, reveals man's substance as consisting of spiritual ideas, which are as immutable as their source, the one divine and infinite Spirit, God. Man's substance cannot be perceived by the material senses, for it is spiritual and mental. All there is humanly to you and me is our thinking. Remove a person's thinking and there is no longer human evidence of his existence.

Christian Science teaches that the qualities of love, joy, strength, harmony, honesty, and intelligence, that you and I manifest, constitute our substance. One often uses the expression, There is not much substance to what he says, or, He is a substantial sort of person, meaning not that he has a great deal of matter, but that his thinking is intelligent, honest, just, and loving. Let us see why these qualities are substantial. Honesty cannot be burned, drowned, nor destroyed by an accident, and this is true of every other quality or attribute of God, such as harmony, health, and love. These qualities do not originate in the brain, for a substance which is subject to discord, decay, and disintegration is incapable of producing its opposite, namely, substantial, immutable, harmonious ideas. Their origin is in the divine Mind. This Mind, being one, can know nothing unlike itself nor outside of itself, for it is infinite, and there is none else, as the Bible says. Mind's thoughts or ideas about itself constitute man, the only man of whom God is mindful. If the true man of God's creating were the man of dust, described in the second chapter of Genesis, or the man evolved by atomic force, think of what extremely ungodlike and unspiritual things God would be mindful. And it would follow that the more we knew of God the more we would have to know of such material theories. These theories pertain only to mortality, and as mortality is laid off these views will be laid off with it, for, as Paul says, "this mortal must put on immortality." The material theory of evolution is probably as logical as anything can be about the descent of mortal man, but its study cannot prove so uplifting, spiritualizing, health-giving, or purifying as the study of the perfect man, for this study requires that thought ascend to the real man's origin, to the most high God. Material evolution but shows that a mortal's concept of man is the exact opposite of God's idea, man. Only one of these concepts can actually be man. No one would be willing to aver that God's image and likeness was ever a material atom, dust, or an electron which had to evolve in order to become God's image, for God spake and it was done. In "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" Mrs. Eddy makes this clear contrast between the man of material evolution and the man of God's creating revealed by Christian Science. She says (p. 189): "The human mortal mind, by an inevitable perversion, makes all things start from the lowest instead of from the highest mortal thought. The reverse is the case with all the formations of the immortal divine Mind. They proceed from the divine source; and so, in tracing them, we constantly ascend in infinite being."

Even the most learned men do not claim to understand perfectly the origin, nature, and substance of a mortal. This mystery with regard to mortal life has led some to consider it a marvelous creation, and natural scientists, physicians, and others have continued to grope from one theory to another in the hope of finding the proper solution to the enigma of mortal existence, an existence which can no more be explained than can the statement that two times two are five. Just as this statement is a false concept of a mathematical truth, so mortal existence is a false concept of Life. Neither can be explained, for they are mistakes, and are therefore unscientific. Mystery can afford no satisfaction to the reasoning person, for it indicates either ignorance or superstition. One of the purposes of education is to dispel mystery. Geography, for example, dispels the mystery with regard to the shape of the earth, its rotations and revolutions, which seem to the physical senses the opposite of that which they really are. In accepting these correct explanations we have to deny the physical sense testimony which claims that we see a flat earth, and the sun going around it. Surely, if we are willing to deny this evidence with regard to the earth, we cannot hesitate to deny the physical sense testimony with regard to man, and to see him with our intelligence instead of with our material eyes, particularly as this scientific seeing restores to us our health, happiness, and purity. Christian Science dispels all mystery with regard to God and man, and it shows that we must understand, know, and love the man of whom God is mindful.

If we are not to know God and man, in other words, if we are not to have a science revealing the truth about them, then Jesus' work was in vain, for he said, "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." And then he defines life in these words,—"this is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent." Jesus came, then, not to mystify us, but that we might have a more abundant knowledge of God and true man, whom he represented, and that we might know God and man as he knew them. This true knowledge he declared to be life eternal.

Mary Baker Eddy

In order to judge others correctly we must have some comprehension of their motives. Mrs. Eddy gives as her life-motive the following (Retrospection and Introspection, p. 30): "The motive of my earliest labors has never changed. It was to relieve the sufferings of humanity by a sanitary system that should include all moral and religious reform." Could there be a more comprehensive or unselfish motive? It was never Mrs. Eddy's desire to thrust her personality forward or in any way to court personal adulation. In order, however, to understand Christian Science it is essential to have a proper appreciation of Mrs. Eddy's place as its Discoverer, Founder, and Leader. Just as we could never grasp the meaning and portent of the Lutheran religion without some understanding of the motives, aims, and place of Martin Luther, so we cannot apprehend the purpose and scope of the Christian Science movement without discerning the place and work of its Leader. Her own words about Paul might well be applied to this situation (Science and Health, p. 560): "To misunderstand Paul, was to be ignorant of the divine idea he taught."

It is quite natural that the way to relieve the sufferings of humanity should have come through a woman's discovery. Dr. Frank Crane, whose articles were formerly published throughout the United States, once wrote, "A doctor often occupies the place of a mother, and all that is the matter with many sick people is that they need mothering." Mrs. Eddy not only perceived humanity's need for mother-love, but she recognized God as the giver of every good and perfect gift and therefore as the source of all true mother-love. And why is it that we need this particular quality of love at this time? Because we are engaged in a warfare against the false, limited, unhappy, sick, sinful, material concept of man; and the mother-love qualities, such as intuition, understanding, tenderness, courage, purity, constancy, protection, and unselfishness are requisite to win this battle.

Effectual Prayer

Solomon's counsel to alknowledge God in all our ways is disregarded when we do not acknowledge Him as the only physician who healeth all our diseases. The Lord's Prayer expresses comprehensively the fact that God is available for every human need. To the Christian Scientist the Lord's Prayer is not a petition to God to be our Father but an acknowledgment of the fact that He is our Father and our Mother, that His kingdom is come, that His good and loving will is done, that He supplies, forgives, and delivers from sin, disease, and death. All of you here know the Lord's Prayer, so test sometime, if you will, its healing and saving power by affirming its statements instead of pleading with God to make them come to pass.

The Lord's Prayer in its opening words "Our Father" reveals man's spiritual origin and nature. Jesus proved the truth contained in these two words "our Father," for he exemplified the pure, spiritual, immutable nature of man as the son, reflection, or idea of our Father, God. Jesus also made clear to us the compassion of our divine Mother, Love—not by sympathy with, but by the destruction of all that would make man sick, sinful, or sorrowful. He bade the widow "Weep not" before he raised her son. After he had healed her grief he restored the young man to his mother.

So today the Science of Christ, of the perfect man, bids us weep not over the temporal and painful nature of a mortal. With true compassion it restores us to that divine Mother-Love which holds its child forever as an idea of Life, as the indestructible, spiritual man, of whom God is ever mindful.

"O Love, our Mother, ever near,
To Thee we turn from doubt and fear!
In perfect peace our thoughts abide;
Our hearts now in this truth confide:

Limp, Once English Fad

Many women in England walked with the "Alexandra Limp" for several years after 1863 when Princess Alexandra of Denmark, who was lame, was married to the prince of of Wales, later King Edward VII. Eventually the nationwide fad was laughed out of existence, writes Allen E. Sloane, New York city, in Collier's Weekly.

What's the Big Hurry?

Travelers Ins. Co. Safety Service.

Between 1925 and 1934, inclusive, the rate of death from automobile accidents increased 17 per cent in urban territory of the United States. But while this change was taking place, the rate of death increased almost 100 per cent in rural territory. (Urban territory includes all towns and cities more than 10,000 population, and rural territory the remainder.)

Last year there were nearly 160,000 automobile accidents which happened on rural highways which resulted in close to 14,000 deaths. Many of these deaths happened because drivers took chances and drove too fast for conditions, as illustrated above. That speed is a more serious factor in deaths on highways than on city streets is indicated by the fact that at city street intersections last year deaths from almost 300,000 accidents numbered only 6,000, less than half the fatalities from accidents on highways. This information shrieks a warning about the danger of driving too fast, no matter how good a driver a person regards himself.

Merle Guild Post Auxiliary News

The regular April meeting of Merle Guild Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening, April 7. Twenty-one members were preesnt. Mrs. Detweiler, Ninth District Director was guest of honor, Mrs. Detweiler congratulated our unit on being 100% in membership and told of the excellent service work done by the various units. Our Fidac chairman, Mrs. Schaefer, announced the next Fidac meeting to be held Thursday, April 23, at her home; both Americanism and Fidac will be studied.

Proceeds of the Fashion and Amateur show were turned in and were the cause of much satisfaction. Credit for the success of the show should be given to the committee in charge; to Carlsons and the Arlington Bootery for their donations and to Klehm's for the beautiful flowers they donated; to Mr. Platt for free tickets and to Mr. Paddock of the Cook County Herald for his generous first page publicity for all our articles on the show and also to the many willing workers who modeled, performed in the amateur contest and those who took part in the play. Miss Wilke also deserves honorable mention for choosing her loveliest apparel for the models and the time she put in to training and dressing them. The various beauty shops contributed their services, and well, it seems as if the auxiliary is well liked in this town for the merchants and everyone else cooperated willingly every time they were called upon.

The amateur contest was won by Dawn Lama; a tiny six year old pianist and tap dancer and she well deserved the honor, for as time will prove, she is a child prodigy. Second prize was won by Miss Rae Myers, a tap dancer extraordinary and third prize by Melvin Preston, 12 years old, another child prodigy of the accordian.

Had a popularity contest been voted upon little Jimmy Pecchia would most certainly have won first prize for he stole the show. The applauding started when he made his appearance on the runway and he seemed to enjoy it so much it became deafening on his second appearance.

Well folks, we kept our promise and gave you the best show to be seen anywhere for twenty-five cents. Don't forget that when next approached about an Auxiliary program.

A date for our rummage sale has definitely been decided upon—Saturday, May 2 is the day and we hope that by that time sufficient articles will be brought to Mrs. Nichols to open shop. If you are unable to bring articles there please call 126-R and we will call for same. There hasn't been much response to the appeal so far, so please rummage around home and surely there will be one or two articles around the house no longer needed which might fill the need of some one else.

Red Cross Aids 100,000 Families In Flood-Stricken Eastern Area

THE appalling floods that swept over eastern states during the middle of March caused the American Red Cross to take under its care more than 100,000 families in thirteen States. Pennsylvania was hardest hit, and in the cities of Pittsburgh and Johnstown the Red Cross either fed, sheltered or clothed 117,000 persons. The suffering was intense, because added to deluges of flood water, came rain, snow and intense cold.

Many cities and towns were cut off for 48 hours or more from communication with the outside world, both in Pennsylvania and in Connecticut. The Red Cross used airplanes to rush medical supplies into afflicted towns, and to drop food supplies from the skies over other places. Trucks with water, medicine, food, clothing were rushed into many towns. Amateur radio operators told the outside world over short wave sets what the true conditions were.

Within a few days the Red Cross had more than 200 relief workers and 200 Red Cross nurses in all of the communities in the fifteen States which had suffered from flood waters.

Admiral Cary T. Grayson, Chairman, notified President Roosevelt, who is President of the Red Cross, that a relief fund of at least $3,000,000 would be needed. President Roosevelt addressed a proclamation to the nation asking for liberal contributions. When double the number of families came under care of the Red Cross than had been anticipated, Admiral Grayson urged that this three million dollar fund be exceeded by Chapters. Many responded by doubling and trebling their goals.

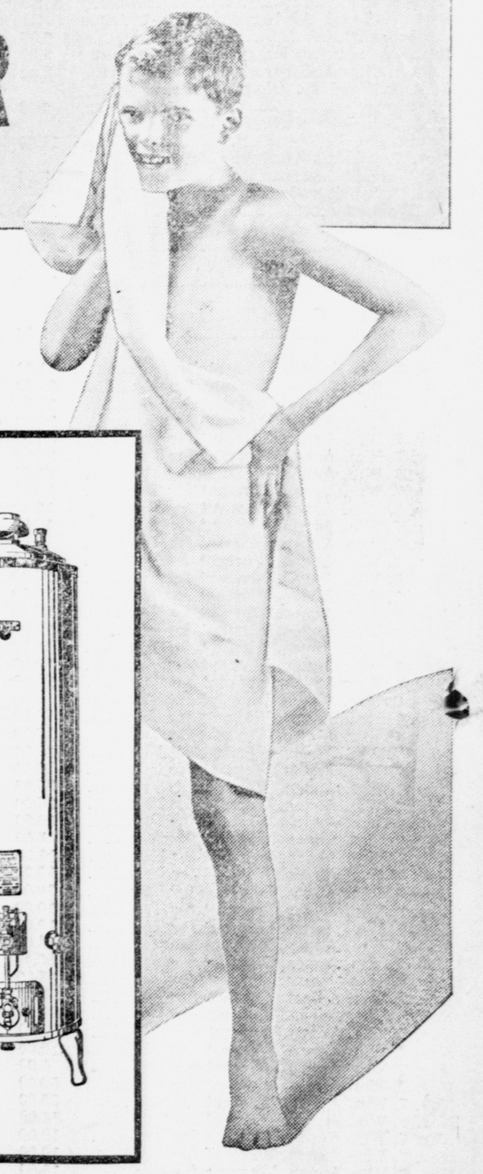

Citizens were urged to contribute to their local Red Cross Chapters. After the flood emergency passed, the Red Cross prepared to restore needy families to their homes and anticipated that their workers would not conclude the relief job for several months.
